ANOTHER SEASON OPENS ON THE BAY

From every marina, anchorage and yacht club on San Francisco Bay, from Vallejo to Redwood City, the Bay Area's huge fleet of pleasure craft assembles at the start of Opening Day. (For story, other photos, see Sports Section.) By the hundreds, under sail or power the colorful yachts passed in review yesterday along San Francisco's northern waterfront. The parade then broke up with some yacht clubs gathering en masse at a prearranged spot for lunch, other vessels singly or in groups seeking out favorite anchorages. Strong winds and sunny skies prevailed for the now traditional event.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Planned

Richardson To Appoint An Outsider For Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special prosecutor will be named to supervise investigation aimed at "uncovering the whole truth" in the Watergate scandal, Attorney-General designate Elliot L. Richardson announced today.

Richardson, himself designated just a week ago by President Nixon to take command of the government's inquiry into the widening scope of the plotand subsequent efforts to cover up its scope, said the person selected would be given "all the independence" necessary to conduct a full and impartial investigation.

Richardson read a statement of his plans during an appearance at the Pentagon before newsmen, and declined to answer any questions about who the prosecutor would be.

He explained that the reason was his forthcoming confirmation hearings, starting Wednesday, by the Senate Judiciary Committee which he said was the only "appropriate forum" for such questions at this time.

Several possibilities for the job have been mentioned, including William T. Coleman, a Philadelphia lawyer who was a classmate of Richardson's at Harvard and who later served with Richardson as a Supreme Court clerk to the late Justice Felix Frankfurter.

Coleman was asked this morning in Philadelphia if he had been asked to take the job. He refused to comment on all questions related to the matter.

Richardson said at the outset of his Pentagon appearance that he wanted the Judiciary Committee to know, before it started hearings on his nomination for attorney general two days hence, that he intended to name a prosecutor as President Nixon gave him optional authority to do last Monday.

Richardson said he was searching for a man to meet the exacting standards the special prosecutor would have to have and would name him as rapidly as possible. Many senators want to have the right to confirm the man.

Richardson said "it may take some time to find the right person" and said he would welcome Senate scrutiny of his choice. Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., said hearings should be held on the prosecutor's qualifications before Richardson's nomination is considered.

"I have taken into account the fact that, because I have held office in the administration from its beginning, my objectivity may be questioned," Richardson said in his statement.

"I am also convinced that the attorney general must retain final responsibility for all matters coming within the jurisdiction of the department."

Richardson said the President "charged me with the responsibility for uncovering the whole truth about the Watergate case and related matters... no matter who is involved," and that was exactly what he intended to do.

He said the person he picks as prosecutor will be given "all the independence, authority and staff support needed to carry out the task intrusted to him."

"Although he will be in the Department of Justice and report to me —and only to me — he will be aware that his ultimate responsibility is to the American people."

He said the special prosecutor must have "outstanding competence as a lawyer preferably including trial experience." This would rule out former Sen. John J. Williams.

DISTURBED DAMSEL DISAPPEARS

Distaff Diner Defeats Drinker In Donnybrook

It wasn't exactly your classic gourmet dining at the Refectory Steak House in Bon Air Center, Greenbrae, at 1:35 a.m. Saturday.

A lady diner spat on a nearby gentleman diner, who responded by pouring a glass of icewater down her front. She retaliated by hurling a glass candle jar at him, coating him with hot wax.

As the waxed diner attempted to leave, the lady grabbed him, whereupon he shoved her to the ground. Other diners took hold of the man — and the lady promptly bit him on the arm.

The manager threw the lady diner out of the restaurant, but when the waxed and bitten man emerged into the parking lot with his girlfriend, he encountered the lady diner once more... this time in her car.

He refused to speak to her, so she tried to run him over.

The waxed and bitten man dodged, and the lady diner took off in her 1963 Buick Riviera onto Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, heading for Highway 101, and hasn't been seen since.

The gentleman diner went to Marin General Hospital for a tetanus shot.

Larkspur police recounted the disastrous dining tale this morning. The gentleman diner was Leonard John Golding of 262 Larkspur Plaza, who told police he was sitting having a quiet drink at 1:35 a.m. with his friend, Monica Etter.

Golding said a woman sitting at the next table was "giving the waitress a hard time" and swearing at her. When he murmured "nice girl" to his dinner companion, the battle commenced.

Golding described the aggressive lady diner as white, about 24 years old, 135 pounds, with dark brown shoulder length hair, a blue dress and brown boots.

Mystified Larkspur police, who are still seeking the lady diner, said she may not even be a lady... Golding said she had "masculine actions."

Nixon Denies Watergate Awareness

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — The White House denied today that President Nixon was aware before last March of the extent of the Watergate scandal or of efforts to cover it up.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren made the statement in response to published reports that former presidential Counsel John W. Dean was prepared to testify that the President knew of high level efforts to cover up the bugging of the Democratic National Headquarters.

"Any suggestion that the President was aware of the Watergate operation is untrue," Warren said. "Any suggestion that the President participated in any coverup activity or activities is untrue. Any suggestion that the President ever authorized the offering of clemency to anyone in this case is also false."

Warren said the statement was specifically authorized by

Bolinas Group Will Sue Over Water Hookup Ban

By ANNE WEST

Legal action to force lifting a moratorium on new local water connections was approved yesterday by members of the Bolinas Property Owners Association, as one of the group's directors resigned in protest. (Another association story, page 19.)

The 40-to-25 vote approved a motion by Philip L. Fritchey, Bolinas realtor, that the association's board "seek an injunction and pursue all legal avenues to get the moratorium lifted."

Secretary Gertrude E. Allen warned before the vote that she would resign if the motion carried and did afterward.

Director Mark Ireland, also a director of Bolinas Community Public Utility District, which imposed the ban in November 1971, said he opposes the action but will "continue to vote my convictions" on the association board.

The moratorium resolution, which has nearly halted construction in Bolinas, declared the area "threatened with chaotic human influx." It termed the existing water supply "inadequate to meet health and safety standards" and stated further extension of the water delivery system would tax district resources "beyond the reasonable limits of its facilities."

"A utility district is not empowered to control population," declared Fritchey. "Any individual who owns property in the district is entitled to the use of it." A utility district's obligation is to provide the services needed."

He was echoed by others who also charged the district with taking too long to solve the water problem and complained of "taxation without representation."

As nonresident property owners, they could not vote on district directors they said, but they were also prevented from becoming residents and voters by the district's moratorium.

Both Ireland and Orville Schell, vice president of the utility district's board, said the moratorium was based on a "potentially serious situation."

Schell said a report on long-range water supply is expected next week, but warned that solutions to be put to the voters "will be expensive."

"The problem is planning and funding." "If neither was a problem, we would still have the problem of time for construction. The existing pipes are old, rusty and unmapped."

Schell declared that he remains firmly in support of the moratorium, but welcomes a law suit because he believes it will clarify the situation. He said, "It will cost you a lot of money. It will cost the district a lot of money, but at the end people will know a lot more about utilities."

As some in the audience questioned whether the membership would be willing to pay assessments for legal costs, Fritchey arose to pledge $100. He predicted there would be no difficulty in raising necessary funds.

Water Bans Will Result In $2 Million Tax Loss

Water moratoriums in Marin could cost local taxing agencies more than $2 million in lost revenue in the 1974-75 fiscal year, County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel has estimated.

Broemmel said "rough estimates" by his office indicate the countywide assessed valuation level will be about $18 million less than anticipated because of reduced development as a result of the water connection bans imposed by the Marin Municipal and North Marin County water districts.

The bans, in effect, mean a moratorium on new construction since county public works officials said today they will no longer issue building permits until the water districts authorize water connections.

"The building code requires that each building used for human occupancy have available an adequate potable water supply; also many buildings require a water supply for fire suppression purposes," Herbert F. Wimmer, chief building inspector, wrote.

County supervisors are scheduled to discuss the moratoriums tomorrow and may ask for meetings with the water district boards.

Broemmel's report, to be considered tomorrow by supervisors, says the $18 million drop in potential assessed valuation is about 2.3 per cent of the county's total tax base. This year's total evaluation is $765 million.

He said, however, the loss may be "eased somewhat" because of increases in the price of homes brought about by a shorter supply.

Free Insurance For Safety Forces Eyed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's 80,000 peace officers and firemen would receive government-paid life insurance under a bill proposed by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco.

The insurance policies, which would be free to the employe, would provide benefits ranging from $10,000 to $30,000 for spouses and children of officers killed in the line of duty.

"I believe governmentally paid life insurance is precious little that the people of this state can offer persons who have chosen careers that put them 'on the line' every day," Moscone said Sunday.

Guerrillas Still Hold Diplomat

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI) — The guerrilla kidnapers of U.S. Consul General Terrence G. Leonhardy went back today on their promise to release him once 30 political prisoners were flown to Cuba and were reported to be making new demands, possibly involving a cash ransom.

There has been no word since Sunday when Leonhardy sent word in a letter that he was in "good health" and being treated well. But as time passed with no release there were fears for his safety and goverment sources said still another factor might be involved—the kidnapers might be "too afraid" to release him immediately.

They pointed to a local news story in which police Chief Jesus Ahumada Mercado was quoted as saying the kidnapers may already have been identified and that local authorities were ready to move against them as soon as the American diplomat is freed.

There has been total official silence, however, on the case since Jalisco State Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero indicated Sunday night that new demands were being put forth by the guerrillas. The governor later retracted the statement, saying he only knew of "rumors" of new demands.

But there was heightened speculation that a big cash ransom payment may now be a factor.

The only official statement on the case came from a consular spokesman who described the situation as "very delicate."

The demands—they were not

Parent Protest At Principal's Transfer Gains Little Ground

By GEORGE NEVIN

A community meeting Saturday to discuss action in the wake of the transfer of a popular principal in Mill Valley resulted in a pledge by parents to increase communication with the school board.

The session, attended by more than 100 persons, focused on two points: the reassignment of Principal David W. Erskine from Marin Terrace School and the process by which the board reached its decision.

Erskine, 47, principal at Marin Terrace since last year after five years as principal of Old Mill School, was relieved of his duties effective April 23 for unspecified reasons. More than three hours of complaints by residents at that night's board meeting failed to sway trustees in their decision.

Although parents left the meeting knowing nothing more about the reasons for the transfer than they did when they arrived, there was a consensus that the board ought to have more community feedback before making future decisions on matters of wide interest.

One man, Richard K. Swain, a member of a committee which called Saturday's meeting, said near the end of the two-and-one-half hour session that an "ombudscommittee" should be set up to ensure more parent participation in board decisions.

Trustee John H. Cutler, however, said he thought the district's Parent-Teacher Association the proper body to serve such a function.

Although Cutler conceded that communication between parents and the board is "the weak link" in the flow of information back and forth, he insisted trustees have "a finger on the pulse of the community" and know with a fair degree of accuracy the thinking on issues.

Even had the Marin Terrace community been completely in favor of retaining Erskine there, said Cutler, the board still might have taken the action because it has to "keep the larger picture of the district in

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

On Mount Everest

KATMANDU (UPI) — A second group of Italian climbers reached the top of Mount Everest today, 48 hours after four men from the same expedition raised the Italian flag atop the world's highest mountain, the Foreign Office announced.

Saturday's climbers became the first to reach the top of the 29,028-foot mountain in 10 years. Their feat came 20 years to the month after New Zealand's Edmund Hillary first climbed Everest in May, 1953.

Until Saturday, the last group to reach Everest's peak was a National Geographic Society expedition led by Norman G. Dyhrenfurth in May of 1963.

More Casualties

BELFAST (UPI) — The army warned troops today to redouble their guard against booby traps following weekend blasts that killed three soldiers, army sources said.

The sources said recent army arrests of top leaders of the Irish Republican Army's extremist Provisional wing has led the "Provos" to change its tactics. It now is concentrating, they said, on sniper fire and booby traps.

Army casualties in eight days up to Saturday totaled eight men killed and another 17 wounded, seven of them seriously.

More Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger postponed a planned sightseeing trip to Leningrad today, U.S. sources said, so that he and Leonid I. Brezhnev can confer more about the Soviet leaders's trip to Washington next month.

Kissinger has been secluded in Brezhnev's hunting lodge, on a wooded country estate on the Volga river 75 miles from Moscow, since shortly after he arrived Friday night.

Work On Levees

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UPI) — The U.S. Corps of Engineers has begun raising the level of some 260 miles of mainline levees along the lower Mississippi River as a precaution against further flooding.

Maj. Gen. Charles C. Noble stressed that the move is purely a precautionary one to assure that levees are up to "project design flood" level — the maximum amount of water the flood control system is supposed to handle.

Big Denver Rain

DENVER (UPI) — Four inches of rain in the metropolitan areas and 20 inches of very wet snow in nearby mountains swelled the South Platte River over its banks yesterday, forcing the evacuation of thousands of persons from low-lying areas.

Strike Ends

ROME (UPI) — A 24-day long national mail strike ended yesterday, but post office officials warned today that normal deliveries will resume only after a cleanup operation they predicted will take two months.

Authorities said hundreds of tons of unsorted letters were piled up all over the country, including millions of Easter greeting cards. Officials in Venice said several days ago that 61.3 tons of mail were packed into their post office alone.

Farm Income Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz reported yesterday that American farmers had a banner year in 1972.

In his annual report, Butz said U.S. agriculture had record net income of more than $19.2 billion last year with farm exports totaling $8 billion. He predicted a $10 billion export total this year — an increase of 25 per cent.

He said gross farm income, net income, income per farm, and income per resident of a farm all reached record highs.

Denial For Finch

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch, who served 12 years of a life prison sentence for murdering his wife in California, was denied a license yesterday to practice medicine in Missouri.

The State Board of Registration for the Healing Arts unanimously voted to deny Finch's request, saying it would be a paradox "to permit an individual who has brutally murdered his wife to re-enter the practice of medicine, a profession which is dedicated to the prolongation of human life."

Post For Dobrynin?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anatoly F. Dobrynin, the Soviet Union's ambassador here for 11 years, may soon be in line for an important post in Moscow, Soviet sources report.

Dobrynin, the sources said, can be considered the logical successor to First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, 67, who is reported near retirement.

Survey Of BART Riders Planned

OAKLAND (UPI) — Passengers on the Bay Area Rapid Transit system will be surveyed Tuesday on where they are going and why.

The riders will be handed a short questionnaire that can be filled in while traveling on the train and put in special containers beside the exit gates.

BART wants to know where the passengers are from and going, how they arrived at the train station and will get to their final destination and the reason for the trip.

A spokesman for the system said the results will help develop long range operating and marketing programs and aid in meeting problems of auto parking and feeder-bus demand.

Ship Damaged In Pier Crash

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — A Greek ship crushed its bow Sunday when it collided with a bridge pier, then damaged an underground telephone cable when it dropped anchor in the Willamette River.

The Milhalios Xilas was moving with the help of two tugboats from drydock to Zidell Explorations when it hit the Burnside bridge. It was en route to pick up a load of scrap.

SMILING CHIEF — Frank Foolscrow, traditional tribal chief of the Oglala Sioux, grinned with delight at discovering the wonders of a set of headphones he tried on while flying over the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in a government helicopter over the weekend. The chief, along with American Indian Movement militants who have been occupying Wounded Knee, S.D. have signed a disarmament agreement to end the siege. (UPI Telephoto)

Indians Move To End Wounded Knee Siege

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (UPI) — Indians already have begun complying with terms of a Sunday agreement to end the 70-day-old armed occupation of Wounded Knee.

Federal sources told UPI that the first provision of the new agreement — the listing of Wounded Knee occupiers and their weapons—has been accomplished.

Although the lists may be incomplete and were delivered several hours after the 5 p.m. MDT deadline, the sources were optimistic that the American Indian Movement (AIM) members meant to honor terms of the agreement and lay down their arms by Wednesday morning.

The listing of arms and personnel of the occupying force was the job of the Community Relations Service (CRS) of the U.S. Justice Department, the agency which has maintained liaison between AIM forces and the government since the start of the armed confrontation Feb. 27.

The Sunday agreement spelled out in details the method by which the Indians would lay down their arms and leave the village. It embodied provisions of the abrogated April 5 agreement between the government and AIM leaders dealing with treaty rights and civil rights complaints.

The Sunday agreement called for the laying down of arms as of 7 a.m. Wednesday morning. The delay in disposession of arms was a concession to AIM leaders, government spokesmen said.

The 65-hour waiting period between announcement of the agreement and the actual laying down of arms brought speculation of government forces on the Wounded Knee perimeter that some of the hard core militants would attempt to sneak out of the village bearing illegal arms used in the takeover.

There was no immediate confirmation of this from official federal sources. However, U.S. marshals said they were ready to employ foot patrols and flares to keep escapes from the village at a minimum.

Richard Hellstern, ranking Justice Department official here, Sunday said the time between the agreement signing and the Wednesday deadline was to be used by AIM members to raise bail money for leaders who will be arrested when they leave the village.

Prisoners Released By Saigon

SAIGON (UPI) — Saigon today resumed its civilian prisoner release program, suspended for 10 days in a dispute over safety measures, but sources reported a truce team helicopter was fired on Sunday over Communist-held territory.

A government military spokesman said 200 Communist civilian war prisoners were taken to the Thac Han riverbank near Quang Tri City for release today.

The program was halted April 28—the deadline for the exchange of all civilian prisoners under the Paris treaty on Vietnam—when the International Commission of Control and Supervison (ICCS) argued with the Viet Cong over safety guarantees for ICCS helicopters.

Another 450 Communist civilians are to be freed at Thac Han in the next two days, the spokesman said, indicating the ICCS and the Viet Cong had reached agreement on the safety issue. There was no word on when the Viet Cong planned to release the rest of the South Vietnamese civilians they hold.

The blesbok, a small South African antelope, is the only purple animal.

Israel Shows Off Its Armed Might

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel turned 25 today, displaying its military might in a parade of air, armored and troop power over and through the Holy City as the high point of its anniversary celebrations.

An honor guard stepped off from in front of the oblong official reviewing stand at 10:05 a.m. and a formation of Vtailed Fouga Magister training jets swooped overhead, streams of vapor trailing into the clear blue sky.

Sources said the parade cost about $5 million.

Military police in Jeeps passed the reviewing stand 87 minutes later, following behind the 2,000 troops, warplanes and 450 vehicles watched by a white-suited Prime Minister Golda Meir from under a white veil to shield her eyes from the sun.

The flypast of screaming jets and droning propeller planes and clattering helicopters, the clanking of armor and the tramping of infantry boots marked Israel's first independence day military parade in five years—a flexing of muscle to show the nation's weight in the Middle East balance of power.

Heavy security precautions, which police spokesman Michael Buchner described as the largest of their kind so far, were in effect throughout the city with civilian police, white helmeted military police and soldiers patrolling to guard against possible Arab guerrilla attacks.

"Everything went according to schedule," a police spokesman said. "There have been no accidents, no incidents and nothing has gone wrong in any part of the city."

In the nationally televised parade, Israel showed off its recently unveiled home-built I33 tank-mounted 155mm cannon and modified U.S.-built 203mm self-propelled howitzers.

It rolled out American-made 20mm antiaircraft guns, two each attached to armored halftracks, and captured Soviet-built T54 and T55 tanks modified with 105mm British-made cannon for greater firepower.

In the air, French-built Fougas trailing white and blue smoke stole the show with a ballet of loops, straight climbs and power dives that ended in sonic bursts away from the grandstands like exploding roman candles.

Ten Supply Ships Reach Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A supply convoy of 10 ships made it safely to Phnom Penh today despite intense Communist fire along the riverbanks, but one ship went up in flames when it was hit and ran aground. A big road convoy also made it into Phnom Penh from the south coast.

Cambodian navy river patrol boats today picked up 22 crewmen from a fuel tanker which a witness said "went up like flame from a lighter" when enemy gunners fired on an 11-ship convoy bringing supplies to the capital.

The captain of the ship, the Vira I, was reported missing. The vessel was grounded and afire at last report near Dey Doz, 25 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

Ten vessels reached Phnom Penh port safely and were to make a return trip to South Vietnam Tuesday morning.

Crewmen said the navy boats escorting the convoy late Sunday night were not effective against Cambodian rebel units because the gunners with B40 rockets, propelled grenades and machineguns were firing from foxholes on the jungled riverbank.

We think you'll want to know that because we love our customers and top quality nutrition too, we've added something new at San Rafael Health Foods. It's a huge, walk-in moisturizing refrigerator, which will keep the organically grown produce we order fresh and nourishing. Heretofore, we've been unable to maintain humidity, because regular refers aren't equipped that way. So, we've had some pretty sad looking, wilted items.

Now, we can provide crisper, fresher fruits and vegetables and we can store larger quantities of whatever is available in the new walk-in. It was specially built out in back of the store — Howard's brain child — and it's been completed just in time for the oncoming peak produce season. If you'd like an inspection tour, just say so. The Lagunitas School District board, meeting today at 7:30 p.m. at San Geronimo Valley School, will review a proposed budget for fiscal 1973-74 totaling $572,000.

The proposed budget is up $15,000 from this year's spending program which carries a tax rate of $4.205 per $100 assessed valuation.

The board also is expected to consider a salary proposal from nonteaching employees.

Jews Stage Sit-In In Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UPI) — Thirty-five Moscow Jews staged a sit-in at the Central Committee of the Communist party today to protest the imprisonment of Jews in the Soviet Union, a Jewish dissident source said.

The source said the Jews went to the Central Committee offices to present a letter, in which they noted that they had written to the committee a month ago but received no answer.

Richardson To Name Watergate Outsider

R-Del., favored by several members of Congress to investigate the case.

Spelling out the qualifications the prosecutor must have, Richardson said: "The person selected to fulfill this role will have to meet stringent standards of qualification. He must not only be an individual of the highest character and integrity but be widely so recognized."

"He must not have been associated with any of the persons alleged or suspected to have had a part in the matters under investigation. He must be judicious in temperament and independent in spirit. He must have a proven record of outstanding competence as a lawyer, preferably with trial experience."

Richardson said he would ask the Judiciary Committee to hold public hearing on the appointee and "would welcome" an expression by the Senate on its confidence in his prosecutor.

Richardson has been under heavy pressure from both Republicans and Democrats in Congress to designate a special prosecutor on grounds that no one within the administration should be heading an investigation directly affecting the administration.

The issue had been scheduled as pending business in the Senate today prior to disclosure that Richardson was going to name an outsider to head the probe. Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd said Nixon should have gone ahead and named a prosecutor a week ago when he removed three top White House aides and Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst resigned as a result of Watergate developments.

While many Republicans joined Democrats on Capitol Hill in urging selection of a special prosecutor, there were complaints from some GOP senators about passage of a resolution on the subject last Tuesday when only five senators were on the floor.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., sponsored a new resolution with substantially the same terms —including a provision suggesting that the prosecutor be subjected to Senate confirmation.

While federal investigations, including a grand jury probe, continue, a special Senate committee set up to look into the whole issue of political espionage stepped up its plans for starting public hearings next week.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate committee, was asked Sunday during a visit to Yale University for a speech if he felt there were any serious chance of Congress starting impeachment proceedings against Nixon if it appeared he might have had some implication in Watergate.

He said he doubted it.

Ervin said the impeachment process was so complex that it would be difficult to remove the President even if evidence were uncovered linking him to the plot to bug Democratic national headquarters or efforts to cover it up.

In other developments:

—Attorneys for Daniel Ellsberg, defendant in the Pentagon Papers trial in Los Angeles today were to ask the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals to dismiss the case because presidential aide John Ehrlichman —since resigned —offered Judge Matt Byrne, the presiding judge in the case, the job of head of the FBI.

—The New York Times said today that Gen. Robert E. Cushman Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, who in 1971 was deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), authorized use of CIA material and research in the burglary of the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist. The Times said Gen. Cushman was questioned last week by the FBI and "reportedly" accepted full responsibility for permitting CIA assistance in preparations for the break-in, previously linked to Watergate conspirators E. Howard Hunt Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy, who both worked for the White House.

A Marine Corps spokesman declined comment on the Times story. He said Gen. Cushman is in the Netherlands as the guest of that country's Marine commandant and is expected back in the United States in "a few days."

—A White House spokesman declined comment on a story by Newsweek magazine that fired White House counsel John W. Dean III was prepared to give testimony linking President Nixon with attempts to cover up the Watergate scandal. Newsweek said Dean has told federal investigators that Nixon and White House aide H.R. Haldeman were pleased by Dean's efforts to "keep the lid on," and that Dean quoted the President saying, "Good job, John. Bob (Haldeman) told me what a great job you've been doing."

Sen. Brooke said he felt the earlier special prosecutor resolution, introduced by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., had been handled too hastily by the Senate. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kans., said the Senate would vote "overwhelmingly" for a special prosecutor in a roll call.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said Sunday he was sure someone in Congress would move to impeach the President if it is proven he had personal knowledge or involvement in the Watergate affair. He doubted the President had any prior knowledge. Dole was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Sen. George Mcgovern, D-S.D., speaking Sunday at the State University College in New Palitz, N.Y., said "We ought to take very serious action if it turns out the President is implicated in this." But he said it was too early to consider impeachment proceedings.

However, Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., said Saturday she would join Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., and other members of Congress in sponsoring a resolution this week for a House inquiry to determine whether there are grounds for impeaching the President.

KIDNAP

disclosed—came hours after Mexico agreed to free the 30 prisoners and flew them to Cuba.

Earlier, officials said the guerrillas sent three more notes, to a Peruvian envoy, a Mexican official and the U.S. Consulate. The one sent to the Mexican official apparently contained new demands.

After first saying flatly that the note contained "new demands," Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero withdrew the comment, saying he was "misunderstood" earlier. But sources said the guerrillas now demanded a cash ransom.

The report on the 58-year-old Leonhardy was contained in a brief letter he addressed to Orozco.

"I'm well and they're treating me well," said the letter, written in Spanish.

U.S. officials said Leonhardy's note said:

"I'm grateful for your help in making all the arrangements for my release, with the president (of Mexico). My captors have promised to free me and say they will go through with their promise at an opportune moment, so that all searching is stopped.

"If it's not (the following word was illegible) they will delay my release."

Other communiques were sent to U.S. vice consul Ernest Gutierrez and Mario Collignon de la Pena, the honorary consul of Peru.

U.S. officials maintained absolute secrecy on the text of the communication to Gutierrez, leading to speculation the kidnapers—identified only as members of the "Revolutionary Armed Forces of the People"—might want a cash ransom.

In the note to Collignon, a government spokesman said, the kidnapers asked him to warn police not to launch an immediate investigation, because this would delay or jeopardize Leonhardy's release.

The letters were found in a downtown mailbox after the authorities received anonymous telephone calls about their whereabouts.

Wrought Iron Gate Is Stolen

It took at least two well-prepared thieves to steal two heavy wrought iron gates from the home of Charles W. Brown in Inverness, the Marin County Sheriff's Department reported Saturday.

Officers said the thieves apparently came prepared to remove four 13-inch bolts holding the double gates onto gateposts at Brown's home on Dover Road April 28.

The black gates were five feet high, one foot wide and each weighs more than a hundred pounds, Brown reported to officers.

Old Adobe Board To Look At Survey

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, will meet in special session at 7 p.m. tomorrow at La Tercera School to review a survey of teachers.

The board will hear results of the survey of teachers' opinions on curriculum and will also hear a report on needs to improve psychological services.

Long List On Town's Agenda

The Corte Madera Town Council faces the longest agenda in the town's history when it meets at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the town hall.

Subjects before the council range from the controversial $20 sewer service charge proposed by the town's sanitary commission to the results of a town survey conducted by the Corte Madera Town Meeting Association.

Councilmen also will conduct public hearings on the Fifer special assessment district storm drainage system, and an appeal of a planning commission decision rescinding approval for Hidden Valley Unit No. 5.

The sewer service charge subject won't come up until the end of the council's meeting. Then it will adjourn and resit as the Corte Madera Sanitary District Board.

Town public works director Arthur N. Morrison will recommend the council to impose a sewer service charge of $20 to single family homes, with charges for apartments and trailer spaces levied at $20 for the first unit and $17 each additional.

Industrial and commercial businesses in the town would have a fixed charge, altogether bringing in an estimated yearly income of $107,041, said Morrison. The district's present operating budget is $110,000, but the tax rate of 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation is bringing in only $61,000.

NIXON

the President.

Warren's statement broke a weekend-long series of "no comments" from the White House on a report by Newsweek magazine that Dean was prepared to testify that the President once congratulated him for the effectiveness of the coverup and later offered executive clemency to Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt Jr. if he would remain silent.

Nixon conferred today with his new White House Chief, Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., about restructuring the scandal-shattered presidential staff. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler also attended the meeting.

Nixon and Haig met in the President's white and turquoise single-story Florida White House as the President was winding up four days of nearly complete seclusion in Florida and the Bahamas.

Haig, Nixon's favorite military-political trouble-shooter, arrived in Key Biscayne Sunday night in preparation for his sessions with the President. Nixon picked Haig Friday to replace H.R. Haldeman as chief of the presidential staff. Haldeman resigned after a federal grand jury began investigating charges that he participated in the coverup of the Watergate bugging.

In the week since Nixon declared the Watergate scandal had "claimed far too much of my time and attention," there has been little evidence he has thought about or attended to much else.

White House officials turned aside all questions about the Watergate bugging and subsequent efforts to cover it up. But they, like their boss, appeared to be preoccupied by the scandal and its implications.

Taco Bell Plans Considered

The Novato Planning Commission tonight will consider precise plans for a Taco Bell restaurant in Novato Square, east of Highway 101 between De Long and Grant Avenues.

A permit for the restaurant was granted to Ben J. Ostlind after a battle with the Novato City Council which ended when Ostlind filed a $300,000 claim against the city.

The commission also will consider an application by Ronald Antonioli for industrial zoning for eight acres on the east side of Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, north of Los Robles Mobile Home Park.

Hearing Scheduled In Auto Theft

Albert Le Roy Harris, 44, of San Francisco, is to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow for preliminary hearing on a charge of auto theft.

Harris pleaded innocent Friday, following his arrest by Novato police in San Francisco Wednesday on a warrant. He is accused of taking an auto from Novato Datsun, Inc., last February, and abandoning it in a San Francisco street about two weeks later.

SCHOOLS

mind."

As a case in point he cited the transfer of a principal two years ago from Homestead School, a decision almost universally disliked by Homestead Valley parents.

"Even so, it was the right thing to do because it fitted into the larger picture of things," he said.

Cutler turned back requests for more information on the specific reasons for Erskine's transfer to duties involving revising district policies. He said, as have trustees at other meetings, that the reasons can be discussed only in closed session.

Continued efforts by some present to discuss the reasons brought a rejoinder from Lewis B. Griselle: "You're flailing a dead horse. I was invited to this meeting to discuss reconciliation, not to question a matter over which the board has legal jurisdiction."

As happened at two previous board meetings, objections were raised not only to the transfer itself, but also the timing — it came during spring vacation and only days after the April 17 board election — and the lack of advance notice.

When, toward the end of the meeting, Cutler was asked if Erskine possibly might be brought back to Marin Terrace to finish out the school year, he said:

"Erskine could apply for that, but knowing my colleagues as I do, I think it's extremely unlikely for that to take place."

After the meeting, Swain told the Independent-Journal his group of parents, the Committee for the Preservation of Alternatives, would try to formulate a plan to present to the board Monday. That plan would being about more community participation in board decisions on personnel assignments.

Petris Asks Added Clamp On Building

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sen. Nicholas C. Petris has proposed legislation designed to impose stiffer environmental requirements on new construction projects in the San Francisco Bay area.

The Oakland Democrat said the bill would "make it clear that conservation and not development" was the prime obligation of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission (BCDC), which he asserted has been too lenient in granting construction permits.

Petris said the bill was needed to avoid the "regulated destruction of San Francisco Bay."

During the past eight years, he said, 480 acres of the bay were filled because of a "weakness in the law" allowing 110 valid permiy out of 155 applications to fill.

Petris, author of the legislation creating the commission, said the agency must act with more emphasis on conservation because any filling of the bay at all leads toward that day when the bay will no longer exist."

Library Will Join Protest To Cutbacks

Marin County library employees will take part tomorrow in a nationwide protest of federal cutbacks in aid to libraries.

According to county librarian Bruce Bajema, the Civic Center library will dim its lights at noon. Employees also have been asked to wear black.

The protest was prompted by President Nixon's move to cut back federal aid to libraries in view of new federal revenue-sharing funds.

Council To Meet In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Mayor Jean S. Barnard has called a special meeting of the Mill Valley City Council for 7:30 p.m. today for unspecified purpose.

Mayor Barnard's announcement indicated the meeting would be held behind closed doors and said only that the closed session is permitted by the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Other councilmen reached by the Independent-Journal said they knew nothing of the meeting and the city manager's office said the ambiguous wording of the announcement had been recommended by the city attorney, Leland H. Jordan.

$270,000 Suit In OEO Firings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two attorneys filed suit today against the federal government, asking $270,000 because they were allegedly wrongfully fired from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

H. Tim Hoffman, 32, Berkeley, and Thomas J. Mack, 34, Sausalito, filed suit in U.S. District Court on behalf of themselves and all 10,000 permanent Civil Service employees who are classified on "Schedule A."

The suit alleged that "Schedule A" employees are presently excluded from job protection procedures afforded other Civil Service employees. These employees, the suit said, have permanent jobs in nonsensitive positions, for which Civil Service entrance examinations are not required.

They allege they were fired last February on 90 minutes notice and that no reason was given for their discharge.

The attorneys each asked $100,000 for damage to their reputations and $10,000 in lost pay. In addition, the suit asked that Thomas H. Mercer, OEO regional director, be ordered to pay $50,000 exemplary damages.

Decorator Seeking Separation

Patricia Jampolsky of Belvedere, head of a Tiburon decorating business and wife of Dr. Gerald Jambolsky, a Tiburon psychiatrist, has filed for separation in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Jambolsky, in a separation action filed May 1, asked for custody of the couple's two children, Gregg, 17, and Lee, 15, as well as a settlement of property consisting of the family home at 14 Lagoon Road, Jambolsky's medical practice and her decorating business, and other property.

A temporary restraining order sought to prevent Jambolsky from disposing of his assets will be heard in Superior Court at 9 a.m. May 15.

The couple was married on May 23, 1953.

Youth Booked On Driving, Theft Counts

A 15-year-old youth was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday on suspicion of reckless driving, auto theft and burglary, San Rafael police reported today.

Police, responding to reports of a youth driving a car over lawns on Galleon Way, said they spotted the boy driving at high speeds up Las Ovejas Avenue. A short chase ended when the youth smashed into two parked cars on Penny Royal Lane, police said.

Police said the boy told them an acquaintance had stolen the car after taking keys from the home of another friend and had later given the car to him to use.

Identity of the youth, for whom police could report no known address, was withheld on a standing order of Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Girl, 14, Hit By Automobile

A 14-year-old Fairfax girl was hospitalized yesterday after she was struck by an automobile on a crosswalk near Olema Road in Fairfax.

Eileen Di Carlo of 43 Bay Road was reported in good condition today with multiple bruises in Marin General Hospital.

Police said the girl was hit at about 3 p.m. by a car driven by Marianne Horton of Woodacre after she came out on the crosswalk from behind a bus at the intersection of Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Impeach Nixon Proposal Dies

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A resolution calling for the impeachment of President Nixon if he was personally involved in the Watergate scandal was offered at a conservative Republican gathering during the weekend, but was killed in committee.

The resolution called for Nixon's impeachment if he was involved in any criminal misconduct in connection with Watergate or if he had advance knowledge of the burglary at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, said Paul Magnani, state chairman of United Republicans of California.

Subdivision On Agenda

The Novato City Council will have a hearing tomorrow on plans to create a seven-lot subdivision at the end of Alice Street.

Neighbors have opposed plans by builder John Novak to divide 2.62 acres into seven lots, a subdivision they believe will increase flooding in the area.

The council, meeting at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community House, also will hear an appeal of a requirement for an environmental impact report for a 44-unit apartment project at the end of Los Robles Road.

Joseph Wilner, owner of the property, contends an environmental report isn't necessary for the apartment project.

Budget Before City Council

The Petaluma City Council will receive the preliminary city budget for 1973-74 at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

A series of budget study sessions will also be set.

VOLCANO BLOWS ITS TOP

Molten lava spurted from Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii yesterday as a spectacular eruption sent fountains of fire soaring 100 feet in the air, ripped open a giant fissure, touched off forest fires and damaged roads. The unexpected eruption occurred just 10 days after a devastating earthquake shook the state. (UPI Telephoto)

Resignation Seen As A Possibility

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Washington reporters who cover the White House predict that the Watergate scandal could lead to President Nixon's resignation.

John Osborne, who covers Nixon for "New Republic" magazine, said it was possible that "in three to six months it won't be necessary to conduct a Nixon watch," a reference to an Osborne book by that title.

Osborne called Watergate "a sad and tragic affair," and added: "I hate this story. It's obvious now its not going to be over for a long time ... but I hope the presidency and this President can survive."

Henry Trewhitt, who covers the White House for Newsweek magazine, said Sunday Nixon "could be forced to resign" as a result of the scandal. At best, he said, Nixon will be "a caretaker President for the rest of his term."

The two newsmen spoke during a panel on White House coverage at the second annual A.J. Liebling Counter Convention. The three-day convention, held as an answer by the working press to last week's gathering of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, is sponsored by the New York Journalism Review.

Also on the panel were Robert Semple of the New York Times; Sarah McClendon, who runs her own Washington bureau for newspapers in six states, and Andrew Kopkind of radio station WBCN-FM in Boston.

Kopkind challenged the predominant view of the panel that Watergate was a tragic affair because it undermined people's confidence in the presidency. He said investigative reporting is valuable "only if it shakes people's faith and undermines the system ..."

Earlier, a panel of editors and wire service newsmen debated whether wire services reporting was obsolete.

Grant Dillman, UPI Washington bureau chief, argued that "wire services are more important now than ever before." He said the increasing number and complexity of stories had forced them to take on "added responsibility" of telling the reader, not only the news, but also the significance of what is going on —and to do so "quickly and accurately."

Hearing Set In Check Case

A preliminary hearing has been scheduled May 17 for a 21-year-old San Rafael man, who is said to have cashed a stolen check at a bank in San Rafael.

Ordered to appear for the hearing in Marin Municipal Court was William Edward Kizer, who is said by police to have cashed a stolen check last Sept. 25 at the Harbor office of Bank of Marin.

A bank teller identified Kizer as the passer of a $156 check on the account of Cagwin and Dorward, a San Rafael contracting business.

Martha's Belief Nixon Should Resign 'Ridiculous,' Says John

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell says the idea of President Nixon resigning because of the Watergate scandal is "ridiculous." He critiized United Press International for quoting his wife, Martha, as saying the President should quit.

Mrs. Mitchell called UPI White House correspondent Helen Thomas late Saturday night and said:

"Mr. President should resign immediately. I think he let the country down. It's going to take a hell of a lot to get him ... He's been compromised."

Asked why she thought Nixon should step down, Mrs. Mitchell replied: "I think in order to give credibility to the Republican party and credibility to the United States."

Mitchell, who has been mentioned frequently in allegations of an effort to cover up high-level administration involvement in the bugging of Democratic offices at the Watergate building, issued this statement Sunday:

"Martha's late night telephone calls have been good fun and games in the past. However, this is a serious issue. I'm surprised and disappointed that United Press International would take advantage of a personal phone call made under the stress of the current situation and treat it as a sensational public statement.

"I think that under all the circumstances, Martha is entitled to more consideration and courtesy than that, particularly from a reporter whom she had considered a personal friend.

"Any thought of the President resigning is ridiculous."

As she has in previous phone calls to UPI about Watergate, Mrs. Mitchell made clear she was speaking for quotation and was not calling on a personal basis. As far as was known, it was the first time her husband had volunteered a comment on one of her statements.

Mrs. Mitchell also has spoken to the Associated Press and The New York Times about Watergate in recent weeks, but none of her statements was as blunt as her suggestion that the President should resign.

Mitchell resigned as attorney general in March, 1972, to become manager of Nixon's re-election campaign. Two weeks after the June 17 Watergate break-in, he announced he was leaving the campaign to spend more time with his family.

In her call to Miss Thomas Saturday, Mrs. Mitchell said "there is nothing that Mr. President didn't know about that my husband didn't know about." As for her husband, she said, "I don't think he is going to get out of it."

Mrs. Mitchell first tried to reach Miss Thomas at the UPI Washington bureau and then at home. She finally ran her down in a restaurant in Madison, Wis., where Miss Thomas was addressing the local chapter of Women in Communications.

When Mrs. Mitchell emphasized that she wanted the story to move immediately, Miss Thomas noted that it might not appear in some East Coast newspapers because of the lateness of the hour. Mrs. Mitchell said she understood and wanted the story published.

Mrs. Mitchell said she and her husband are "very close" and that she "got him into all this" by convincing him to support Nixon.

"Till my dying day, I'll scream that I changed him from a Democrat to a Republican. I changed him from saying 'Tricky Dick Nixon' into his love for him," she said.

"I wanted my husband to be a great attorney general. I thought we could make a contribution."

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done". But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond held. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

REDUCING WRAP . . .
But does it really work?

Many questions have been asked about the Ann Marie Mummy Wrap Method of size and weight reduction. These women asked questions - got answers and now . . .

LOOK AT THEIR AMAZING RESULTS!

Ethel Fuller Lost 18½ inches first visit mostly from hips and legs - 3 inches off arms.

Nancy Ruud Lost 8 inches from upper thighs in 2 wraps.

Jean Hicks Lost 6 inches in first visit, next day another 7¾ inches all in the tummy area.

Delores Ownes Went from size 12 to a size 9 in just 10 visits.

MISS LEA TURNER DIRECTOR

NO MATTER WHAT YOUR FIGURE PROBLEMS . . . ANN MARIE CAN GUARANTEE RESULTS!

Q. What is the Ann Marie Body Wrap method?
A. Our body wrap is a reducing process allowing a person to lose inches and in many instances, pounds, as it liquefies fat, lightens scars, stretch and age marks, increases the circulation, draws out the poisons and toxins without dehydration and most of all it conditions and shrinks the skin.
Q. Is the Organic Mummy Wrap safe for me to use?
A. A dermatologist brought this formula from Europe and developed this exclusivey for Ann Marie Figure Salons. Any person can use our wrap.
Q. Does wrapping involve exercise?
A. No, our body wrap works independently of exercise. You do nothing except lie back, relax, read a book, or even take a nap while your body wrap treatment works for you. We ask you not to go into any exercise program of any kind while on our program.
Q. Can the face be wrapped?
A. Yes. Most of our ladies do take facials. It is not only very restful but it stops the aging process, tightens the neck, eye and chin tissue as it lightens scar and age marks.

Q. Does this mean the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is a water loss that will return after drinking water?
A. We feel that the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is more permanent than dieting or exercise. As with dieting or exercising, the permanency of inch loss depends on a person's day to day habits after the event. Contrary to common belief, a liquid loss of this nature will not return permanently upon the consumption of non-caloric fluids. Drinking water is non-caloric and its ingestion travels the digestive process with the greatest percentage leaving the body through the urinary system. We encourage you to drink as much as eight glasses of water a day.
Q. Do you use any drugs or medications.
A. Absolutely not!
A. Our wrap has worked on thousands of other people and that's why we offer a money back guarantee if you don't lose from 5 to 25 inches, depending on where you are wrapped. May we suggest that anybody with a figure problem call us for a body wrap analysis without cost or obligation. These consultations are private and confidential.

IT SHOULDN'T TAKE AN ACT OF CONGRESS TO MAKE CARS SAFE.

Volvo was committed to safety long before it became mandatory.

In 1956, for example, we installed padded dashboards: 12 years before the government insisted on them.

In 1959, Volvo became the first mass-produced car in the world with safety belts as standard equipment. Nine years later all cars had safety belts, inspired by Federal regulations.

We don't just settle for the legal minimum, either:

The law says all cars must have two brake circuits. Volvos have two triangular circuits, each controlling three wheels. So if one circuit fails, you still have about 80% of your braking power.

Volvos also have many safety features not required by law:

Like front and rear ends which absorb the impact of collisions. Four-wheel disc brakes with a pressure-proportioning valve to reduce the chances of rear-wheel lock-up. Child-proof rear doors. Rear window defrosters.

Now who would you rather buy a car from?

A company that builds a safe car because someone else made them do it?

Or a company that builds a safe car because their conscience made them do it?

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Waldie Running In Wrong Direction

Ever since Rep. Jerome R. Waldie of Contra Costa County became an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, he has been pouring out press releases at the rate of about one or two a day.

Many of these are sent under congressional frank; on others (which, presumably, he considers spot news), he pays airmail postage — out of his congressional postage allowance, we suppose.

Most of Congressman Waldie's breathless announcements are the kind that come (in lesser quantity) from other congressmen and commonly end up in the "round file." But the other day he sent one (airmail) which deserves comment.

IT WAS AN announcement that the Contra Costa Democrat has introduced a bill "which would free state, local and federal government employees from the overly restrictive provisions of the Hatch Act governing their political activity."

Declaring that the Hatch Act is "impermissibly vague," and in the same sentence that it is "in violation of First Amendment guarantees of free speech," Waldie announced his bill would allow state, local and federal employees, "in their roles as private citizens," to serve as delegates to political conventions, make political speeches, distribute campaign literature, and "many other rights that have been denied under the current Hatch Act provisions."

NOW, WE ALWAYS thought that Jerry Waldie was a pretty intelligent chap. We still think so. But apparently he does not know or has forgotten the history of Civil Service — and of the Hatch Act.

Federal Civil Service reform, to abolish, the "spoils system" in appointments to most government jobs, came about with passage of the Pendleton Act during the administration of President Chester A. Arthur. His predecessor in office, James A. Garfield, was killed by a disappointed job seeker. This was enough to put Arthur, previously known as a "spoilsman," staunchly behind the legislation to make government employment non-political.

States, counties and cities gradually followed the federal government's lead to adopt their own Civil Service systems. And all these included restrictions on partisan political activities by government employees.

The Hatch Act came about because many federal employees who were not under Civil Service — especially those in the New Deal's Works Projects Administration — were engaging in partisan activity. It tightened existing rules and extended them to non-Civil Service workers.

THE PURPOSE of Civil Service —and of the Hatch Act —was twofold: to assure that jobs were filled on the basis of examination and evidence of competence, and to prevent building up a political machine inside the government bureaucracy.

Waldie seems to have overlooked that.

We don't want the welfare worker making speeches to her clients in behalf of political candidates. We don't want our mailman filling our mailbox with party propaganda on which no postage has been paid. We don't want the policeman, who must be called on for riot control, demonstrating for some office-seeker. No thank you, Mr. Waldie!

Let Them Drink Beer

Spring is the time to make our first attack on slugs and snails in our Marin gardens. The organic gardening crowd suggests that we avoid using poisoned baits and pellets and put out dishes of beer instead. Snails and slugs are so wild about beer, they drown in their gluttony.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Holmdahl's Bill Helps Nobody But The Taxpayer

By RUS WALTON

Let's say you are buying your house on time. Let's say you borrowed the money from a bank or savings and loan.

In addition to your monthly mortgage payments, you are probably shelling out a hunk of dough each month to cover your taxes and fire insurance. The money, called impound fees, is held by the outfit that holds your mortgage.

That way its loan is protected: it knows your taxes are current and your fire insurance has been paid. There is no risk of a tax lien and no loss if there is a fire.

It makes sense. But there is an inequity.

YOUR MONEY is impounded but you get no interest on it. The lending institution does, but you don't.

State Sen. John Holmdahl, D-Oakland, figures the impound fees in this state come to about $350 million a year. And he figures that California lending institutions make about $18 million a year on that money.

He wants to change that. He wants you to get the interest on your money.

Under Holmdahl's bill (SB 671) the lending institution would be required to pay you interest on your impounded funds at the same rate it pays its time depositors. If it doesn't have time depositors it would have to pay you at the rate of 5 per cent simple interest per annum.

Even then, Holmdahl figures, the lenders would make a profit on the use of your money because they could lend it to someone else at a higher interest rate.

Holmdahl's bill is a step in a good direction. It would halt an obvious inequity. But it could be improved by an amendment: Require that the home buyer be given the option of opening his own savings fund, provided it were assigned to tax and insurance payments.

Such an amendment is important for two reasons:

First, it would give the home buyer more leeway in handling his own money while realizing the interest on his impounded funds.

Second, it would revitalize his motivation to raise hell about property taxes and tax rates.

LOOK AT IT this way:

When you pay those property taxes direct to the county confiscator, you know — you really know — how much those taxes are and how much they hurt. And, if you are mad enough and man enough, you can do something about it.

But when your tax payment is dribbled out and impounded, month-by-month, and then paid by the lending institution, part of the sting is taken away. It becomes a computer-to-computer deal. The tax collector's computer spits out your tax bill and mails it to the lending institution. The computer over there spits out a check and mails it to the tax collector. Untouched by human hands; unstained by human tears, or blood.

The tax collector likes that. The assessor likes it even better. It means fewer irate taxpayers camp on his desk.

Even without that savings fund option, Holmdahl's bill should be enacted. But he fights a lonely battle here in Babylon. The odds against him are staggering. Only the people would benefit from his bill, and they don't seem to count.

"Think we'll be out of here in time to see the World Series?"

Good Samaritans Helped Accident Victim

When my son was hurt in a traffic accident on April 18 on the Bolinas Ridge Road, some Good Samaritans who went by before the ambulance came were kind enough to put some of their own clothing over him, as he lay in shock by the side of the road. I would like to thank these people very warmly indeed, and to let them know that they can get their clothing back from me at this address, 146 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley.

That Tax For 'Water' Is Really For Sewers

Your editorial note to a reader's letter last week was not the first time you have indicated that the Marin Municipal Water District does not levy taxes.

I would appreciate your identifying the Taxing Agency listed only as "Water" on our tax bill; to whom we paid $5.20 for 1972-73 and $4.64 for 1972-73.

ANTOINETTE CAMPAGNA

Mill Valley.

(The editor's note should have contained a qualifier: Marin Municipal Water District has no tax rate; however, within the water district, taxes are levied for "Improvement District A," which was set up as a legal entity to permit eight Southern Marin sanitary districts to jointly develop sewage facilities. The tax rate for "Improvement District A" this year was 5.8 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Although levied through the water district, it actually is a tax for sanitary facilities. — Editor)

Sure Way Offered To Reduce Inefficiency

County Administrator Barrows is once again trying to lead the taxpayers of Marin down the primrose path with his empire-building schemes disguised as consolidations of county departments. He seeks to take effective departments and herd them into conglomerates, install a bloated bureaucracy over them with high-paid super-administrators, and palm this mess off on the supervisors and citizens.

This he calls economy and efficiency?

It takes little astuteness to see behind Mr. Barrows' schemes. How do you tame a planning department whose countywide plan calling for limited growth displeases powerful local developers? How do you control a parks and recreation department to whom the voters have entrusted the acquiring of open space (that could otherwise be profitably developed)? Simple: place these departments under the director of public works, whose expertise is in paving and construction. Clever, except that the supervisors were on to the administrator's game and roundly defeated that "consolidation" Tuesday.

On May 8, Mr. Barrows will try once more, this time an incredibly cynical proposal to consolidate the probation, mental health, public health, and social services departments, by creating a new, expensive super-administration headed by the welfare director . . .

This irate taxpayer offers one sure way to reduce county inefficiency: for the supervisors to replace the county administrator, who has proven he is expendable.

San Rafael Stagnating? Not By A Long Shot!

Permit me to express my personal pleasure and delight at the splendid display by Marin County artists, so nicely distributed among the various stores on Fourth Street. The chamber of commerce and cooperating merchants are to be commended.

It gave me a good opportunity to view in detail the variety of shops and stores which we now have on Fourth Street — no sign of "stagnation" here! No — San Rafael isn't a ghost town, not by a long shot. My one concern is the abnormal influx of shopping centers in the surrounding communities, which can give competition even to the point of bankruptcy. Nevertheless, I'll continue to do my shopping in San Rafael, where my fellow taxpayers and citizens are striving to make an honest and equitable living.

I have recently appeared before the city council, acting as the San Rafael Redvelopment Agency, and presented a suggestion for the beautifying of Fourth Street, in a Spanish motif, with the designation of "Don Timoteo Mall". How does this name sound? I suggested a firm of architects be engaged for this project.

Let's continue to keep San Rafael beautiful and prosperous!

Central Airline Ticket Procedure Advocated

Rather than impose a surcharge per passenger ticket to pay for the cost of security at airports, I have a simple idea that would not only pay for security but would save the airlines millions of dollars and enhance passenger service. The end result would be a reduction in air-fares and a totally objective booking of passengers.

Here is how it would work:

All the ticket counters operated by airlines in airports would be closed. In their place one central ticket counter representing all airlines would be opened in each airport terminal. The personnel would work for the airport, not for the airlines. They would book the passengers on the flights that would best serve the passengers. . .

The space now used by airlines for ticket counters would be leased to private business. The personnel used to staff the airline counters could be employed in other jobs, including security.

This idea could be put into effect quickly, and in addition to enhancing service and saving passengers a lot of time, it would generate additional revenue for the airport, as the space rental now used by airline counters would command high rentals from firms interested in displaying and selling.

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

These days Democrats have the last word in every political argument. It's 'Watergate."

How were those Republican spies to know the Democrats didn't have any secrets worth spying on?

The only thing the GOP learned at Watergate was that political espionage is a "no no."

Those White House aides were surprised to lose their jobs because Dick hadn't warned that he was behind them 300 per cent.

Kleindienst On Wiretapping —A Good Thing, A Bad Thing

WASHINGTON — You and the Democratic National Committee may be surprised to hear that wiretapping is a fine and valuable institution in America today. Please do not take my word for it because it is not my word. It comes from a senior Democrat, of all people, this week of all weeks, on the floor of the United States Senate.

If that defies current political wisdom, further note his principal source: our recently departed attorney general, Richard G. Kleindienst.

JOHN McCLELLAN, who predates even the current administration law-and-order field, quoted Kleindienst with approval on the subject on the very day Kleindienst relieved himself from the cabinet. Congress' approval of wiretapping in the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 is "the most significant, most important weapon that our country has had to deal effectively with the problem of organized crime," said Kleindienst/McClellan. Then the senator offered a bargeload of statistics to prove it.

To him, the most encouraging part was that 841 federal and state wiretaps were installed (officially, that is, with court sanction) last year. Each of them listened in on an average of 51 persons and 600 calls, and 50.5 per cent of the calls turned out to be incriminating.

While that may seem)ood news to the tapping advocate, the incriminating percentage was down from the previous two years. McClellan explains that the main surveillance effort before was against gambling, which operates largely by phone, thus is very vulnerable to tapping — while the 1972 taps were mainly against narcotics suspects, where it is harder to gather phone evidence.

TO ME, on the other hand, the happiest part of McClellan's report was that "the privacy of the average citizen is not threatened by the court-ordered surveillance authorized by Title III" (of the 1968 act). In fact, the average phone tap costs the authorities $5,435, and the federal government spends almost twice that much on each of its "intercepts," as they say.

"Most police departments, including the federal law enforcement agencies, simply do not have the manpower and other resources to conduct widespread or indiscriminate surveillance," the senator assured the nation. These glad circumstances mean that the percentage of all calls made in this country which were tapped last year was only .0000039 per cent.

Of course, if you happened to use your phone a lot, the chance of somebody's listening in statistically went up. And it went up even more if you happened to work at Democratic headquarters or had a friend who did, or if you or your friends happened to be on bad terms with Mr. Nixon and his friends.

That comes around to the illegal wiretapping part, which is not covered by the court reports cited by McClellan. It apparently was too late for him to delete his favorable quotation from Kleindienst, but he did manage to interpolate an updating paragraph when he delivered the speech to the Senate.

"THE MOST IMPORTANT case yet developed under the 1968 act has been the Watergate affair. The investigation, prosecutions and convictions in this case were all made possible by the 1968 act. Without it, we would not have had available on the books a federal felony, punishable by five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. As tragic and regrettable as this whole affair has been, I am glad that the 1968 act could be used to bring these men to justice. . ."

It is not clear out of context that the senator referred to that part of the law forbidding wiretaps without a court order — not the part allowing them with such restrictions. Kleindienst and John Mitchell and the Justice Department fought to overthrow the court-order restriction but failed. Thus deterred, the administration set up its own tapping operation outside the law.

That, we all should know, is A Bad Thing. I quote you evidence: "When men usurp the law, then government is subject to their whims, their personalities, and their varying ethical standards. Uncertainty and finally chaos become the prevailing characteristics of society. No worthwhile venture can be risked, because the very stability of society is in question. Stagnation and degeneration must be the result."

The source remains the same: Richard G. Kleindienst, in a speech prepared for the Law Day ceremony of the D.C. Bar Assn., May 1, 1973 — but never delivered.

Watergate Fallout Hurts Some Candidates, Helps Others

Political fallout from Watergate: It is considerable: It weakens the prospects of the former secretary of the treasury, John B. Connally.

It raises the prospects of Democratic Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington.

It impairs the potential of Sen. Edward Kennedy.

It strengthens the prospects of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, and Gov. Ronald Reagan.

It hurts Vice President Spiro Agnew.

HERE ARE the reasons the Watergate scandal affects each of the foregoing differently:

Connally is hurt because Nixon is hurt. It would be difficult for Connally to get the Republican nomination without the President's help, and the President may not be in a strong position to help.

Jackson emerges more than ever at the political center of the nation —a domestic liberal and a firm-line internationalist. His hallmark is personal and intellectural integrity.

Kennedy is hurt because Watergate emblazons personal ethics in government as a burning issue. This inevitably brings to the fore Kennedy's conduct after Chappaquiddick.

All Republican candidates are hurt. When the President is damaged politically, all in the administration are damaged politically. This is why Agnew is weakened although directly untouched by the scandal.

Republicans outside the administration escape with lesser injury. Rockefeller, Reagan, Percy get a lift toward the nomination, but Watergate cannot fail to make the election of any Republican in 1976 more difficult.

KREMLIN SHAKE-UP BOON TO BREZHNEV. The latest changes in he Soviet Politboro are a vote of confidence in Chairman Brezhnev and endorsement of closer relations with the United States.

The Communist Party chief told the leadership bluntly that Moscow has no alternative other than to co-operate with the United States. New members were added to the Politboro to support Brezhnev's trade and detente goals.

REPORT ON AMERICAN YOUTH. Young people in the United States are demonstrating less and liking it more. There are obvious exceptions, but the overall picture is that college and high school students are turning away from "cosmic" issues and hitting the books. They like a little more fun and prefer better grades to marching in order to get better jobs. They are tending to choose law, medicine, business, engineering over sociology and the humanities.

PEKING — KID GLOVES FOR TAIWAN. The Chinese leaders feel they can be very patient in getting Taiwan back under mainland control. No force, no heavy propaganda campaign. Meanwhile, they are doing their best to assure foreign investors — mostly Japanese and American —about doing business on Formosa.

They want to exploit Taiwan's direct links with foreign manufacturers, discourage the outflow of capital, and in the end be in a position to take over Taiwan as a prospering, not a bankrupt, province.

SHOULDN'T CONSUMERS CHECK SHOPLIFTING? Theft is part of the reason for higher prices. It hits business below the belt, and the cost is passed on to the consumer.

Michael O'Connor, executive director of the Supermarket Institute, points out that "supermarkets could not exist if most people weren't honest."

Shoppers could help reduce shoplifting, but shoplifting is only part of the toll. Employee theft accounts for $10 million a day or about $3 billion every year.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

May 7, 1963

Eight members of the Marin County schools staff resigned or were dismissed, several of them claiming "incompetent administration" led to their departure.

The Belvedere City Council, by 3-2 vote, granted St. Stephen's Episcopal Church permission to institute a day school, ending a long dispute over the plan.

20 YEARS AGO

May 7, 1953

The United States began sending arms aid to Thailand, but Secy. of State John Foster Dulles assured congressmen there was no intention of dispatching troops.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors granted J. D. O'Connor a variance to permit building homes in Gallinas Village without underground drainage lines.

Four New Faces Likely On County Plan Commission

Four seats on the Marin Marin County Planning Commission will be up for grabs next month and it's almost a sure bet none of the incumbents will be reappointed.

Two commissioners — Rebecca Watkin and Ken Stevens — reportedly want out. Both have complained about the frequency and duration of commission meetings.

The other two — John West and George Leonard — would like reappointment but, sorry, no way.

LEONARD, a resident of Stinson Beach, is the Fourth District's representative on the commission. That's Gary Giacomini country and the young supervisor has already started the purge of Bud Baar's appointees. Edward Colthurst, who served on the Human Rights Commission, was the first to go. Others, including Leonard, will follow.

Leonard, who would like to remain on the commission, isn't going to fight for a position. He is working on a federal appointment to the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, and is believed to have a good chance to get it.

He is expected to be replaced on the planning commission by Jerry Friedman, formerly the head of a West Marin conservation group which he established.

WEST was appointed several years ago by Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. to represent the second district. West was living in San Anselmo at the time but has since moved to Inverness, outside of Arrigoni's district.

He likes serving and is probing for appointment to one of the at-large positions being vacated by Mrs. Watkin and Stevens.

It's unlikely he will get it, however.

West is a personable man who votes a straight and narrow conservation line. He has one hang-up. Rather than simply expressing his opinions, he tends to smother people with them.

This has resulted in resentment from some other commissioners, who last year teamed up to break tradition by reappointing Jack Nixon to a second term as chairman. West was in line for the job. He became chairman last month when Nixon resigned to take his seat on the San Rafael City Council.

West served for half a day as chairman at the last meeting and managed to irritate fellow commissioners by twice cutting off debate and then launching long monologues on his views.

For West to win an at-large appointment from county supervisors will require three votes. Those votes aren't there now.

Supervisors To Eye Corte Madera Plan

Marin County supervisors, meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, will consider whether to file suit against the Town of Corte Madera to block its controversial redevelopment project.

According to Allen A. Haim, deputy county counsel, the county has until June 22 to file legal action contesting the town's plan.

The town council, on a 4 to 1 vote last month, enacted an ordinance approving and adopting a redevelopment plan to aid development of a regional shopping center east of Highway 101.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors' agenda also includes:

CLOSED SESSION — A closed session to give its negotiating team instructions on salary negotiations with sheriff's personnel.

BOUNDARIES — Discussion of proposed boundary changes to the Golden Gate National Recreation Area which would free money for purchase of Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito.

MARIN CITY — Review of Marin City Master Plan for creating a balanced residential-business community.

GRANT — A proposal from the county administrator that supervisors give the Tomales Sewer Maintenance District $10,000 for engineering studies of a new sewage system.

Bar Opposes Total Shield For Newsmen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — U.S. Attorney James L. Browning Jr., released the results of a poll Sunday that showed the concept of an "absolute" newsman's privilege being overwhelmingly rejected by the Federal Bar Association's Criminal Law Committee.

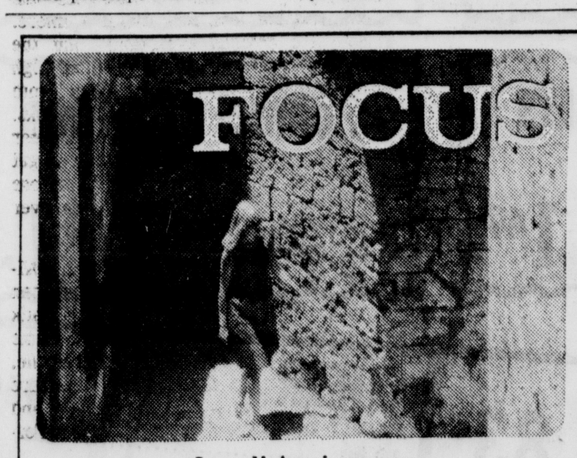
The committee said that 87 per cent of its more than 500 attorney members felt any such privilege should not provide reporters with an absolute right to have an otherwise valid subpoena quashed.

The question of whether any type of newsman's privilege should be enacted was answered "in the negative by a narrow margin of 51 per cent," said Browning, adding that 68 per cent felt that any privilege should preempt state laws.

Man Is Arrested On Theft Warrant

Ralph Richard Umland, 24, of 10 La Brae Way, San Rafael, was arrested at 7:45 p.m., Saturday by California Highway Patrol on their warrant on suspicion of car theft.

He was held in Marin County jail in lieu of $1,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.



Israeli Anniversary

After 25 years of fantastic growth for Israel, tourism has become its No. 1 earner of foreign currency. Historical-religious interest in the Holy Land is no longer the only attraction. Resorts crowding the country's 4 shorelines — the Mediterranean, the Dead Sea, the Red Sea, and the Sea of Galilee — make Israel a favorite vacationing spot for sun-seekers. Tourism might explain why the government is pouring almost $5 million into a gigantic military parade today. This year Israel is hoping to draw a record 825,000 visitors, equal to nearly one-third of the country's population.

DO YOU KNOW — What ancient city is Israel's capital?

FRIDAY'S ANSWER — The Kentucky Derby, the Belmont Stakes, and the Preakness are the "Triple Crown."

MELVIN MADDOCKS

Neither Doomsday Nor Utopia On Future Teeter-Totter

A cartoonist doddling in search of the image for a future-watcher might connect a child's body to an enormous, egglike head. This head, furthermore, will come equipped with two masks: banally tragic, banally comic.

Let the scene be the good old playground of life, and let the future-watcher be riding a seesaw — all by himself, solo. One end of the seesaw is labeled Utopia, the other end Doomsday. Sliding from extreme to extreme, adroitly switching masks as he goes, the future-watcher plays the game of split-personality prophet while the rest of the kiddies — us — either laugh and clap (Hooray, here comes Utopia) or cry and roll in the dust (Go away, Doomsday).

First, of course, the good news. Only yesterday, it seems, the future-watchers, wearing their Jules Verne play togs, were promising that something called cybernetics was going to organize the universe, to say nothing of stamping out housework.

You name it: If you didn't like to do it, there would be a robot at your elbow to do it for you. Two electric cars were promised for every garage, and a battery-stimulated chicken for every pot. The word "drudgery" would disappear from the dictionary, and "leisure" would become man's only problem.

Ah, the cliches of future-think!

EVERYBODY WOULD live in a no-upkeep house and wear disposable suits. Even the newsboy who throws the paper into the hedge would be automated out. Why, tickers would pour the news right under your door along with all the miscellaneous data you cared to request on, say, the feeding of pandas, from your local library — oops, your information-retrieval center.

"Miracle" was the operative word: "miracle" drugs for all diseases, "miracle" programs to cure poverty, just like that.

Then, as seesaws will, the seesaw began to tip. The word "miracle" became replaced by "side effects," the word "revolution" by crisis." Technology, which was going to save us from Nature, suddenly wasn't even going to save us from outselves. We explained to one another endlessly that, yes, nuclear energy was a neutral force, for good or evil. But somehow the thing the genie in the bottle did best was go bang.

Dropping their Utopian masks as if they were in bad taste, the future-watchers made an instant switch, or so it seemed, to the subject of Apocalypse. "Famine and pollution!" they cried. The seesaws bottomed out. Just as we were adjusting to re-entry into the Garden of Eden we got the new corrective bulletin: Our species was about to become extinct.

Poor dizzy watchers of future-watchers! It's enough to make you nostalgic for a nice, gentle rocking horse. Or for those old, leather-bound philosophers who kept raising a sage finger and saying: For every thesis there's an antithesis — and then a synthesis.

WELL, THE SYNTHESIS, otherwise known as Phase 3, may or may not be staging a comeback. But the report on future-watching, 1973-style, is that an almost old-fashioned sense of balance now governs the seesawing. Hysteria is out of style. The Harvard sociologist, Daniel Bell, has gone so far as to declare: "In the foreseeable future — say for the next 100 years — there will be neither Utopia nor Doomsday but the same state that has existed for the last 100 years."

MODERATION HAS BECOME our ultimate novelty — and what a commentary that is!

Broderick Against Probation Proposal

The presiding judge of Marin Superior Court has joined a growing list of those opposed to including the probation department in a proposed consolidation with health and welfare services.

The consolidation, to be considered tomorrow by county supervisors, was proposed last month by County Administrator John F. Barrows as a way of improving county services.

"The court feels that the traditional current alignment of the probation department within the criminal-justice system is the more satisfactory one," Judge Henry J. Broderick wrote.

"Persons going through the criminal-justice system progress in stages of detention and apprehension, adjudication, rehabilitation and correction," he said. "To take the probation department out of this system and put it into another system, however related, fragments the effectiveness of that department within the criminal-justice system."

The judge said supervisors should take no action on Barrows's recommendation and wait until they decide on establishing a new Department of Corrections. That matter is to be discussed May 15.

Broderick said probation would more properly fit under such a department, which has been recommended by an special committee studying the closing of San Quentin and the state's correctional system.

Others opposed to inclusion of the probation department n the consolidation are Community Action Marin, members of the juvenile justice commission and John W. Brewer, chief probation officer.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Laurence I. Moss., a Washington, D.C. nuclear engineer, was elected president of the Sierra Club Saturday, marking the first time in the organization's 81-year history that it has had an out-of-state president.

A Sierra Club spokesman said the election was further evidence of the increasingly national character of the organization.

RON MAGERS

HE DOESN'T DO THE NEWS IN SHORTS ANY MORE.

Ron Magers wasn't always on The Best Dressed List. One hot summer in Oregon in 1966 he anchored the news in tie, coat and (unseen behind the desk) tennis shorts.

There've been other experiences, even more dramatic, that have trained him to cope with any eventuality.

Some highlights:

1967 A raging Pacific storm. Magers films his report from a row boat at sea.

1968 Rioting state prisoners ask him to mediate their dispute.

1969 Sick in bed with the Asian flu, he does a report on — symptoms of the Asian flu.

1970 Sick again. This time from breathing in smoke as his small plane dives over a forest fire for a close-up look.

1972 Just misses being crushed by a burning building at the wharf.

Watch Ron Magers tonight. It's the tough experiences that make doing the news look easy.

Mental Hospital Probe To Start

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A special Senate probe of the Reagan administration's plan to eventually close state hospitals for the mentally ill and retarded is tentatively scheduled to begin the first of an "exhaustive" series of hearings May 18.

Sen. Alfred E Alquist, D-San Jose, chairman of the select committee conducting the investigation, said the panel will hear complaints that state hospitals are being closed before adequate care is available to treat the hospital's patients at the local level.

According to aides to Alquist, the first witness before the committee probably will be Dr. Earl Brian, secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency.

He is expected to restate the administration's proposal to close hospitals for the mentally ill by 1977 and gradually phase out hospitals for the mentally retarded over the next decade or so.

During later hearings, the Select Committee on the Proposed Phaseout of Hospital Services will hear complaints from local areas about the plan and will travel to the affected communities and hospitals.

Alquist said the committee "will investigate charges of possible conflicts of interest against ENKI Research Institute and Arthur Bolton and Associates, a Sacramento-based consulting firm.

"Both have recently conducted studies which described California's present mental health program in glowing terms."

Questions have been raised about the two groups because Bolton and others, while employes of the legislature, helped draw up the legislation creating the present trend to transfer mentally ill persons to local treatment centers.

Later as members of the private firms, they assessed the effectiveness of the programs.

The committee will also investigate reports that many mentally ill patients are involved in crimes which lead to jail or prison terms rather than confinement in mental health facilities.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Monday, May 7, the 127th day of 1973 with 238 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

English poet Robert Browning was born May 7, 1812.

On this day in history:

In 1915, 1,198 passengers, including 124 Americans, were lost when a German Uboat sank the British liner "Lusitania" off the coast of Ireland.

In 1945, Nazi Germany surrendered on the 2,075th day of World War II.

In 1954, French troops surrendered the fortress of Dien Bien Phu and withdrew from what is now Vietnam.

In 1968, Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace died of cancer at the age of 41.

A thought for the day: Robert Browning wrote, "Ignorance is not innocence but sin."

Connally Termed GOP Contender

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, former Republican national chairman, says he considers Republican convert John B. Connally already a "strong contender" for the party's presidential nomination in 1976.

"He represents that broad middle ground," Dole said, "... and I see right now the vice president, Mr. Agnew, and John Connally as the front-runners, even though Connally has been a Republican only a few days."

Doctor Tells Kansas Man How To Help Shrink Painful Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

...caused by inflammation and infection.

Prairie Village, Kan.—Mr. Joseph Sutton reports: "My doctor suggested suppositories. I chose Preparation H suppositories. On a physical check-up my doctor noted how effectively it works."

(Note: Doctors' tests have proved Preparation H® actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. It's so effective that in many cases, the first applications give prompt, temporary relief from pain and itching in such tissues. There's no other formula like doctor-tested Preparation H.)

SNUG INSIDE the teepee which is their ranch home (left), Robin studies approved methods of organic gardening, while Eileen prepares the midday meal, sharing some of the meager fare with a ranch cat. The pyramidal canvas structure is 18 feet in diameter and 30 feet high and has a planked floor. Mulch is spread on the ground (right) to protect the vegetables by keeping the ground moist. Eileen and Robin work hard to produce the organically grown vegetables, which are their chief source of income.

Their Garden Of Life Is Their Lifestyle

By BETTY FROST

When they talk about The Garden, it is as though both words were capitalized and in italics.

The two city children discovered Rancho Baulines on Highway 1 at Bolinas a year ago. Since then the one-and-one-half-acre area, divided into two plots, has been both a haven and a challenge to them. Their vegetable garden is a part of the 1,400-acre ranch where horse are boarded. On Bolinas Lagoon, the ranch is in an idyllic setting with rolling hills, meadows, a stand of redwood trees, wildflowers and streams, and the two have permission to live on and garden a part of it. And they grow the food for their own vegetarian meals.

Finding life in San Francisco frustrating and mass education at a large public high school irrelevant, Robin and Eileen, both 18, decided to seek new values and live a new lifestyle. Most of it is the growing of "organic" vegetables and living in a tepee on the land. In their society, which they now share with three others, no one asks for last names or brings up the past.

"Gardening teaches you a lot about life and death," Robin said. "In our organic gardening we try to emulate the closed system of the forest. In the forest," he explained, "the trees shed their leaves and it becomes fertilizer and mulch for future growth. We use our compost pile like that, returning to the vegetable patch the natural nutrients."

NO TOXIC sprays are used. "We believe in letting the bugs eat a little bit," Robin said. "We also use insect resistant varieties of corn, and use natural sprays, such as garlic, which repel the insects."

The garden is their chief source of income.

"When I was a child I didn't even like vegetables," the young man commented. "I ate mostly frozen food and TV dinners, and the only vegetable I had ever grown was a radish in nursery school."

Their home, situated in a canyon near a creek, is a 30-foot tall canvas tepee, enclosing a circular living area about 18 feet in diameter. Its access is the typical low rounded entry of the Indian tepee. Daylight filtering through the tall canvas structure sheds a soft light over the interior.

In the center of the single room stands a pot bellied stove. There are two comfortable rocking chairs, a low bed covered with a lace bedspread, bookshelves, pots of ivy, fern, and an Easter Lily. Eileen cooks their vegetarian meals on a camp stove.

Eileen, a pretty girl with intense blue eyes, curly auburn hair, manages to look perfectly groomed despite the rigors of ranch life. She welcomed visitors to the tepee with the dignity of a duchess showing off the family castle.

THE WINTER was hard on Eileen. "Sometimes the tepee leaked and the stove smoked," she said, "and it was lonely with no visitors for months. The gentle creek near the tepee rose during the heavy rains until it was six feet across."

Robin took advantage of the wet winter months to study books on organic gardening. He was concerned about the delay in planting, and lettuce already planted took three months to mature.

Completing the small colony are Samson, a tall bearded man who lives in a geodesic dome farther up the canyon, and two young women, Rosalie and Edith, who put up conventional pyramidal tents. There is also Ezra, a husky 10-month-old baby whose mother is temporarily away. The five young adults happily share the care of the little fellow.

Of the newcomers, Robin says, "It's their garden, too."

ALL WORK together in the garden. On a recent afternoon one of the young women was shoveling the garden cuttings into a compost heap, another was planting zucchini seeds in paper cups. "Does it matter which end of the seed goes down?" she asked.

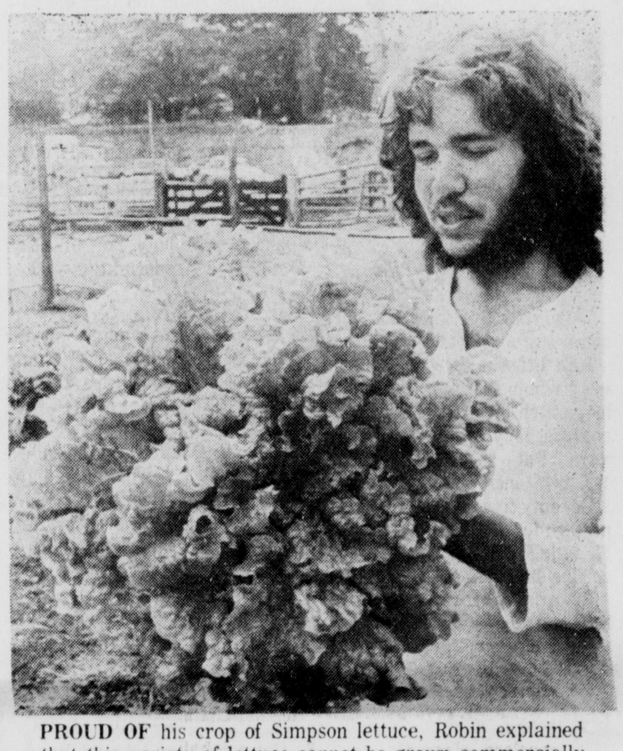
Samson prepared another part of the garden for planting, and Robin and Eileen added mulch to the crop of red and Simpson lettuce and the onion sets under cultivation.

The vegetables are sold fresh from the garden to people who stop at the ranch, and some are taken to local markets which serve Bolinas residents. At the height of the harvest, during the summer months they expect to make $160 a week.

The dark-haired Robin expressed pride in their operation. "We have the biggest organic vegetable garden in western Marin," he bragged.

To the question, "Do you expect to make the garden your life work?" Robin had a simple answer.

"All I can say," he replied, "is that we are planting our summer crop."



PROUD OF his crop of Simpson lettuce, Robin explained that this variety of lettuce cannot be grown commercially because it is too fragile to be shipped long distances. The organically grown vegetables are sold fresh out of the garden at Rancho Baulines.

HELEN HELP US!

Illness Game Gets Sickening With Hypochondriac Playing

DEAR HELEN:

What do you say to a woman who can always top you on illnesses?

If you've got a headache, she's got a bigger one. I sprained my ankle — she developed a limp, and told everybody about her "tendonitis."

She and I visited a friend in the hospital, and this dame spent the whole time describing "her operation" in detail.

It's become a game with some of us. Mention hay fever, and her "asthma" kept her awake all night. If you cough a couple of times, her "emphysema" gives her fits. (She's really very healthy for a 63-year-old.) We got her blood pressure up "over 200" the other day because she had to beat the next contender who mentioned 185.

But what started out as a joke (we thought she'd catch on and shut up after awhile) has become a contest. All we talk about at our card club now is ailments —and half the members are beginning to believe in their "symptoms."

I think I'll announce I've got terminal cancer. Do you suppose she could top that one? — TIRED OF THE GAME

DEAR TOTG:

Don't: she might die trying!

You've learned by now that you can't beat a hypochondriac at her own game, so why don't you all "get healthy" again. . .and perhaps feel pity for a woman whose life is so barren that only her illnesses make her "important"? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Thanks for standing up for the foxy grandpa of 70-some who still enjoyed life. I am a man of 72 who goes out with a chick of 54 — my wife. We dance to Country and Western music twice a week, she buys me wine-colored bell bottom pants, and loud shirts, bow ties, wide belts — and since she's a pretty foxy lady, we have a ball.

I hope Grandpa's "scandalized" son reads this and stops trying to make an old man of his father. — SWINGER AT 72 AND HAPPY

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? A fun idea? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, care of the Independent-Journal.

MONEY MATTERS

Questions, Answers On Your Problems

By JOSEPHINE RIPLEY
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

Q. I read your column on oil credit card charges and found it lacking in one very important area. Your advice is good if the company returns the receipt. A few companies do not do this and the consumer has no tangible means of correction or verification.

What can the consumer do to protect himself against false charges when this no-receipt system is practiced? E. T. O'T., Lutherville, Md.

A. Be sure to keep the copy of your credit card charge when it is given to you by the service station attendant. Keep these copies in a marked envelope or other specific place.

Compare them with the itemized charges on your monthly bill. Don't hesitate to raise a question if you have one. You may not be able to persuade these companies to change their system of billing, but you can challenge any item for which you do not have a receipt or which does not jibe with the slips you have. Ask for the company's copy of the item in question.

Q. I was interested in a recent column of yours relative to retirement outside the USA. The article discussed residence in Great Britain (by a United States citizen). Would a similar booklet be available on Yugoslavia? Mrs. B.P.C., Bisbee, Arizona.

A. Not a similar booklet, perhaps, but the Yugoslav Embassy in Washington, D.C., has many informative and helpful publications on various aspects of life in that country. It is interesting that your question comes at a time when the embassy is in the process of preparing a new publication with current information on many subjects of special interest to tourists.

Yugoslavia is attracting an increasing number of tourists because the cost of living and touring is less there than in many other countries today.

Food and accommodations are cheaper. The average hotel rate per day is about $15. In one town, a famous castle which has been converted to a hotel charges $25 a day, including meals.

A full-course dinner in a restaurant or hotel would come to about $5. "All our vegetables are right out of the ground," according to one authority. "We have organic food in abundance."

For more information and booklets, address: Secretary for Information, Yugoslav Embassy, 2410 California Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20008.

Q. I gained an impression from a previous Money Matters column that gifts of money up to $3,000 a year were tax deductible. . .We are putting aside money for the college education of our children. Could this be considered a gift and thus deductible from our income tax? Mr. N. L., Boulder, Colorado.

A. Sorry, but the answer is no. The column referred to the gift tax laws. The income and the gift tax are two separate forms of taxation. On your income tax report, you pay a tax on the money you receive.

Under the gift tax, you pay a tax, if due, on what you give in the form of gifts. That is, when such gifts exceed $3,000 for the year. In addition to the yearly gift tax allowance, there is a lifetime tax free gift allowance of $30,000.

The taxpayer may draw on this at will. If his gifts for one year should come to $5,000, he may draw upon his lifetime exemption for that extra $2,000. But this must be reported on the quarterly federal gift tax return.

GETTING READY — Michelle Olsonoski (left), 11, and Jennifer Leith, both sixth graders at Lucas Valley School, rehearsed their speeches and got the feel of shovels before groundbreaking ceremonies Saturday at the Laguna Ranch Environmental Education site at Point Reyes National Seashore. Voting Rights Act Provisions Ruled A Must In Remap Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today that states must apply provisions of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, in reapportioning their legislatures, to make sure that rights of minorities are not endangered.

The ruling, drawing on previous decisions that the voting rights statute applies to "a broad range of voting law changes", ordered Georgia to draw up a new reapportionment plan for its House of Representatives.

Justice Potter Stewart wrote the majority opinion which reaffirmed a lower court decision in a suit brought by the Justice Department.

Dissenters in the ruling were Justices Byron R. White, Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist. They maintained that the Justice Department had not followed proper procedures under terms of the voting rights act, which requires federal approval of reapportionment plans in states and other jurisdictions with records of low voter participation.

In other actions, the Court:

—Sustained a lower court's refusal to extend to civil cases the rule requiring newsmen to disclose confidential sources to grand juries investigating crime.

—Agreed to decide whether illegal use of another person's credit card is a violation of federal mail fraud statutes.

—Upheld North Carolina's right to deny the vote to a convicted felon unless that right is specifically restored; and agreed to examine a New York state law denying the vote to persons in jail awaiting trial or serving misdemeanor sentences.

The Voting Rights Act forbids certain states and other jurisdictions with past records of low voter participation to make political changes that might affect minority political rights without prior approval by either the U.S. attorney general or by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. Georgia is subject to the act.

The attorney general rejected plans enacted in 1971 and 1972 by the Georgia Legislature because they provided for a large number of districts where more than one member represented the same geographic area, and for runoff elections when no candidate got a majority.

In multi-member districts, each candidate was required to designate the seat for which he was running, referred to as the "numbered post."

Speaking for the majority, Justice Potter Stewart said prior decisions of the high court control the Georgia situation. He said they held that the 1965 act applies "to a broad range of voting law changes."

The Stewart opinion affirmed a judgment by a special three-judge federal court in Atlanta in a suit brought by the Justice Department to stop the 1972 election after the Legislature decided not to act further.

The Supreme Court stayed the effect of the panel's decision so the election could go ahead under the 1972 plan, and Stewart said "it would be inequitable" to require new elections at this time.

But under the Stewart opinion the panel is instructed to bar any future elections "unless and until the state ... tenders to the attorney general a plan to which he does not object or obtains a favorable declaratory judgment from the District Court for the District of Columbia."

Council To Eye Plan Revisions

The Ross Town Council will resume discussion Thursday of the town's master plan and proposed revisions which do little, if anything, to change the character of quiet community.

The revisions, to be presented by consultant James M. Campbell of Palo Alto, will be discussed at 8 p.m. at town hall. An environmental impact report on the plan also will be heard.

Also scheduled for discussion Thursday is the town's proposed budget for fiscal 1973-74, parking problems on town streets and a report on the status of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Outdoor Learning Site Dedicated

Young people teaching other young people was the plan outlined Saturday during groundbreaking ceremonies at the Laguna Ranch Environmental Education site at Point Reyes National Seashore.

"The idea is that children learn more from someone nearer their own age," said Steven Wilson, 18, a senior at Petaluma High School and a volunteer teacher at the 1,800-acre ranch.

"Volunteers are taught the inquiry method of teaching," he said. "Instead of answering a student's question, we pick their minds by asking a series of related questions aimed at getting the student to think for himself."

Another facet of the program is that everybody works.

"Youngsters never come out just for entertainment," said Robert Evans, a consultant in outdoor education for the Sonoma County Schools and one of the motivating forces behind the project since it began about a year ago.

"The kids come out to have fun, to learn and to work. the three go together," he said. Volunteer teachers are as old as 18 and as young as 10.

The ranch site, once the home of the Miwok Indians, was designated an educational area by the U.S. National Park Service in 1970. By March 1972, a committee made up of educators from Sonoma, Marin and Alameda counties were working with representatives from the Audubon Society, Marin Humane Society, state department of parks and recreation and the national park service to plan the educational future of the area and to find funds.

Small amounts of money at first came from school districts, personal contributions, Point Reyes Natural History Association and the Standard Oil Company.

The Rosenberg Foundation of San Francisco funded a series of workshops to train teachers and a $22,500 grant from California license plate funds provided the backbone of financing, Evans said.

Students from the Tamalpais High School District, Petaluma, Piedmont, Dixie, Wilmar and Healdsburg school districts worked weekend after weekend clearing the site, hauling off debris and helping repair roads.

The groundbreaking marked the official beginning of construction of 12 eight-man tents plus a rest room with shower and toilet facilities for students on overnight study trips.

The tents, which will be constructed on wood frames, will be portable, allowing them to be moved into any of three meadows on the site.

An existing quonset hut will be repaired and used for storage and as a classroom.

Lumber used to crate bombs has been salvaged from the Port Chicago Naval Weapons Depot.

Facilities, designed by volunteer architect Craig Brown, are intended to be primitive, with an eye toward protecting the delicate environment, Evans said.

Although some classes were allowed on the site at the beginning of the program, study trips have been suspended until the facilities are completed.

Evans said students will be allowed on the hills and trails again in early September.

Groundbreaking speakers included Marin County Supervisors Gary T. Giacomini and Arnold M. Baptiste, Virgil M. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools, and Dr. Walter Egan, superintendent of Sonoma County schools.

Other speakers were Jennifer Leith and Michelle Olsonoski, both 11-year-old sixth graders at Lucas Valley School.

Master of ceremonies was state Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

Juveniles Cited In Robbery Try

Five youths were cited to juvenile authorities Saturday on suspicion of strong-arm robbery at the Laurel Dell Primary school in San Rafael.

San Rafael police reported that the four older boys were pushing two younger ones around demanding money. The older did not get any money this time, but the younger said that they had given the five money before when they had been threatened, according to police report.

Ferry Terminal Site On List

The transportation committee of the Golden Gate Bridge District board will continue discussion of the location of a ferry terminal in Marin with representatives of conservation groups at a meeting at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The meeting, in the administration building at the toll plaza, originally was scheduled for Wednesday but was postponed a day.

Spokesmen for the Sierra Club and the Marin Conservation League have asked that the terminal be located at San Quentin instead of the planned Larkspur site.

French Proposed As Diplomat Tongue

NICE, France (UPI) — Maurice Druon, the new minister of cultural affairs, said that French should once again become the language of diplomacy because "when spoken properly, French does not allow men to lie."

Druon, a novelist, made his remarks at the inauguration of the Alliance Francaise (French Language Alliance) meeting at this Riviera resort.

Grecian Festival A Merry Affair

By FRANK FARRARA

Even the sky carried the national colors of Greece, blue and white, for the second annual Grecian Festival at the Marin Civic Center fairgrounds and Veterans Memorial Building Saturday and yesterday.

The two-day festival, sponsored by the Greek Orthodox Church of Marin, drew an attendance estimated, like last year, at 20,000 persons. According to Charles S. Parnell, general chairman, 5,000 showed up Saturday, 15,000 yesterday.

It was a family outing, a shopping trip, dining out, a cultural event and above all spirited music and energetic dancing to the clapping of the audience.

The sounds of the mandolins and guitars rang out over the Civic Center lagoon where youngsters rode in paddle boats and over the outdoor cafes where the customers ate souvlakia, the national dish of Greece.

Children walked about with blue and white balloons with the lettering "Think Greek," and others wore buttons saying, "Kiss Me, I'm Greek," and "It's All Greek to Me," and "Greek Power."

The master of ceremonies on the main stage urged the crowd to "buy a little shish-ka-bob, buy a little ouzo and watch the shows."

The audience lolling on a grassy knoll was a splash of color in itself, wearing a range of clothing from backyard barbecue to native costumes.

No sooner had the Minerva dancers in native costume finished their series of lively folk dances, accompanied by the Meraklithes, than members of the audience gathered on the stage and danced.

Peter G. Kavantjas of San Anselmo, dressed in the colorful costume of the Royal Guards, including a red fesi and tsarouhia (red slippers with blue tassels) was cooking souvlakia on individual skewers over a charcoal fire.

At the adjoining taverna, there was brisk trade in the sale of the wines of Greece and ouzo, an anise-flavored liquor.

The music was virtually nonstop for when the live entertainers rested, recorded music flowed from a loudspeaker and sometimes live and recorded music filled the air simultaneously.

The crowd warmed to the novelty dance act of Ulysses and Useless, which including dancing with glasses of ouzo balanced on their foreheads.

In a crowd pleasing finale Ulysses balanced three tables and five chairs in the air using his teeth, and when the act was over members of the audience formed a circle and danced.

In contract to the music and the noise outside, the inside of the Veterans Memorial Building was quiet and cool, a change of tempo befitting the cultural exhibits inside.

Along the far side were displayed Greek statuary, character masks, Grecian antiques and rooms of a Grecian village home.

In the center was a white chariot and nearby a collection of Greek coins and stamps, a book exhibit including a Byzantine music book, brown with age, with lyrics and notes that were a puzzle to the viewers.

Grecian handiwork and weaving and a display of various sponges were in other areas and Alonso Gonzales of the College of Marin was fashioning puppets near the doorway.

The sign at the puppet show said it would "be presented as the puppets are finished," and minutes later Gonzales, working on two nearly completed puppets, decided to start the show.

The atmosphere of Greece was carried out in the row of booths beyond the knoll, booths with Greek pottery, jewelry, fishermen's hats, dolls, vases, carpets, baskets, and imports from Greece, posters and information from Olympic Airlines.

For a pastime there was backgammon, listed as the "Sidewalk Cafe Game of Greece," and there was a full array of Greek food, including pastries.

Paradoxically, opposite the booths selling baklava, halvah, spanakopetes, tiropetes, and the like were booths selling hot dogs, ice cream, popsicles and American soft drinks.

A random check showed that the Greek food was outdrawing the American fare by more than two to one.

The entertainers also included the Piraeus Dancers, Plaka Taverna entertainers and Balkanci dancers. Movies of Greece were shown at the Marin Veteran Memorial Auditorium at regular intervals both days.

Guilty Verdict Is Delivered

A College of Marin student has been convicted in Marin Superior Court of breaking into a doctor's office in Corte Madera March 5.

A jury before Judge Joseph G. Wilson deliberated for five hours before returning the verdict against Paul Frederick Mehrten, 23, of San Rafael.

The judge set sentencing for June 1 to obtain a probation report.

The youth was arrested when police answered a silent alarm and found Mehrten inside the office of Dr. Harold D. Lyons on Casa Buena Drive.

Young Goldwater Views Watergate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., said here he does not expect the Watergate incident to hurt GOP chances in the 1976 elections because "time heals lots of wounds."

Goldwater, here for an address Friday night, said "political espionage is part of the political game. You have to know what your opponent is doing."

Nader Claims Coverup On Defective Cadillacs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader's Center for Auto Safety has accused General Motors of trying to cover up a potential fire hazard in 275,000 Cadillacs built in 1969 and 1970.

In a letter to Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar, released Sunday, the Center said "at least 30 Cadillacs have burned to the ground" because of the defect. It said GM internal documents show there was "fear at GM middle management levels of informing Cadillac executives" of the fire hazard.

Lowell Dodge, director of the center, urged Brinegar to force General Motors to issue a recall notice. He said the danger was in a defective relay switch controlling the air conditioner-heater fan.

"GM's secret internal documents show the relays failed frequently, sometimes burning up much of the car's wiring and even the car itself," Dodge said.

A spokesman for GM denied there was any serious hazard or any cover-up, saying:

"The charge that 1969-70 Cadillacs have burned or could burn to the ground from the failure of the air conditioner high speed blower relay is completely unsubstantiated. There is no evidence in our files or in any files we know of that would support such an assertion."

MUSIC REVIEW

Blair, Tressel In Great Style

By MARTIN FRICK

Marin County music lovers had yet another opportunity to hear excellent ensemble playing of rarely-performed chamber music when pianist Ted Blair and violinist Willard Tressel gave an exciting performance last night of Camille Saint-Saens's Sonata in D minor, Opus 75 in Dominican College's Angelico Hall.

Although Saint-Saens (1835-1921) wrote several hundred music compositions, the main contact we have with him today are a few orchestral pieces, the opera "Samson and Delilah," and the popular two-piano sketches "Carnival of the Animals." Therefore, at least 100 people expressed hearty appreciation to last night's performers for tracking down and performing with great style the D minor Sonata.

In the first and last Allegro movements, Saint-Saens begins with agitated themes, only to dissolve them eventually into cantabile melodies, and Blair, chairman of Dominican's music department and the resolute source of proper style throughout the recital, was especially helpful to the violinist in maintaining the vivid contrast between the themes.

Tressel, violin teacher at the college and a physicist by profession, achieved his most perfect intonation of the evening in the adagio second movement. The most exciting moments were those sustained notes (after elaborate well-tuned passages) under which the piano eased in to fill out perfectly-tuned chords.

The two performers were most precisely coordinated in the third movement where they alternated thematic figures so perfectly that for the first note or two it was difficult to perceive where the violin left-off and the piano began, despite the obvious tone-color difference.

Following the piano's sensitive chordal interlude between the last two movements, Blair supported the violin's well-articulated spiccato theme with a firm two-note ostinato bass in the left hand against agitated chordal movements in the right hand. One of the remarkable characteristics of Blair's technique throughout the work were the cleanly articulated melodic or rhythmic figures that he brought out of the mass of full two-hand passages.

That precise articulation on the part of both performers made possible the thrilling Lisztian conclusion that brought them back to play for an encore Bloch's improvisation "Nigun," from Three Pictures of Chassidic Life. This was more Tressel's piece, and he did it full justice both in expression and melody.

Beethoven's famous "Kreutzer" Sonata in A Major, Op. 47 had opened the program, and while it gave the two instrumentalists an opportunity to display their easy facility in bringing out the dramatic qualities of a work — they are fearless in attacking fiery passages — it took until the second Adagio-with-variations movement before we could begin to relax with their coordination and the violinist's intonation. The middle variations were the best, piano and violin each playing the decorated patterns, then supporting or accompaning the other.

Rainbow Players Make Good Debut

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

A new Marin theatrical group —the Rainbow Players — made its debut during the weekend in Mill Valley.

And it is indeed a pleasure to welcome the exuberant troupe to the North Bay theatrical scene.

The company's opener was "The Roar of the Greasepaint, the Smell of the Crowd," a tough little musical comedy. And on Friday night the group attacked the tuneful Anthony-Newley-Leslie Bricusse play with a lot of vigor and bounce.

Bringing alive the play, dubbed the "musical game of life," was Dr. F. Thomas Shipp of Larkspur in the role of Cocky, a nice little guy who always manages to be on the losing end. Shipp has a very pleasing voice and was most convincing in the melodic ballad, "Who Can I Turn To," the most notable song from the musical's vast repertory.

Mark O'Brien of Mill Valley is cast in the role of Sir, the musical's protagonist who uses Cocky as his baffoon. His timing and style of delivery matched Shipp's resourcefulness on opening night.

Donna Gubbons of San Francisco made an ideal "Kid." She was something right out of Dickens' "Oliver Twist."

Adding sparkle to the evening's entertainment were the company's dance ensemble, the Urchins, a nice little group with good voices and plenty of bounce in the choreography —a credit to James Piersall, head of the Mill Valley Ballet Center.

Pulling the musical together was Kristi LaBianca, who carries the weighty title of producer, director and head of a small group of accompanying musicians. Her little orchestra is by no means a polished unit, but the teen-aged musicians knew their score well.

The musical is being presented in the Masonic Hall on Corte Madera Avenue. It was amazing to see the cast shuffle in and out and back and forth in the small confines without falling over one another.

In such a limited area, the company was wise in selecting an in-the-round format with the simplest of props. The colorful costumes and the freshness of the cast more than made up for fancier digs.

The presentation is a good spring tonic. It will be presented again Friday and Saturday, 8 p.m.; Sunday, 3 p.m., and at the same times the following weekend.

"THE ROAR OF THE GREASEPAINT, THE SMELL OF THE CROWD" — A two-act musical comedy by Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse. Presented by the Rainbow Players. Board Asked For Adviser Nominations

Marin County supervisors have been asked to nominate four local residents — two of whom will be chosen — to serve on an advisory commission for the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

County supervisors earlier had sought to place eight to ten nominees on the 15-member commission, which will be named by the Secretary of the Interior.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors also has been asked to submit names for two seats on the commissions.

The People for a Golden Gate National Recreation Area, organizers and supporters of the new federal park stretching from San Francisco to Olema, have been asked for names for five slots.

The Association of Bay Area Governments and the East Bay Regional Park District will have one each and the Secretary of the Interior will name the remaining four.

The commission, expected to meet six times a year, will advise on policy, planning and development of the recreation area. It will go out of business on Oct. 26, 1982.

Plea Made To Theft Of Car

A 19-year-old San Franciscan, said to have stolen a 1956 convertible, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Preliminary hearing for Thomas M. Ver was set for May 17.

At 6 a.m. April 28, a Sausalito policeman ran a check on the buick driven by Ver because it contained several suspicious-looking juveniles near the Spinnaker restaurant.

The computer check revealed the car was reported stolen April 22 from Stephen Rush of Santa Rosa, police said.

Coordinator For Crafts Chosen

Jack Haehl of Corte Madera, chairman of the art department at Terra Linda High School, has been named to coordinate the crafts program at the Marin County Fair, scheduled for Aug. 30 to Sept. 3.

Haehl, who coordinated the crafts at last year's fair, urged craftsmen in all media — leather, cloth, jewelry, metal, ceramics and others — to contact the fair office at Civic Center to apply for the 1973 fair.

Bridges To Lead Study Of China Labor System

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dockworker leader Harry Bridges will lead a union delegation to Peking to study China's labor system, which was recently reorganized by the Communist Party.

Bridges told delegates to the 20th biennial convention of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Saturday that a seven-member study team would depart for China following new labor contracts negotiations, which begin in a few months.

His proposal to lead the delegation to Peking was approved after the convention unanimously reelected Bridges to another two-year term as ILWU president.

Marijuana Unit Closing Doors From Fund Lack

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Robert Ashford, state coordinator for the California Marijuana Initiative, today announced that the organization is closing its doors for lack of funds. "California Marijuana Initiative" (CMI) is the initiative organization that qualified and campaigned for Proposition 19 on the November 1972 ballot.

Proposition 19 called for decriminalization of personal use and cultivation of marijuana as opposed to legalization of sales. The proposition was defeated by a 2-1 margin, but scored more than 2.6 million yes votes at the polls.

Ashford traced the organization's money problems to its opposition to legalization, or legalized sales, because "all the big money in the marijuana reform movement favors legalization." He said national legalization interests had simply "steamrolled the California decriminalization organization out of existence."

Report Hit By Mazda Officials

COMPTON, Calif. (UPI) — Officials at Mazda Motors dispute a report that their rotary engine develops more major problems than conventional engines.

A survey research team headed by David Power said that one in five Mazda owners they contacted said that their cars went "boing, boing instead of hmmm" after 30,000 miles.

Power, whose study focused on 600 cars bought in the United States before October, 1971, said the findings "signal a need for a longer look at the consumer acceptability of the Mazda powerplant under U.S. driving conditions."

His firm said Sunday that after the same amount of mileage that five or ten per cent of conventional engines will show power plant problems, half the Mazda rate.

C.R. Brown, general manager of Mazda Motors of America, said the frequency of problems in the new rotary engine is far lower than the Power survey shows.

Brown said some 90,000 Mazdas have been bought since they were introduced to the United States in 1970, and that only 190 of the owners surveyed had more than 30,000 miles on their cars—and 40 reported engine problems.

Power's conclusion is "a pretty grandiose statement based on just 40 cars," the Mazda official said.

The research team, J.D. Power and Associates, said the most frequent problem was failure of "0" rings, a type of seal which, among other things, prevents water from escaping the Mazda cooling system.

McGovern Reported To Dislike Eagleton

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern "never liked" his onetime running mate, Sen. Thomas Eagleton, and was so dejected after losing last year's presidential election he considered moving to England, according to an article in Sunday's New York Times Magazine.

McGovern said the article, by Joe McGinnis, author of the best-selling "The Selling of the President," was a "disreputable and shoddy piece of journalism ... full of innacurate and fabricated quotations."

In the article, McGovern was quoted as saying Eagleton was "the one guy I didn't know at all. And the funny thing is, I never liked him."

Eagleton, who resigned from the ticket after disclosures he had been hospitalized for nervous exhaustion, said in reference to McGovern's denial, "Of course, I believe George. Therefore, any comment from me on statements that were not made and do not reflect his true feelings would be pointless."

McGinnis said he spoke with McGovern as the defeated Democratic candidate relaxed over a vodka and tonic one night in a motel room in Brookings, S.D. He quoted McGovern as saying:

"I didn't like him (Eagleton) one bit. He had always seemed superficial to me. He had no diginity, no reserve. And there was always this nervousness about him. He seemed like a real Junior-Chamber-of-Commerce type."

McGovern reportedly added that Eagleton "never would show me the medical reports" about his illness.

According to the article, McGovern said he was "very, very tempted" to move to England after the election.

"My wife really wanted to go. To get away from all of it. To leave it all behind forever," he was quoted as saying.

He added that he didn't move because of "the thought of how guilty I'd feel a few months later about having run away and left behind those two million people who'd worked for me. I guess I felt I owed it to them to stay."

McGinnis pictured McGovern as generally dejected since the election, and quoted him as saying his wife, Eleanor, was especially hard hit by the resounding defeat at the polls.

Seattle Facing Lack Of Water

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Seattle is the city where it rains all the time, right? Wrong.

Seattlites, who were laughing last winter when they found that most of their rain had gone to Northern California, are less cheerful at discovering that rainy Seattle may soon have a water shortage.

"It's too early to tell for sure," said water superintendant Kenneth Lowthian. "But the extremely low snowpack on the city's two watersheds combined with a dry summer could put the city's water supply in a critical condition."

DRAMA REVIEW

'Butterflies' Pokes Fun But Is Serious

By KAY KSANDA

Underneath all the roaring laughter and snappy patter this weekend in the presentation of the hit comedy "Butterflies Are Free," there was a strong thread of elemental drama.

The jokes and situations were very funny, but the characters themselves could have been out of a Greek drama instead of a 1970 contemporary play.

Instead of the usual Neil Simon comedy, the Actors Playhouse of Marin offered this plot by Leonard Gershe about a blind man with a possessive mother. And what's funny about that?

Quite a lot! So much so, that after a special showing for all the guests at Guide Dogs for the Blind, the audience stopped laughing long enough to plead with the cast to tape it so they can spread it around.

The story is about what happens when Mama from Scarsdale drops in unannounced upon her "Little Donny" in his flat in New York. She catches him and the swinging blond from next door in a compromising situation. Mama is outraged, furious, and frosty.

Most of her sarcasm is directed at her enemy, the beautiful Jill, played by Stephanie Nicol. Jill has identified herself as a divorcee, and an actress.

"How nice," purrs Mrs. Baker, "Might I have seen you in anything besides your underwear?"

Unable to penetrate the crust upon Jill, she tyrannizes her son about the appearance of his living quarters, and finally plays her trump card: she will no longer support him.

Undaunted, he replies to the complaint that he doesn't care how his place looks, because he can't see it anyway. As far as the money, he says that he can always walk the streets with a tin cup.

What makes this story good is that eventually real feelings show through all the insults. Everybody really cares about each other, and in their own way all are trying to help.

The cast is fine, and the direction by Addyse Lane Palagyi is skillfull. The pace is fast, and the set is adequate.

Gene Nelson as Don Baker steps up from his usual character as a comedy-hero and is quite true as the blind man reaching for his own sense of confidence and self-worth. Stephanie Nicol as Jill is simple and clear, and Jane Watts as Mrs. Baker is a real top actress with a delicious sense of timing and presence.

Terry McGovern as Ralph (a wheeler-dealer director) was a nice surprise. His shift from fey comedy parts to an almost sleezy guy was a good experience for him and the audience.

As far as the audience was concerned, it was a fun play and a good evening; and Jill looked better in her underwear than Don.

The show will only run for one more weekend at the Miller Creek School Auditorium (off Las Gallinas Road in Lucas Valley), next Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

"BUTTERFLIES ARE FREE" — A two act comedy by Leonard Gershe, produced by Robert Boyden, and directed by Addyse Lane Palagyi. Assistant producer, Peggy Boyden; script, Elizabeth Ripp; stage manager, Manny Miro; lights, Jim Loomis; set, Western Services; set consultant, Gari Gareis; props, Sharon Gallagher; music by Henry Chazakin. Cast: Don Baker, Gene Nelson; Jill Tanner, Stephanie Saunders Nicol; Mrs. Baker, Jane Watts; Ralph Austin, Terry McGovern.

Berkeley Police Ignore Protest

BERKELEY (UPI) — About 100 young persons sat across from City Hall Sunday and puffed what they said were marijuana cigarettes to protest a court order blocking the enforcement of the recently passed Berkeley marijuana initiative.

"I would estimate that we have smoked a total of 250 joints here," said protest organizer Tom Accinelli.

Some of the youths in the protest at Civic Center Park sat on a wall on which the words "Beer and Weed is All You Need" had been painted.

No arrests were reported.

"We have more pressing problems," said a Berkeley officer in police department headquarters in City Hall.

"We're not concerned with a bunch of people who want to create a confrontation."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Better Find Hay Fever Cause Before Having Nose Operation

A woman from North Carolina writes: "My daughter has hay fever, and I think the constant blowing has broadened her nose. A sort of beak has formed at its tip. Now she wants to have plastic surgery on it. Do you think it is advisable, even though she suffers from hay fever? She is quite unhappy about her features, and this is making her self-conscious."

Her concern is understandable. Teenagers abhor any defects that set them apart or make them unattractive. Cosmetic surgery can correct the abnormality, but until she attains full growth, the cause must be considered first.

IF WE ASSUME that the nasal defect stems from "blowing the nose constantly," there is no sense in doing anything until the sniffling is eradicated. Otherwise she would soon acquire a beak at the tip of her new nose. The first step is to find and eliminate the cause of the hay fever. Again, we must assume that this condition has been thoroughly investigated by a physician who specializes in these problems.

Finally, surgery is not advisable if the defect is slight and there is reason to believe that this girl has a personality problem which she is blaming on her nose.

P. V. writes: "Do you believe in reincarnation?" This is not a medical question, but I must answer, "sure." I feel the same as an English general practitioner who reached this conclusion after watching infants in a baby clinic. He noted that they come in two varieties.

FIRST ARE the babies who gaze at you with big, round open eyes and a look of continual surprise. They are seeing everything in God's world for the first time. They are surprised and mystified at this strange place.

The second variety is the baby who looks at his surroundings through half-closed eyes. It is almost as if he has seen it before, and has that "you can't fool me" expression. These kiddies are second-time 'rounders and "proof" of reincarnation.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal.

HOMEWORK

Tommie writes: I'm in sixth grade and would like you to send me information on the five senses — sight, sound, smell, taste, and touch. I need this for an assignment.

REPLY

Sorry, we have no printed material on this subject. The senses are the major outposts of the body that keep it informed about the outside environment. In general, sight and sound deal with communications, smell and taste are intimately related to the gastrointestinal system, and touch is projective.

PSYCHIATRIC HELP

J. E. writes: Are there any diagnostic psychological tests to determine whether a person needs psychiatric help?

REPLY

Yes, but they are not a substitute for a thorough discussion with the patient and his friends regarding his behavior, thoughts, and relationships with others.

OBSERVATION

W. A. writes: A laboratory technician told me my veins are knotted. What did she mean?

REPLY

All veins have valves that may look like knots. Beyond this, the statement makes no sense to me.

Diagnosis needed

A reader writes: Except for a short stay in the hospital, a friend has not been out of the house since last December. She is getting worse all the time. X-rays showed a diseased gallbladder, so she was put on a bland diet. But she still has pain, sometimes very severe. The doctor told her to go to bed when she has pain, so she spends most of her time in bed. When up, she is unsteady on her feet and has fallen many times. Now her husband says she can't get up at all. I understood that an infected gallbladder must come out. Am I wrong?

REPLY

You are right, provided the diagnosis was correct. A consultation is suggested because an infected gallbladder does not make a person an invalid.

Rheumatism

S. W. writes: Mother tells me that, as a child, I was sick with what was called inflammatory rheumatism. Was this what is now called rheumatic fever?

REPLY

Your guess is as good as mine. Years ago these conditions were difficult to tell apart. But if you have no residual changes, why rack your brain trying to figure out what you had as a child?

SQUELCH BELCH

E. H. writes: We all know how dangerous it would be if smoke could not come out of a chimney or exhaust out of a car. So why not let a belch come out — rather than get a stomach ulcer or cancer?

REPLY

Speak for yourself. Smoke and exhausts are waste products of combustion. Humans have other ways of disposing of their wastes. Furthermore, nothing would happen to the human body if the person never belched. Gassiness comes from swallowed air or is generated by the chemical action of foods. Most of the gas is absorbed or passed along through the intestines. But despite all of this, many people live by the dictum: "Better out than in."

LIGHT WORK

H. W. writes: I am a 59-year-old widow with high blood pressure and an enlarged heart. What kind of work will I be able to do?

REPLY

Twenty years ago I would have said, "Ordinary housework, so long as it involves little or no stress, excitement, or reponsibility." But nowadays we have several good medicines that lower the blood pressure, and you should be able to do almost anything.

ENCEPHALITIS

M. N. writes: How would a woman of 75 get encephalitis?

REPLY

Fron an infected person or animal. Encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) is caused by a variety of viruses and bacteria, many of which are contagious. Age is no barrier.

AFTER PLEURISY

P. Y. writes: Do residual lung scars remain after an attack of pleurisy?

REPLY

Scarring may follow an attack of pleurisy, as evidenced by X-rays taken months or years later. They are harmless.

ANTIBIOTICS MISUSE

A reader writes: Please discuss purchasing antibiotics indiscriminately over the counter. I foolishly bought a well-advertised brand for sore throat and suffered for four days from swollen tongue and runny nose. Thank goodness, I took only four tablets.

REPLY

You picked a loser, but you are lucky the allergic reaction was not more severe. I hope others will profit from your story because colds do not respond to these drugs and are not serious enough to risk the use of a potentially dangerous product.

Policeman Injured In Scuffle

Corte Madera police officer Andre Horn was treated for a back injury after a fight with a youth he was attempting to arrest in the parking lot of Cinema I Theater early Saturday.

Corte Madera police said today Horn was reported to be suffering a pinched nerve, but was not hospitalized.

Police were called to the parking lot at 1 a.m. after teenagers were seen breaking into parked cars. They found two youths inside different cars, and while one halted on orders, the other ran away.

Police said Horn chased one youth 100 yards, ending with a fight on the ground near the patrol car. During the scuffle Horn's back was injured, his knees and hands were cut and his uniform pants torn.

While the two suspects were being transported to Juvenile Hall, one hit Horn on the jaw with his handcuffed hands, and inside the hall, they again attacked an officer, kicking him in the groin.

Names of the juveniles were withheld on standing orders of Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Fireworks For Sally's Birthday

Sausalito City Councilman Sally Stanford had a spectacular 70th birthday Saturday night as a barge, towed near her Valhalla Restaurant, put on a huge fireworks display.

Miss Stanford was dining with Sausalito city officials, chamber of commerce officers and friends at 9 p.m. when the fireworks were set off.

As part of the display of skyrockets and exploding fireworks, a green message spelled out "Hi Sally." Then there was the outline of a birthday cake with a sparkler for a candle.

Miss Stanford, ex-madam, restauranteur, rancher and author, took it all with a hearty laugh.

The display of fireworks came as a surprise. Traffic was stopped on Bridgeway as drivers stopped to watch.

Two Cyclists Hurt At Curve

Two persons, one a Mill Valley youth, were injured yesterday in separate motorcycle crashes within 10 minutes of each other on the same curve on Shoreline Highway near Marshall, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Thomas Sherlock, 19, of 7 Homestead Boulevard, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma for injuries to his right leg.

Thomas Decker, 34, of San Francisco, was reported in good condition at the same hospital after suffering internal injuries.

The highway patrol said both men were driving too fast to negotiate a turn about 500 feet north of the Marshall-Petaluma Road and careened off the highway into an open field.

Decker was injured at 5:20 p.m. and Sherlock at 5:30 p.m., the patrol said.

$20,000 In Pledges From Walking, Biking

The second annual walk-a-thon and bike-a-thon yesterday produced pledges of $20,000, according to Virgil S. Hollis, campaign chairman for the North Bay March of Dimes Chapter.

Some 500 walkers and bicyclists, participated, he said, compared to last year's 300 persons who raised about $14,000, he said.

Entrants could take a 20-mile hike starting at Fort Baker going through Golden Gate Park, or a 40-mile route from Fort Baker to and around Lake Merced.

Of those entering, about two thirds rode bicycles and one-third walked.

Three students from Adaline E. Kent upper school compromised and roller skated the 20 miles instead of walking. Skaters were Kathy Bursch, Jane Marchant and Gail Moore.

Hill Junior High School in Novato became the largest single group when a rented bus took about 60 students to the starting point. A truck followed with the student's bicycles.

Greg Bonds and John Rucker from Hill Junior High School were the first two to complete the bicycle ride, leaving at 8:15 and returning at 11:15 a.m.

A poop-out truck made the rounds to see if anyone gave out on the walk or bike ride. It did no business, Hollis said.

An unplanned ending to the walk and ride came when The Doppler Effect, a rock group from Tamalpais High School, went to Fort Baker and played for about 200 studnets after the walk and ride.

The San Rafael Lions Club and North Marin Kiwanis Club, manned the check stations along both routes.

Petaluma City Clerk To Retire

Petaluma City Clerk Lillian Nommsen, announced her retirement today to become effective on Aug. 1.

Mrs. Nommsen said her resignation will be officially presented to the city council tonight. She has been a city employee for 20 years and has served as city clerk for nine years.

Two Booked In Drugs Possession

Two men were arrested on suspicion of narcotics violations after a high-speed auto chase today on Highway 101 by the California Highway Patrol.

Blair William Guthrie, 28, of Littleton, and Edward DeWayne Snead, 29, of El Sobrante, were booked on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs and possession of dangerous drugs for sale and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Guthrie also was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol.

Both were released on $2,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Officers said they pursued the men's auto at speeds of more than 100 miles per hour before overtaking it and pulling it over south of Novato at about 12:10 a.m. The CHP said the chase began when the car was seen traveling erratically on Highway 101 near Marinwood.

Officers reported they found a hypodermic needle, a kit for making capsules and 10 pills suspected of containing amphetamines in the men's car.

Two Bel Marin Keys Youths Hurt In Crash

Two Bel Marin Keys youths were injured, one critically, last night when a car struck a bridge and went down an embankment off Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, south of Hamilton Drive.

Novato police arrested the driver, Joseph T. O'Neill, 38, of 40-2 Moraga Avenue, San Francisco, on suspicion of felony drunken driving.

Stephen Nicholas Coleman, 14, of 176 Montego Key Boulevard, a passenger in the rear seat, suffered head injuries and was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital.

Gary Elliott Simmons, 12, of 927 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, a passenger in the right front seat, who suffered a fractured left leg and facial fractures, was reported in satisfactory condition today in the intensive care unit at Novato General Hospital.

Officers said O'Neill's southbound car skidded 183 feet, hit the Arroyo Bridge and came to rest eight feet down the embankment on the east side of the boulevard at 6:35 p.m.

O'Neill was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and a cut chin and transferred to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco. He was released under his own recognizance and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court May 11, police reported.

Two Knives Get $113

Two men armed with knives took $113 from a San Rafael man after threatening him in his home last Thursday, San Rafael police reported today.

Anthony Louis Cabella of 43 Crescent Drive told officers Saturday that two men came to his home at about 11 p.m. Thursday and demanded that he cash a check for them, police said. The men then left with a guest at the home, police said.

The pair later returned and burst into a bedroom where Cabella and several friends were dividing drugs bought earlier, according to police. One of the men hit Cabella several times and the pair fled after robbing him of $113 at knifepoint, police said.

LAST LOOK — Rosamond Day of San Rafael, savoring the last Stinson Beach Wildflower Show which ended yesterday, studied the California poppy through a magnifying glass. The show, an annual event in Stinson Beach for the past 15 years, this year featured 350 varieties of wildflowers gathered from every wild corner of the state by three Stinson Beach women who decided the 1973 show will be the last.

Murderer Reported Captured

A murderer who walked away from San Quentin Prison last November has been captured by Los Angeles police, a prison official said today.

In custody again was Brian Bernier, 30, who failed to show up for a head count when he was assigned to a construction crew working outside the prison gates.

Prison information officer Lee De Bord said Bernier had been captured once in the meantime by the Glendale police but had escaped again.

He did not know the circumstances of Bernier's most recent arrest.

The convict was serving sentences in connection with the murder of a clerk during a liquor store holdup in Los Angeles. He came to San Quentin in 1968.

Man Is Facing Burglary Count

Charles L. Berry, 22, of 221 Keokuk Street, Petaluma, was arrested Friday on suspicion of burglary at a doctor's office and possesssion of marijuana.

Berry was booked into Sonoma County Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said Berry apparently entered the office of Dr. George Flynn at 135 Keller Street through a second floor window at 9:30 p.m. Flynn, who was working in the office at the time, chased the intruder out of the building and alerted police, who stopped Berry in a nearby alley.

Bolinas Group Seeking Resident Deputy Sheriff

Bolinas Property Owners Association members voted nearly unanimously last night to ask the county board of supervisors for resident deputy sheriffs, several commenting that resident deputies would improve response time and would have close knowledge of the community. (Another association story, page 1.)

Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini requested support for the program, but warned that the chief problem was additional expense in increasing the 11 officers who now patrol West Marin to a number closer to 30.

Under the current system, he explained, the 11 west Marin deputies operate in three shifts as "floaters" who can respond anywhere in the area.

When the resident system was tried earlier, he said officers complained they were on call 24 hours a day. As a result, the sheriff's department felt that there should be sufficient residents to allow for shifts.

An exchange indicating the temper of some members occurred as a man said a "hippie" had entered his back door at night while he and his wife were watching television.

"You should have shot him" said a male voice from the rear of the room.

"Next time I'll have his guts hanging on the wall, you can bet" responded the first speaker. A spatter of applause followed his retort, but one man put his hands over his face and murmured, "My God."

The so-called "hippie" claimed he was looking for someone in Point Reyes Station said the speaker, and sheriff's deputies arrived two hours later.

More then 70 persons attended the meeting.

The Bolinas Property Owners Association also:

MEMBERSHIP — Heard from treasurer Glen G. Slater that the group now has 346 members, with $1,852 in the bank.

BEACH — Approved a motion asking county supervisors to extend the mounted patrol of local beach to include weekdays as well as weekends.

PLANNING — Voted 29 to 23 against holding a joint meeting with the Bolinas Planning Group to give comments on a proposed local plan. Opponents argued it was a "dangerous move" which would lend "the history and credence of our organization to the planning group."

Growth Petition On Agenda

A petition signed by residents concerned with a fast growth rate will be presented at the Rohnert Park City Council meeting at 7 p.m. today.

Christine Compton is scheduled to present the council with a petition urging them to consider the crowded school conditions, along with a slower city growth rate.

Two Booked In Theft Suspicion

Two 16-year-old Marin County youths were booked into Marin Juvenile Hall Saturday on suspicion of burglary following an attempt to take camera equipment from the photo lab at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, police reported today.

Police said a night watchman at the school saw two boys running from the lab at about 9:34 p.m. Saturday, and reported that a window had been smashed but nothing taken.

Police said they found one of the boys amid a group of youths in a house on San Anselmo Avenue after he stepped outside carrying two canvas bags, and said the boy implicated an acquaintance.

Identities of the pair — one who lives in Ross, the other who listed both Fairfax and San Anselmo addresses — were withheld on a standing order of Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

2 Inmates Get Hour Of Freedom

Two San Quentin inmates had about an hour's freedom Saturday night before they were arrested by San Rafael police.

Officer of the day I. O. Ritter said that the two were reported missing about 9 p.m. and arrested about 10 p.m. by San Rafael police who had a report of two men trying to break into cars at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

The inmates are Charles L. Pacchetti, 30, serving a five-years-to-life sentence from San Bernardino County, for armed robbery and Jose Romo, 41, serving the same length sentence for selling narcotics in Los Angeles County. Pacchetti has been in San Quentin since March 1971 and Romo since October 1970.

Project Will Affect Traffic

A project in progress on Highway 101 which will alter traffic patterns or affect the flow of traffic tomorrow was announced by the State Division of Highways.

The section of the freeway involved is:

The northbound lanes on either side of the Richardson Bay bridge to be paved between 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. if the temperature permits. Two lanes will be open at all times.

The Wildflower Show— Biggest, Best And Last

By PAUL LIBERATORE

"The biggest and the best Stinson Beach Wildflower Show," beamed Roberta Shockey. And the last.

Just as certainly as wildflowers bloom in the spring, for the past 15 years Mrs. Shockey, Anne E. Leary and Barbara Menzies have brought them back to Stinson Beach for the annual show, which has become a tradition in the seaside town.

And why is such a hallowed tradition being abandoned?

"Because we're tired," cried Mrs. Shockey and Mrs. Menzies in unison as they greeted some of the 2,000 flower lovers who passed through the door of the community center Saturday during the two-day event, which was to end yesterday — forever.

"After 15 years of stopping the car, climbing the barbed wire fence, picking the flowers and then driving off again, we're through," Mrs. Shockey said.

As the women spoke, hundreds of showgoers bent over tables heavy with bright blossoms collected from the Oregon-California line to the Mexican border and east to Las Vegas.

This year, especially bountiful because of heavy winter rains, the trio traveled a total of 7,000 miles and collected about 350 varietes of flowers and plants.

There were orange California poppies that occupied an honored vase by the front door, hulking pitcher plants from the forests of Humboldt County, tiny red "firecracker flowers" from the grassy slopes of Mendocino and fluffy, white "winter fat" from the Mojave Desert.

Of special interest were two varieties of bear poppies, one kind white and one yellow.

"This is the first time they have ever been shown together anywhere," said Mrs. Shockey proudly.

Two botanists worked to identify the hundreds of blossoms: John T. Howell, curator emeritus of the California Academy of Science in San Francisco, and Mrs. Shockey, Mrs. Menzies and Mrs. Leary.

"The three of us make one good botanist," Mrs. Shockey explained.

The three founders of the show escaped to sip tea in the community center kitchen as old women in hiking shoes and orange Sierra Club packs, young couples carrying babies strapped to their backs and scholarly-looking wildflower students with magnifying glasses and notepads buzzed among the blossoms like bees.

Money from this year's show will defray the women's car and lodging expenses, the surplus going to community center improvements, this year a new sprinkling system, Mrs. Menzies said.

Sixteen years ago, the women took in the Monterey flower show, thought they could do better, and headed out on the first of 15 tradition-making journeys into every wild corner of the state.

"The best part has been the enjoyment we have given people," Mrs. Menzies said, putting down a leather-bound wildflower handbook she had been thumbing.

"We thought of it, started it, finished it and now we're putting it to bed," Mrs. Shockey said, waving a plump hand in a fond farewell to the last Stinson Beach Wildflower Show.

Trumps Have To Be Played Safely To Assure Contract

In a familiar psychology test, students are asked to describe in words an eight-ounce glass that contains four ounces of liquid. The optimists say the glass is half full; the pessimists say it is half empty. In the same way, bridge players sort themselves out as either optimists or pessimists when a high trump drops.

FINAL CONTRACT

The scene was a match between England and Wales, not long ago. At both tables the final contract and opening lead were the same.

The English declarer took the first trick with the ace of clubs and promptly led out the ace of hearts. When West dropped the jack of hearts, our English friend continued with the king of hearts, hoping to capture the queen of hearts too.

This optimistic play sealed South's doom. East was now sure to win two trump tricks, just enough to defeat the contract.

AVERTS DISASTER

The Welsh declarer observed the same facts but took a pessimistic view. After the first two tricks, he worried about the trump situation. Instead of leading out the king of hearts, he led a low trump. Dummy's ten lost to East's queen.

East returned a club and West took two tricks in that suit. South ruffed the next club and got to dummy with a diamond to return a trump. South had the K-8 over East's 9-7, so he was able to draw the trumps without further loss. He then had enough top cards to take the rest of the tricks.

OPTIMISTIC PLAY

The first declarer's optimistic play would have been justified if his contract had been five hearts since then he would need good luck with the trumps to make his rather foolish contract. Since the contract was only four hearts, the second declarer was right. He could afford to lose one trump trick but was right in not risking the loss of two trumps.

Applicants may apply in person at the prison's personnel office no later than 4 p.m. May 21, according to information officer L.E. DeBord.

The Dixie School District board will consider a recommendation Wednesday that 14 teachers and one speech therapist be laid off because of declining enrollment.

The board, meeting at 8 p.m. at the administration office, is expected to answer a proposal from teachers that the excess teachers share assignments with fellow teachers.

The district's superintendent has recommended against such action and instead urged the board not to rehire the 15 employees.

The board also is expected to review a proposed budget for fiscal 1973-74 and discuss the impact of S.B. 90, the state's property tax reform law.

Plush Plane Probe Asked By Proxmire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says the Air Force is spending $430,000 to turn a military jet airplane into an upholstered, blue carpeted "flying playboy penthouse" for VIP's.

He wants the General Accounting Office (GAO) to investigate.

"To date I have been able to confirm that this C135 (a jet transport) has been given a new exterior skin, a paint job, and that there are plans for a complete redesign of the interior including refrigerator, self-cleaning range with oven, large tables with formica tops, soundproofing, reupholstered chairs, and a specified blue carpet throughout," Proxmire said Sunday.

He said he has heard, but has not yet confirmed, that the aircraft, which is located at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio., will also have "three bathrooms, completely new kitchen, trash compactor, stereo system, 14-foot freezer and a bar."

Lusitania Said Transporting Weapons

NEW YORK (UPI) — A British journalist claims the liner Lusitania, sunk 58 years ago by a German submarine, was carrying troops and ammunition to England and was not the innocent victim propaganda of the time proclaimed it to be.

The Cunard liner sank only 18 minutes after it was torpedoed off Ireland May 7, 1915. Of those aboard, 1,201 died and 764 were saved.

Colin Simpson, who works for The Sunday Times of London, said in his book "Lusitania," published today by Little, Brown and Co., ($8.95), there was a major conspiracy involving both the United States and Britain to cover up the fact the Lusitania was involved in the war effort.

Among those involved, he said, were Winston Churchill, then First Lord of the British Admiralty, U.S. customs collector Dudley Field Malone, in New York, who permitted the ship to carry contraband for the British war effort, and State Department counsellor Robert Lansing, who was aware the ship was carrying contraband but, acting against the policy of Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, covered up the fact in order to put the United States into the war on the side of Britain.

Simpson said that after the 760-foot liner, known as the "Greyhound of the Seas," was sunk, both U.S. and English boards of inquiry purposely buried facts showing the vessel carried arms, ammunition and Canadian troops.

The sinking was made out to be an action of "German barbarism" and as such played a great part in bringing the United States into the war on the side of Britain.

The facts, however, show the Lusitania was "fair game" for the German U-boats, Simpson said. He added that there were a number of warnings the ship might be attacked, including an attempt by German-Americans to publish newspaper ads warning American passengers. He said the State Department discouraged newspapers from publishing them.

Simpson said the new information is based on extensive research into previously secret government documents and private memoirs.

Spanish Demonstrators Demand That Franco Fire Government

MADRID (UPI) — Thousands of right-wing demonstrators roamed downtown Madrid today demanding that Generalissimo Francisco Franco fire his government and put the army in power.

The demonstrators carried banners reading "Government Resign," but made clear they meant the cabinet by shouting "Franco si —government no."

The marchers, estimated at 5,000 by witnesses, also attacked the hierarchy of Spain's Roman Catholic Church. One banner asked that Cardinal Vicente Tarancon, the liberal-minded archbishop of Madrid, be put "to the wall"—sent to the firing squad.

The demonstration was the latest symptom of right-wing unrest over leftist and liberal activity. One policeman was slain and several injured in a May Day clash in Madrid.

Police made no effort to stop the match even though the cabinet said after a special session last week it was determinted to guarantee order.

The demonstrators also chanted "Iniesta to power." Gen. Carlos Iniesta, commander of the paramilitary Guardia Civil police, is one of Spain's most outspoken rightists.

With police and Guardia Civil still inactive, the demonstrators marched to the headquarters of the military commander of the Madrid region shouting "The army to power,""government resign," "Franco yes—government no," and "Falange yes—Opus no."

Gasoline Shortage Closing Stations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government figures show that 342 gasoline stations—mostly in the Midwest and Southeast—have been forced to shut down due to the shortage of gasoline, according to Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis.

Aspin, who said he obtained the statistics from the Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP), said the fuel crisis also threatens to drive out of business another 930 stations. He said the government figures represented "just the tip of the iceberg."

TWO GAMES, ONE FIGHT

Giants Sweep 3 From Chicago

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants are claiming a clean sweep of a Sunday "triple-header" with the Chicago Cubs at Candlestick Park.

There is no doubt they won the two baseball games—11-9 in the first on a 12th inning home run by Bobby Bonds and 4-3 in the second with the help of clutch relief pitching by Sam McDowell.

Manager Charlie Fox of the Giants also is claiming a TKO in the free for all which halted the first game for 15 minutes in the fourth inning.

"They had to help one of their guys off the field. None of our guys got hurt," Fox said.

The brawl broke out after a bean ball match between the Giants' Jim Barr and Chicago pitcher Milt Pappas.

Before it was over there were individual fights all over the field. As a result four participants were ejected from the game and three ended up in the hospital.

Barr and Pappas were kicked out for throwing at batters and Cub manager Whitey Lockman and Coach Hank Aguirre were tossed out for arguing.

The most seriously injured was Cub coach Pete Reiser who was acting as a peacemaker. He was hit from behind by someone's elbow and knocked unconscious near home plate.

He was taken from the field on a stretcher and was held overnight for observation at St. Luke's Hospital.

"That ended the fight right there," Fox said of the injury to the 55-year-old Reiser.

But before that the fight was a goodie. Jack Aker of the Cubs and Bobby Bonds of the Giants each got in some good shots and Barr and Cub catcher Randy Hundley got in a shoving match.

Bonds had the last word in his battle with Aker. He hit his game winning homer off him.

"I wasn't trying to hit anyone," Barr said afterward. "I was just trying to pitch tight to Santo."

Pappas claimed the ball was slippery when he sailed one pitch over Barr's head and the hit him with another.

On the pitch over Barr's head, Dave Rader of the Giants scored all the way from first base. The Cubs protested the game on the basis that time should have been called when players from both teams swarmed on the field.

Hundley claimed Barr elbowed him after being hit by the pitch but Barr said it was accidental.

The game was almost incidental. The Giants had three homers including a three-run shot by Dave Kingman who drove in five runs. The victory went to Don Carrithers who blanked the Cubs for the final two innings.

Jim Willoughby was the winner in the second game although he needed ninth inning relief help from both Elias Sosa and Sam McDowell.

McDowell was called in to face pinch-hitter Jim Hickman with two outs in the ninth inning.

"I told the catcher to forget about signals. It was him against me." McDowell said.

McDowell struck out Hickman on three pitches.

The Giants, who increased their National League West lead to two full games over the Houston Astros, take a break from the pennant race today to play an exhibition game against Santa Clara University.

They open a three game series with the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night with Juan Marichal (4-2) pitching against Bob Gibson (1-3).

San Rafael's Henry Wins 1st Masters Bowling Tournament

By RON LENT

"This is the first time I've won (a Master's tournament) and I've been bowling in them for five years, San Rafael's Ed Henry said last night after winning the 12th annual Marin County Men's Bowling Association Master's tournament at Greenbrae Lanes before about 200 applauding fans.

The 31-year-old plumber edged Mill Valley's Rich Leesman, first in the matchplay semi-finals after rolling a 3,628 in 15 games; Henry, fifth in the semis, picked up nine pins on his 11th ball to nip the fast-charging Leesman, 227-225. Ironically, the pair met at the opening game of the semis Saturday night and Henry prevailed, 254-217.

Henry's booty included prize money of $250 that featured $20 for high qualifying series (1,123) and $20 for high final game (227). Henry, clad in a purple shirt with his name etched in white lettering on the back and purple jeans was all smiles as he accepted the money and a silver cup commemorating the sponsoring organization's 25th anniversary. In all, 71 bowlers competed in the tourney.

Observers theorized that the key to Henry's finals victory was his four strikes on his first four balls. However, Henry had other ideas regarding the turning point. "We moved to lanes 21 and 22 for the finals — that was the key. Those lanes had not been used, so I moved inside and I went direct with my ball. I was able to stay closer to the pocket this way."

At one point during the semis, Henry confided to scorekeeper Bill Kirby that "I feel like a turkey in a cage that everybody is shooting at." Henry's quip was prompted by the finals format that called for the fifth-seed Henry, who notched 3,492 pins for eight games Saturday night and seven Sunday afternoon, to face the fourth man, Ray Miller, Petaluma Bowling Association president. Henry triumphed over his 42-year-old rival, 218-211. Henry subsequently beat third-seeded Steve Hargrove, 213-172, and number-two man Bill Henderson, 234-147. This set the stage for Henry's confrontation with Leesman, who was making his first appearance in the Masters.

Henry started fast, but his 30-year-old Mill Valley foe closed strong by striking on the sev-

Special Olympics: Great Time

It was a great time for 224 persons, mostly youngsters, who performed in Saturday's Special Olympics at San Rafael High School, put on by Cedars Development Foundation of Marin, Easter Seals Society and Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

The program is for mentally retarded students of Marin and neighboring communities and some of the top winners will be able to compete in August in a state-wide Special Olympics at UCLA. Competition included track and field and swimming events.

Among the top performers in track and field were Joe Jesus of Cedars Development, a double winner in the boys 16-18 50-yard dash, 6.6, and long jump, 8 feet, 5 inches; David Cooley of Sinaloa Junior High, Novato, 181-foot softball throw in 13-15 division, and Kenny Green of Magnolia Park School, 50-yard dash winner, 6.5, in the 19 and older group.

In the girls competition, Priscilla Nisby of Vallejo (age 13-15)

Andersen In Perfecto For Redwood Nine

If Ed Andersen is capable of pitching games like that as a sophomore, and if he shows normal improvement, what will he be like as a senior?

That was the question hanging in the air after the Redwood High School right-hander pitched a perfect game Saturday night, stifling Drake High, 6-0, in a Marin County Athletic League game at Albert Field.

"He just blew the ball right by them," said Redwood coach Al Endriss. "If he threw half a dozen curve balls, he threw a lot."

Andersen, a 6-foot-4, 195-pounder who won't be 16 until school lets out for the summer, struck out 14 Pirates and did not allow a ball to be hit out of the infield. In the fourth and fifth innings he fanned six straight men.

The only fielding play of any difficulty occurred in the seventh, when first baseman Ross Secor leaped to catch a high, looping drive by Drake's Bob Gare.

Andersen's gem was only the second perfect game in MCAL history and, amazingly, the second of the week. Novato's Ray Stratford pitched one against Terra Linda Tuesday. Sandwiched between them was a no-hitter by San Marin's Mike Robertson Friday in a remarkable week for the pitchers.

Andersen improved his MCAL record to 3-1 and lifted the Giants to 9-1, two games ahead of Novato, which Redwood visits tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Redwood scored on the second inning on a double by Phil Bacigalupi and in the fourth on

REDWOOD NET PAIR TRIUMPHS

SANTA ROSA — The Redwood High School doubles team of Mark Strasser and Grant Grinnell Saturday won the North Coast Section tennis championship, defeating Brad Riezer and John Bussington of Miramonte High of Orinda, 6-1, 6-3, in matches at Montgomery High.

The second-seeded Redwood duo drew a bye in the first round, then breezed through subsequent matches 6-1, 6-2 and 6-1, 6-2, before meeting the top-seeded defending champions in the finals.

Redwood singles player Steve DeMartini lost in the first round to Scott King of Walnut Creek, 6-4, 7-5. The singles title went to Bill Maze of Miramonte, who beat Rick Olmsted of Montgomery, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Bay Area Yachts In Gala Opening

The 1973 yacht season on San Francisco Bay opened yesterday with hundreds and hundreds of boats parading majestically through the water to be blessed and then stared at by thousands of landlubbers at various vantage points.

The blessing ceremonies were performed by three religious leaders — Father George Johnson of St. Hilary's Catholic Church in Tiburon, Rabbi M. Arthur Oles of San Francisco's Mt. Zion Hospital and Capt. George Wright, Treasure Island chaplain.

The ceremonies were performed aboard the U.S.S. Carpenter, a Navy destroyer anchored in the Raccoon Straits between Angel Island and the Corinthian Yacht Club. An estimated 2,000 boats, power and sail, passed for the blessing and then paraded in all their splendor for a boat decoration contest.

The U.S. Navy Junior Sailing Team won the top prize for the second straight year by changing a 26-foot boat into a Viking funeral craft. It was titled, "Death of a Viking," but, thank goodness, the funeral pyre was never lit.

In the Power Division, Jack Fledderman's Four Seas, a 31-foot cruiser from the Caliente Yacht Club won first prize with a reproduction of a cable car. The entry was called "Halfway to the Stars." In the Sail Division, Rudolph Wallace's 30-foot motor sailer, Neena, decked out as "Beer Barrel Boatka," won first prize.

A's Holtzman, Blue Stand Out

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Indians saw more pitches in pre-game batting practice than they did against the world champion Oakland A's Sunday afternoon.

Ken Holtzman used 87 pitches and Vida Blue needed only 107 as the invaders from the West Coast breezed to 12-0 and 7-3 victories over the Indians.

Holtzman, who won 19 games for the A's last season, tossed a five-hitter in the opener and got plenty of hitting support from his teammates. Oakland pounded four Cleveland pitchers for 18 hits for 12 runs.

Blue, making his first start since April 21 when he was sidelined with a knee injury, gave up three runs in the second inning, but settled down to blank the Tribe on two hits over the final seven innings.

"It's been 15 days since he has pitched in a game and he did a fantastic job," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams.

"I was hoping to get at least six or seven innings from Blue and he went all the way. Yes sir, he will go right back into the starting rotation," smiled Williams.

Deron Johnson, the A's designated hitter, picked up in a trade with the Philadelphia Phillies last Wednesday, hit a two-run homer to cap a four-run third inning in the nightcap. The 34-year-old veteran wound up the four-game series with eight hits in 18 trips and seven runs batted in.

"I enjoy the designated hitter role and I have had more at-bats in the last four days than I did with Philadelphia this season," said Johnson.

Bert Campaneris and Bill North each drove in three runs for the A's in the opener. Campaneris drilled a two-run triple in the second and walked with the bases loaded in the third.

Errors by rightfielder Rusty Torres and shortstop Leo Cardenas opened the door for the first five Oakland runs and the A's continued their onslaught against Steve Dunning, Mike Kilkenney and Ed Farmer.

Singles by John Ellis, Chris Chambliss, Buddy Bell and Frank Duffy gave starter Brent Strom a 3-0 lead in the nightcap but the A's pushed across four runs in the third on a two-run single by Reggie Jackson and a two-run homer by Johnson.

NBA Knicks Want Title At All Costs

NEW YORK (UPI) — First John Havlicek, and now Jerry West, but the New York Knicks say that's tough—for the other guys, not them—and they'll take their second National Basketball Association playoff title in four years any way they can get it.

Havlicek injured a shoulder early in the Eastern Conference finals and the Knicks went on to beat Boston in seven games.

New York leads Los Angeles, 2-1, in the current National Basketball Association playoff championships and some believe the Knicks' 87-83 victory can be traced to a pulled hamstring muscle Jerry West suffered in his right leg during the third period of Sunday's game.

West's mobility was cut tremendously after the injury left him hurting in both legs. He pulled a hamstring in his left leg earlier in the playoffs.

"I hope I'll be able to play Tuesday night," said West, who scored 15 points in the first half Sunday and made only one point the rest of the way, "but I won't be as active. It's inhibiting and you can't play your normal game. Taping doesn't help this type of injury."

Willis Reed, Earl Monroe and an extremely strong New York defense keyed Sunday's triumph. Reed scored 22 points as he outmaneuvered Wilt Chamberlain with outside shooting and virtually held the Lakers' 7-2 center on even terms under the boards.

Offensively, Monroe contributed 21 points.

Scheckter Wins At Laguna Seca

Combined AP & UPI

MONTEREY — South Africa's Jody Scheckter took the lead and held it all the way in his Trojan Chevy yesterday to win the Laguna Seca L&M Formula 5000 road race and $15,750 first prize money.

Scheckter, 23, averaged 111.62 miles per hour and finished the 45 lap or 85.5 mile course 2.4 seconds ahead of England's Peter Gethin, who drove a Chevron Chevy.

Gethin collected $8,850 after withstanding a strong challenge from David Hobbs of England, who finished third in a Lola Chevy. Gus Hutchison, Dallas, Tex., finished fourth in a March Chevy and Eppie Wietzes, Thornhill, Ontario was fifth in a Lola Chevy.

The only crash occurred when Tony Adamowicz's Lola Chevy was forced off the track in the 15th lap, but there were no injuries.

Two preliminary 30-lap, 57-mile heats were won by Scheckter and Gethin. In the first heat, Scheckter won going away at an average speed of 111.67 m.p.h. Gethin won the second, averaging 109.09 m.p.h.

A freak accident in a preliminary race nearly eliminated New Zealand's Graham McRae and Brett Lunger of Pomona, Calif. Both drivers were unhurt and were able to start the main event.

A Green Horse Turns To Gold

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The "dumb, green horse" blossomed into a thing of beauty long ago but, in winning the Kentucky Derby in record time Saturday, Secretariat reached the peak of perfection in the eyes of the man closest to him.

"He put on a nice show Saturday," said groom Eddie Sweat with satisfaction. "Everybody should be happy now."

"He's not all that tired, just relaxing," Sweat said at the barn Sunday morning. "He seems to relax here more than in New York. It must be the air, or something. We'll walk him two days and on the second day we'll have to put tack (a saddle) on him to make him think he's going to the race track. Otherwise he'll be tearing up the barn," said the groom who also took care of Riva Ridge a year ago when that colt won the Kentucky Derby.

"When I first saw him when he came off the farm as a 2-year-old he was only a dumb, green horse, I thought," he said. "He was big and clumsy, always stumbling along. He was mean, too, always trying to eat you.

"Why, that Gold Bag that started in the Derby used to beat him in workouts in Florida when he first started training. But Mrs. Tweedy thought a lot of him and she was right," Sweat said.

At the time, Gold Bag was owned by trainer Lucien Laurin. Laurin later sold him.

Riva Ridge finished fourth in the Preakness Stakes in the mud and went on to win the Belmont Stakes to grab two-thirds of the Triple Crown last year.

"Mud won't stop us this time," Sweat predicted.

Secretariat, who set a track record of 1:59 2-5 in winning the Kentucky Derby, was scheduled to be flown to Baltimore Monday for the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 19.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Warriors' Pick Joyce Has Pot Woes

ROWLAND, N. C. (UPI) — Authorities said Sunday no trial date has yet been set in the case of Olympian Kevin Joyce, star senior guard for the University of South Carolina basketball team, on marijuana charges.

Joyce, 21, a New Yorker, and James F. Powell, 23, of Columbia, S. C., were arrested here Saturday evening on felony marijuana possession charges and released Saturday night on bonds of $1,000 each.

State Trooper E. B. Jackson and Sheriff's Deputy Billy Stone said they stopped the car in which the two were riding on Interstate 95 for speeding.

Stone said he smelled marijuana in the car and the two were taken to the police station here where Powell was said to have volunteered a container with 25 grams of marijuana and a quantity of pep pills.

Joyce, a 6-foot-3 guard, has been a starter for South Carolina for the past three years and played on the 1972 U. S. Olympic team.

He was picked by the Golden State Warriors in the first round of the National Basketball Association's player draft last month.

The Warriors came to Joyce's defense Monday.

"We have no reason to believe Kevin Joyce is guilty of any wrongdoing," Warrior General manager Bob Feerick said in San Francisco.

"We are proceeding on the assumption he is innocent."

Feerick said he talked with Joyce Sunday and the player told him: "'I am innocent. I don't smoke. I don't take pills and I am not worried that I will not be proven innocent.'"

Feerick said Warrior coach Al Attles visited Joyce Friday in South Carolina.

"He told me this kid is just like the reports we got on him —a fine young man," Feerick said. "His character references are excellent."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

How To Trace Obsolete Stock

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. When my mother passed away there were 3,000 shares of Capital Stock of Universal Investment Company in her effects. How can I determine if these shares, dated 1917 and bought in Utah, have any value? — B.M.

A. You should start by writing to the secretary of the state in which the company was incorporated, be it Utah or some other, in order to determine whether the firm has filed bankruptcy or is still a viable entity. There is also a brokerage firm which specializes in tracing and appraising obsolete securities for a modest fee. Write to R. M. Smythe & Co., 170 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Q. I have accumulated several hundred shares of Host International (NYSE) during the past four years. It has gone down considerably since purchasing. Do you advise hold or sell? — F.B.

A. Despite their disappointing performance over the last 12 months, these shares have above-average potential and are worth retaining. For the current year, management is projecting a 15 per cent increase in operating results, which would be a return to the previously established growth rate. In 1972 when this growth rate deteriorated somewhat, shares overreacted, reducing the stock's current price to earnings ratio to 14 times from a five-year average of 35 times. While this modest appraisal also reflects a generally sluggish stock market, it represents a reaction to lower earnings reported by several other fast food companies as well.

One of the factors which is expected to boost earnings this year is the increased level of air travel. Since more than half the firm's business is related to this mode of transportation through inflight catering, airport restaurants, gift shops and hotels, an upsurge in air travel would be significant. Recent acquisitions have enlarged this sphere of Host International's activities by adding two important operators of airport duty-free shops. The company's roster of 152 fast food shops will be expanded by 17 new openings this year.

Prices Lose Ground In Early Hours

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices lost ground in slow trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

The erosion was blamed in part on the new round of prime interest rate increases to 7 per cent from 6 ¾ per cent. Some major New York banks lifted their rates Friday.

Wall Street observers said inflation worries were renewed when an official of U.S. Steel said the steel industry needs a six per cent hike in prices this year to make up for higher costs. This figure exceeds the President's current wage-price guidelines and would need governmental approval.

"We also intend to make lunch boxes for those going sailing and picnicking," said Mrs. Berges. "Just give us 24 hours notice, and come in to pick them up." Among the specials will be omelet to go.

Berges had a small delicatessen and butcher shop in San Francisco for about four and one-half years, then worked as butcher at Colombo Meats in San Rafael for the past four and one-half years.

After 20 years of humanitarian work, helping youth in trouble, Dwyer won nationwide honors including letters of commendation from President Nixon and from Marin officials. He closed Braeloch last January to devote full time to his creative pursuits — art and poetry. He is joined by Edward F. Gormley, writer and watercolorist; and Mrs. Carole Sansaire of Berkeley, poetess who also does water colors and batiks.

These three artists will be represented by Cotterstone. Mrs. Danis will represent the three artists, purchasing and selling their creative work. Dwyer plans to write about 25 books in the next 10 years, and the first book is scheduled for publication next year.

Computer Runs Business Course

CHICO (UPI) — Using a computer, a course simulating several years of business operations compressed into a few weeks of classes is being offered at Chico State University.

Students assume top management roles in hypothetical firms which compete for profits, offer market shares and engage in other business operations. Grades are based on the student's self-evaluation of his firm's performance and his contribution to the company's progress.

We're not asking you to race against us. Race with us. You'll win every time.
Here's why: Driving to San Francisco Airport from Marin heliport takes at least 45 minutes. More if you run into heavy traffic. Flying SFO Helicopter on a direct flight takes 12 minutes. ANOTHER SEASON OPENS ON THE BAY

From every marina, anchorage and yacht club on San Francisco Bay, from Vallejo to Redwood City, the Bay Area's huge fleet of pleasure craft assembles at the start of Opening Day. (For story, other photos, see Sports Section.) By the hundreds, under sail or power the colorful yachts passed in review yesterday along San Francisco's northern waterfront. The parade then broke up with some yacht clubs gathering en masse at a prearranged spot for lunch, other vessels singly or in groups seeking out favorite anchorages. Strong winds and sunny skies prevailed for the now traditional event.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Planned

Richardson To Appoint An Outsider For Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special prosecutor will be named to supervise investigation aimed at "uncovering the whole truth" in the Watergate scandal, Attorney-General designate Elliot L. Richardson announced today.

Richardson, himself designated just a week ago by President Nixon to take command of the government's inquiry into the widening scope of the plotand subsequent efforts to cover up its scope, said the person selected would be given "all the independence" necessary to conduct a full and impartial investigation.

Richardson read a statement of his plans during an appearance at the Pentagon before newsmen, and declined to answer any questions about who the prosecutor would be.

He explained that the reason was his forthcoming confirmation hearings, starting Wednesday, by the Senate Judiciary Committee which he said was the only "appropriate forum" for such questions at this time.

Several possibilities for the job have been mentioned, including William T. Coleman, a Philadelphia lawyer who was a classmate of Richardson's at Harvard and who later served with Richardson as a Supreme Court clerk to the late Justice Felix Frankfurter.

Coleman was asked this morning in Philadelphia if he had been asked to take the job. He refused to comment on all questions related to the matter.

Richardson said at the outset of his Pentagon appearance that he wanted the Judiciary Committee to know, before it started hearings on his nomination for attorney general two days hence, that he intended to name a prosecutor as President Nixon gave him optional authority to do last Monday.

Richardson said he was searching for a man to meet the exacting standards the special prosecutor would have to have and would name him as rapidly as possible. Many senators want to have the right to confirm the man.

Richardson said "it may take some time to find the right person" and said he would welcome Senate scrutiny of his choice. Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., said hearings should be held on the prosecutor's qualifications before Richardson's nomination is considered.

"I have taken into account the fact that, because I have held office in the administration from its beginning, my objectivity may be questioned," Richardson said in his statement.

"I am also convinced that the attorney general must retain final responsibility for all matters coming within the jurisdiction of the department."

Richardson said the President "charged me with the responsibility for uncovering the whole truth about the Watergate case and related matters... no matter who is involved," and that was exactly what he intended to do.

He said the person he picks as prosecutor will be given "all the independence, authority and staff support needed to carry out the task intrusted to him."

"Although he will be in the Department of Justice and report to me —and only to me — he will be aware that his ultimate responsibility is to the American people."

He said the special prosecutor must have "outstanding competence as a lawyer preferably including trial experience." This would rule out former Sen. John J. Williams.

DISTURBED DAMSEL DISAPPEARS

Distaff Diner Defeats Drinker In Donnybrook

It wasn't exactly your classic gourmet dining at the Refectory Steak House in Bon Air Center, Greenbrae, at 1:35 a.m. Saturday.

A lady diner spat on a nearby gentleman diner, who responded by pouring a glass of icewater down her front. She retaliated by hurling a glass candle jar at him, coating him with hot wax.

As the waxed diner attempted to leave, the lady grabbed him, whereupon he shoved her to the ground. Other diners took hold of the man — and the lady promptly bit him on the arm.

The manager threw the lady diner out of the restaurant, but when the waxed and bitten man emerged into the parking lot with his girlfriend, he encountered the lady diner once more... this time in her car.

He refused to speak to her, so she tried to run him over.

The waxed and bitten man dodged, and the lady diner took off in her 1963 Buick Riviera onto Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, heading for Highway 101, and hasn't been seen since.

The gentleman diner went to Marin General Hospital for a tetanus shot.

Larkspur police recounted the disastrous dining tale this morning. The gentleman diner was Leonard John Golding of 262 Larkspur Plaza, who told police he was sitting having a quiet drink at 1:35 a.m. with his friend, Monica Etter.

Golding said a woman sitting at the next table was "giving the waitress a hard time" and swearing at her. When he murmured "nice girl" to his dinner companion, the battle commenced.

Golding described the aggressive lady diner as white, about 24 years old, 135 pounds, with dark brown shoulder length hair, a blue dress and brown boots.

Mystified Larkspur police, who are still seeking the lady diner, said she may not even be a lady... Golding said she had "masculine actions."

Nixon Denies Watergate Awareness

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — The White House denied today that President Nixon was aware before last March of the extent of the Watergate scandal or of efforts to cover it up.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren made the statement in response to published reports that former presidential Counsel John W. Dean was prepared to testify that the President knew of high level efforts to cover up the bugging of the Democratic National Headquarters.

"Any suggestion that the President was aware of the Watergate operation is untrue," Warren said. "Any suggestion that the President participated in any coverup activity or activities is untrue. Any suggestion that the President ever authorized the offering of clemency to anyone in this case is also false."

Warren said the statement was specifically authorized by

Bolinas Group Will Sue Over Water Hookup Ban

By ANNE WEST

Legal action to force lifting a moratorium on new local water connections was approved yesterday by members of the Bolinas Property Owners Association, as one of the group's directors resigned in protest. (Another association story, page 19.)

The 40-to-25 vote approved a motion by Philip L. Fritchey, Bolinas realtor, that the association's board "seek an injunction and pursue all legal avenues to get the moratorium lifted."

Secretary Gertrude E. Allen warned before the vote that she would resign if the motion carried and did afterward.

Director Mark Ireland, also a director of Bolinas Community Public Utility District, which imposed the ban in November 1971, said he opposes the action but will "continue to vote my convictions" on the association board.

The moratorium resolution, which has nearly halted construction in Bolinas, declared the area "threatened with chaotic human influx." It termed the existing water supply "inadequate to meet health and safety standards" and stated further extension of the water delivery system would tax district resources "beyond the reasonable limits of its facilities."

"A utility district is not empowered to control population," declared Fritchey. "Any individual who owns property in the district is entitled to the use of it." A utility district's obligation is to provide the services needed."

He was echoed by others who also charged the district with taking too long to solve the water problem and complained of "taxation without representation."

As nonresident property owners, they could not vote on district directors they said, but they were also prevented from becoming residents and voters by the district's moratorium.

Both Ireland and Orville Schell, vice president of the utility district's board, said the moratorium was based on a "potentially serious situation."

Schell said a report on long-range water supply is expected next week, but warned that solutions to be put to the voters "will be expensive."

"The problem is planning and funding." "If neither was a problem, we would still have the problem of time for construction. The existing pipes are old, rusty and unmapped."

Schell declared that he remains firmly in support of the moratorium, but welcomes a law suit because he believes it will clarify the situation. He said, "It will cost you a lot of money. It will cost the district a lot of money, but at the end people will know a lot more about utilities."

As some in the audience questioned whether the membership would be willing to pay assessments for legal costs, Fritchey arose to pledge $100. He predicted there would be no difficulty in raising necessary funds.

Water Bans Will Result In $2 Million Tax Loss

Water moratoriums in Marin could cost local taxing agencies more than $2 million in lost revenue in the 1974-75 fiscal year, County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel has estimated.

Broemmel said "rough estimates" by his office indicate the countywide assessed valuation level will be about $18 million less than anticipated because of reduced development as a result of the water connection bans imposed by the Marin Municipal and North Marin County water districts.

The bans, in effect, mean a moratorium on new construction since county public works officials said today they will no longer issue building permits until the water districts authorize water connections.

"The building code requires that each building used for human occupancy have available an adequate potable water supply; also many buildings require a water supply for fire suppression purposes," Herbert F. Wimmer, chief building inspector, wrote.

County supervisors are scheduled to discuss the moratoriums tomorrow and may ask for meetings with the water district boards.

Broemmel's report, to be considered tomorrow by supervisors, says the $18 million drop in potential assessed valuation is about 2.3 per cent of the county's total tax base. This year's total evaluation is $765 million.

He said, however, the loss may be "eased somewhat" because of increases in the price of homes brought about by a shorter supply.

Guerrillas Still Hold Diplomat

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI) — The guerrilla kidnapers of U.S. Consul General Terrence G. Leonhardy went back today on their promise to release him once 30 political prisoners were flown to Cuba and were reported to be making new demands, possibly involving a cash ransom.

There has been no word since Sunday when Leonhardy sent word in a letter that he was in "good health" and being treated well. But as time passed with no release there were fears for his safety and goverment sources said still another factor might be involved—the kidnapers might be "too afraid" to release him immediately.

They pointed to a local news story in which police Chief Jesus Ahumada Mercado was quoted as saying the kidnapers may already have been identified and that local authorities were ready to move against them as soon as the American diplomat is freed.

There has been total official silence, however, on the case since Jalisco State Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero indicated Sunday night that new demands were being put forth by the guerrillas. The governor later retracted the statement, saying he only knew of "rumors" of new demands.

But there was heightened speculation that a big cash ransom payment may now be a factor.

The only official statement on the case came from a consular spokesman who described the situation as "very delicate."

The demands—they were not

Free Insurance For Safety Forces Eyed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's 80,000 peace officers and firemen would receive government-paid life insurance under a bill proposed by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco.

The insurance policies, which would be free to the employe, would provide benefits ranging from $10,000 to $30,000 for spouses and children of officers killed in the line of duty.

"I believe governmentally paid life insurance is precious little that the people of this state can offer persons who have chosen careers that put them 'on the line' every day," Moscone said Sunday.

Parent Protest At Principal's Transfer Gains Little Ground

By GEORGE NEVIN

A community meeting Saturday to discuss action in the wake of the transfer of a popular principal in Mill Valley resulted in a pledge by parents to increase communication with the school board.

The session, attended by more than 100 persons, focused on two points: the reassignment of Principal David W. Erskine from Marin Terrace School and the process by which the board reached its decision.

Erskine, 47, principal at Marin Terrace since last year after five years as principal of Old Mill School, was relieved of his duties effective April 23 for unspecified reasons. More than three hours of complaints by residents at that night's board meeting failed to sway trustees in their decision.

Although parents left the meeting knowing nothing more about the reasons for the transfer than they did when they arrived, there was a consensus that the board ought to have more community feedback before making future decisions on matters of wide interest.

One man, Richard K. Swain, a member of a committee which called Saturday's meeting, said near the end of the two-and-one-half hour session that an "ombudscommittee" should be set up to ensure more parent participation in board decisions.

Trustee John H. Cutler, however, said he thought the district's Parent-Teacher Association the proper body to serve such a function.

Although Cutler conceded that communication between parents and the board is "the weak link" in the flow of information back and forth, he insisted trustees have "a finger on the pulse of the community" and know with a fair degree of accuracy the thinking on issues.

Even had the Marin Terrace community been completely in favor of retaining Erskine there, said Cutler, the board still might have taken the action because it has to "keep the larger picture of the district in

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

On Mount Everest

KATMANDU (UPI) — A second group of Italian climbers reached the top of Mount Everest today, 48 hours after four men from the same expedition raised the Italian flag atop the world's highest mountain, the Foreign Office announced.

Saturday's climbers became the first to reach the top of the 29,028-foot mountain in 10 years. Their feat came 20 years to the month after New Zealand's Edmund Hillary first climbed Everest in May, 1953.

Until Saturday, the last group to reach Everest's peak was a National Geographic Society expedition led by Norman G. Dyhrenfurth in May of 1963.

More Casualties

BELFAST (UPI) — The army warned troops today to redouble their guard against booby traps following weekend blasts that killed three soldiers, army sources said.

The sources said recent army arrests of top leaders of the Irish Republican Army's extremist Provisional wing has led the "Provos" to change its tactics. It now is concentrating, they said, on sniper fire and booby traps.

Army casualties in eight days up to Saturday totaled eight men killed and another 17 wounded, seven of them seriously.

More Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger postponed a planned sightseeing trip to Leningrad today, U.S. sources said, so that he and Leonid I. Brezhnev can confer more about the Soviet leaders's trip to Washington next month.

Kissinger has been secluded in Brezhnev's hunting lodge, on a wooded country estate on the Volga river 75 miles from Moscow, since shortly after he arrived Friday night.

Work On Levees

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UPI) — The U.S. Corps of Engineers has begun raising the level of some 260 miles of mainline levees along the lower Mississippi River as a precaution against further flooding.

Maj. Gen. Charles C. Noble stressed that the move is purely a precautionary one to assure that levees are up to "project design flood" level — the maximum amount of water the flood control system is supposed to handle.

Big Denver Rain

DENVER (UPI) — Four inches of rain in the metropolitan areas and 20 inches of very wet snow in nearby mountains swelled the South Platte River over its banks yesterday, forcing the evacuation of thousands of persons from low-lying areas.

Strike Ends

ROME (UPI) — A 24-day long national mail strike ended yesterday, but post office officials warned today that normal deliveries will resume only after a cleanup operation they predicted will take two months.

Authorities said hundreds of tons of unsorted letters were piled up all over the country, including millions of Easter greeting cards. Officials in Venice said several days ago that 61.3 tons of mail were packed into their post office alone.

Farm Income Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz reported yesterday that American farmers had a banner year in 1972.

In his annual report, Butz said U.S. agriculture had record net income of more than $19.2 billion last year with farm exports totaling $8 billion. He predicted a $10 billion export total this year — an increase of 25 per cent.

He said gross farm income, net income, income per farm, and income per resident of a farm all reached record highs.

Denial For Finch

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch, who served 12 years of a life prison sentence for murdering his wife in California, was denied a license yesterday to practice medicine in Missouri.

The State Board of Registration for the Healing Arts unanimously voted to deny Finch's request, saying it would be a paradox "to permit an individual who has brutally murdered his wife to re-enter the practice of medicine, a profession which is dedicated to the prolongation of human life."

Post For Dobrynin?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anatoly F. Dobrynin, the Soviet Union's ambassador here for 11 years, may soon be in line for an important post in Moscow, Soviet sources report.

Dobrynin, the sources said, can be considered the logical successor to First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, 67, who is reported near retirement.

Survey Of BART Riders Planned

OAKLAND (UPI) — Passengers on the Bay Area Rapid Transit system will be surveyed Tuesday on where they are going and why.

The riders will be handed a short questionnaire that can be filled in while traveling on the train and put in special containers beside the exit gates.

BART wants to know where the passengers are from and going, how they arrived at the train station and will get to their final destination and the reason for the trip.

A spokesman for the system said the results will help develop long range operating and marketing programs and aid in meeting problems of auto parking and feeder-bus demand.

Ship Damaged In Pier Crash

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — A Greek ship crushed its bow Sunday when it collided with a bridge pier, then damaged an underground telephone cable when it dropped anchor in the Willamette River.

The Milhalios Xilas was moving with the help of two tugboats from drydock to Zidell Explorations when it hit the Burnside bridge. It was en route to pick up a load of scrap.

SMILING CHIEF — Frank Foolscrow, traditional tribal chief of the Oglala Sioux, grinned with delight at discovering the wonders of a set of headphones he tried on while flying over the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in a government helicopter over the weekend. The chief, along with American Indian Movement militants who have been occupying Wounded Knee, S.D. have signed a disarmament agreement to end the siege. (UPI Telephoto)

Indians Move To End Wounded Knee Siege

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (UPI) — Indians already have begun complying with terms of a Sunday agreement to end the 70-day-old armed occupation of Wounded Knee.

Federal sources told UPI that the first provision of the new agreement — the listing of Wounded Knee occupiers and their weapons—has been accomplished.

Although the lists may be incomplete and were delivered several hours after the 5 p.m. MDT deadline, the sources were optimistic that the American Indian Movement (AIM) members meant to honor terms of the agreement and lay down their arms by Wednesday morning.

The listing of arms and personnel of the occupying force was the job of the Community Relations Service (CRS) of the U.S. Justice Department, the agency which has maintained liaison between AIM forces and the government since the start of the armed confrontation Feb. 27.

The Sunday agreement spelled out in details the method by which the Indians would lay down their arms and leave the village. It embodied provisions of the abrogated April 5 agreement between the government and AIM leaders dealing with treaty rights and civil rights complaints.

The Sunday agreement called for the laying down of arms as of 7 a.m. Wednesday morning. The delay in disposession of arms was a concession to AIM leaders, government spokesmen said.

The 65-hour waiting period between announcement of the agreement and the actual laying down of arms brought speculation of government forces on the Wounded Knee perimeter that some of the hard core militants would attempt to sneak out of the village bearing illegal arms used in the takeover.

There was no immediate confirmation of this from official federal sources. However, U.S. marshals said they were ready to employ foot patrols and flares to keep escapes from the village at a minimum.

Richard Hellstern, ranking Justice Department official here, Sunday said the time between the agreement signing and the Wednesday deadline was to be used by AIM members to raise bail money for leaders who will be arrested when they leave the village.

Prisoners Released By Saigon

SAIGON (UPI) — Saigon today resumed its civilian prisoner release program, suspended for 10 days in a dispute over safety measures, but sources reported a truce team helicopter was fired on Sunday over Communist-held territory.

A government military spokesman said 200 Communist civilian war prisoners were taken to the Thac Han riverbank near Quang Tri City for release today.

The program was halted April 28—the deadline for the exchange of all civilian prisoners under the Paris treaty on Vietnam—when the International Commission of Control and Supervison (ICCS) argued with the Viet Cong over safety guarantees for ICCS helicopters.

Another 450 Communist civilians are to be freed at Thac Han in the next two days, the spokesman said, indicating the ICCS and the Viet Cong had reached agreement on the safety issue. There was no word on when the Viet Cong planned to release the rest of the South Vietnamese civilians they hold.

Israel Shows Off Its Armed Might

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel turned 25 today, displaying its military might in a parade of air, armored and troop power over and through the Holy City as the high point of its anniversary celebrations.

An honor guard stepped off from in front of the oblong official reviewing stand at 10:05 a.m. and a formation of Vtailed Fouga Magister training jets swooped overhead, streams of vapor trailing into the clear blue sky.

Sources said the parade cost about $5 million.

Military police in Jeeps passed the reviewing stand 87 minutes later, following behind the 2,000 troops, warplanes and 450 vehicles watched by a white-suited Prime Minister Golda Meir from under a white veil to shield her eyes from the sun.

The flypast of screaming jets and droning propeller planes and clattering helicopters, the clanking of armor and the tramping of infantry boots marked Israel's first independence day military parade in five years—a flexing of muscle to show the nation's weight in the Middle East balance of power.

Heavy security precautions, which police spokesman Michael Buchner described as the largest of their kind so far, were in effect throughout the city with civilian police, white helmeted military police and soldiers patrolling to guard against possible Arab guerrilla attacks.

"Everything went according to schedule," a police spokesman said. "There have been no accidents, no incidents and nothing has gone wrong in any part of the city."

In the nationally televised parade, Israel showed off its recently unveiled home-built I33 tank-mounted 155mm cannon and modified U.S.-built 203mm self-propelled howitzers.

It rolled out American-made 20mm antiaircraft guns, two each attached to armored half-tracks, and captured Soviet-built T54 and T55 tanks modified with 105mm British-made cannon for greater firepower.

In the air, French-built Fougas trailing white and blue smoke stole the show with a ballet of loops, straight climbs and power dives that ended in sonic bursts away from the grandstands like exploding roman candles.

Ten Supply Ships Reach Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A supply convoy of 10 ships made it safely to Phnom Penh today despite intense Communist fire along the riverbanks, but one ship went up in flames when it was hit and ran aground. A big road convoy also made it into Phnom Penh from the south coast.

Cambodian navy river patrol boats today picked up 22 crewmen from a fuel tanker which a witness said "went up like flame from a lighter" when enemy gunners fired on an 11-ship convoy bringing supplies to the capital.

The captain of the ship, the Vira I, was reported missing. The vessel was grounded and afire at last report near Dey Doz, 25 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

Ten vessels reached Phnom Penh port safely and were to make a return trip to South Vietnam Tuesday morning.

Crewmen said the navy boats escorting the convoy late Sunday night were not effective against Cambodian rebel units because the gunners with B40 rockets, propelled grenades and machineguns were firing from foxholes on the jungled riverbank.

The board also is expected to consider a salary proposal from nonteaching employees.

Jews Stage Sit-In In Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UPI) — Thirty-five Moscow Jews staged a sit-in at the Central Committee of the Communist party today to protest the imprisonment of Jews in the Soviet Union, a Jewish dissident source said.

The source said the Jews went to the Central Committee offices to present a letter, in which they noted that they had written to the committee a month ago but received no answer.

Richardson To Name Watergate Outsider

R-Del., favored by several members of Congress to investigate the case.

Spelling out the qualifications the prosecutor must have, Richardson said: "The person selected to fulfill this role will have to meet stringent standards of qualification. He must not only be an individual of the highest character and integrity but be widely so recognized."

"He must not have been associated with any of the persons alleged or suspected to have had a part in the matters under investigation. He must be judicious in temperament and independent in spirit. He must have a proven record of outstanding competence as a lawyer, preferably with trial experience."

Richardson said he would ask the Judiciary Committee to hold public hearing on the appointee and "would welcome" an expression by the Senate on its confidence in his prosecutor.

Richardson has been under heavy pressure from both Republicans and Democrats in Congress to designate a special prosecutor on grounds that no one within the administration should be heading an investigation directly affecting the administration.

The issue had been scheduled as pending business in the Senate today prior to disclosure that Richardson was going to name an outsider to head the probe. Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd said Nixon should have gone ahead and named a prosecutor a week ago when he removed three top White House aides and Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst resigned as a result of Watergate developments.

While many Republicans joined Democrats on Capitol Hill in urging selection of a special prosecutor, there were complaints from some GOP senators about passage of a resolution on the subject last Tuesday when only five senators were on the floor.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., sponsored a new resolution with substantially the same terms —including a provision suggesting that the prosecutor be subjected to Senate confirmation.

While federal investigations, including a grand jury probe, continue, a special Senate committee set up to look into the whole issue of political espionage stepped up its plans for starting public hearings next week.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate committee, was asked Sunday during a visit to Yale University for a speech if he felt there were any serious chance of Congress starting impeachment proceedings against Nixon if it appeared he might have had some implication in Watergate.

He said he doubted it.

Ervin said the impeachment process was so complex that it would be difficult to remove the President even if evidence were uncovered linking him to the plot to bug Democratic national headquarters or efforts to cover it up.

In other developments:

—Attorneys for Daniel Ellsberg, defendant in the Pentagon Papers trial in Los Angeles today were to ask the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals to dismiss the case because presidential aide John Ehrlichman —since resigned —offered Judge Matt Byrne, the presiding judge in the case, the job of head of the FBI.

—The New York Times said today that Gen. Robert E. Cushman Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, who in 1971 was deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), authorized use of CIA material and research in the burglary of the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist. The Times said Gen. Cushman was questioned last week by the FBI and "reportedly" accepted full responsibility for permitting CIA assistance in preparations for the break-in, previously linked to Watergate conspirators E. Howard Hunt Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy, who both worked for the White House.

A Marine Corps spokesman declined comment on the Times story. He said Gen. Cushman is in the Netherlands as the guest of that country's Marine commandant and is expected back in the United States in "a few days."

—A White House spokesman declined comment on a story by Newsweek magazine that fired White House counsel John W. Dean III was prepared to give testimony linking President Nixon with attempts to cover up the Watergate scandal. Newsweek said Dean has told federal investigators that Nixon and White House aide H.R. Haldeman were pleased by Dean's efforts to "keep the lid on," and that Dean quoted the President saying, "Good job, John. Bob (Haldeman) told me what a great job you've been doing."

Sen. Brooke said he felt the earlier special prosecutor resolution, introduced by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., had been handled too hastily by the Senate. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kans., said the Senate would vote "overwhelmingly" for a special prosecutor in a roll call.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said Sunday he was sure someone in Congress would move to impeach the President if it is proven he had personal knowledge or involvement in the Watergate affair. He doubted the President had any prior knowledge. Dole was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Sen. George Mcgovern, D-S.D., speaking Sunday at the State University College in New Palitz, N.Y., said "We ought to take very serious action if it turns out the President is implicated in this." But he said it was too early to consider impeachment proceedings.

However, Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., said Saturday she would join Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., and other members of Congress in sponsoring a resolution this week for a House inquiry to determine whether there are grounds for impeaching the President.

KIDNAP

disclosed—came hours after Mexico agreed to free the 30 prisoners and flew them to Cuba.

Earlier, officials said the guerrillas sent three more notes, to a Peruvian envoy, a Mexican official and the U.S. Consulate. The one sent to the Mexican official apparently contained new demands.

After first saying flatly that the note contained "new demands," Gov. Alberto Orozco Romero withdrew the comment, saying he was "misunderstood" earlier. But sources said the guerrillas now demanded a cash ransom.

The report on the 58-year-old Leonhardy was contained in a brief letter he addressed to Orozco.

"I'm well and they're treating me well," said the letter, written in Spanish.

U.S. officials said Leonhardy's note said:

"I'm grateful for your help in making all the arrangements for my release, with the president (of Mexico). My captors have promised to free me and say they will go through with their promise at an opportune moment, so that all searching is stopped.

"If it's not (the following word was illegible) they will delay my release."

Other communiques were sent to U.S. vice consul Ernest Gutierrez and Mario Collignon de la Pena, the honorary consul of Peru.

U.S. officials maintained absolute secrecy on the text of the communication to Gutierrez, leading to speculation the kidnapers—identified only as members of the "Revolutionary Armed Forces of the People"—might want a cash ransom.

In the note to Collignon, a government spokesman said, the kidnapers asked him to warn police not to launch an immediate investigation, because this would delay or jeopardize Leonhardy's release.

The letters were found in a downtown mailbox after the authorities received anonymous telephone calls about their whereabouts.

Wrought Iron Gate Is Stolen

It took at least two well-prepared thieves to steal two heavy wrought iron gates from the home of Charles W. Brown in Inverness, the Marin County Sheriff's Department reported Saturday.

Officers said the thieves apparently came prepared to remove four 13-inch bolts holding the double gates onto gateposts at Brown's home on Dover Road April 28.

The black gates were five feet high, one foot wide and each weighs more than a hundred pounds, Brown reported to officers.

Old Adobe Board To Look At Survey

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, will meet in special session at 7 p.m. tomorrow at La Tercera School to review a survey of teachers.

The board will hear results of the survey of teachers' opinions on curriculum and will also hear a report on needs to improve psychological services.

Long List On Town's Agenda

The Corte Madera Town Council faces the longest agenda in the town's history when it meets at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the town hall.

Subjects before the council range from the controversial $20 sewer service charge proposed by the town's sanitary commission to the results of a town survey conducted by the Corte Madera Town Meeting Association.

Councilmen also will conduct public hearings on the Fifer special assessment district storm drainage system, and an appeal of a planning commission decision rescinding approval for Hidden Valley Unit No. 5.

The sewer service charge subject won't come up until the end of the council's meeting. Then it will adjourn and resit as the Corte Madera Sanitary District Board.

Town public works director Arthur N. Morrison will recommend the council to impose a sewer service charge of $20 to single family homes, with charges for apartments and trailer spaces levied at $20 for the first unit and $17 each additional.

Industrial and commercial businesses in the town would have a fixed charge, altogether bringing in an estimated yearly income of $107,041, said Morrison. The district's present operating budget is $110,000, but the tax rate of 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation is bringing in only $61,000.

NIXON

the President.

Warren's statement broke a weekend-long series of "no comments" from the White House on a report by Newsweek magazine that Dean was prepared to testify that the President once congratulated him for the effectiveness of the coverup and later offered executive clemency to Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt Jr. if he would remain silent.

Nixon conferred today with his new White House Chief, Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., about restructuring the scandal-shattered presidential staff. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler also attended the meeting.

Nixon and Haig met in the President's white and turquoise single-story Florida White House as the President was winding up four days of nearly complete seclusion in Florida and the Bahamas.

Haig, Nixon's favorite military-political trouble-shooter, arrived in Key Biscayne Sunday night in preparation for his sessions with the President. Nixon picked Haig Friday to replace H.R. Haldeman as chief of the presidential staff. Haldeman resigned after a federal grand jury began investigating charges that he participated in the coverup of the Watergate bugging.

In the week since Nixon declared the Watergate scandal had "claimed far too much of my time and attention," there has been little evidence he has thought about or attended to much else.

White House officials turned aside all questions about the Watergate bugging and subsequent efforts to cover it up. But they, like their boss, appeared to be preoccupied by the scandal and its implications.

Taco Bell Plans Considered

The Novato Planning Commission tonight will consider precise plans for a Taco Bell restaurant in Novato Square, east of Highway 101 between De Long and Grant Avenues.

A permit for the restaurant was granted to Ben J. Ostlind after a battle with the Novato City Council which ended when Ostlind filed a $300,000 claim against the city.

The commission also will consider an application by Ronald Antonioli for industrial zoning for eight acres on the east side of Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, north of Los Robles Mobile Home Park.

Hearing Scheduled In Auto Theft

Albert Le Roy Harris, 44, of San Francisco, is to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow for preliminary hearing on a charge of auto theft.

Harris pleaded innocent Friday, following his arrest by Novato police in San Francisco Wednesday on a warrant. He is accused of taking an auto from Novato Datsun, Inc., last February, and abandoning it in a San Francisco street about two weeks later.

mind."

As a case in point he cited the transfer of a principal two years ago from Homestead School, a decision almost universally disliked by Homestead Valley parents.

"Even so, it was the right thing to do because it fitted into the larger picture of things," he said.

Cutler turned back requests for more information on the specific reasons for Erskine's transfer to duties involving revising district policies. He said, as have trustees at other meetings, that the reasons can be discussed only in closed session.

Continued efforts by some present to discuss the reasons brought a rejoinder from Lewis B. Griselle: "You're flailing a dead horse. I was invited to this meeting to discuss reconciliation, not to question a matter over which the board has legal jurisdiction."

As happened at two previous board meetings, objections were raised not only to the transfer itself, but also the timing — it came during spring vacation and only days after the April 17 board election — and the lack of advance notice.

When, toward the end of the meeting, Cutler was asked if Erskine possibly might be brought back to Marin Terrace to finish out the school year, he said:

"Erskine could apply for that, but knowing my colleagues as I do, I think it's extremely unlikely for that to take place."

After the meeting, Swain told the Independent-Journal his group of parents, the Committee for the Preservation of Alternatives, would try to formulate a plan to present to the board Monday. That plan would being about more community participation in board decisions on personnel assignments.

Petris Asks Added Clamp On Building

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sen. Nicholas C. Petris has proposed legislation designed to impose stiffer environmental requirements on new construction projects in the San Francisco Bay area.

The Oakland Democrat said the bill would "make it clear that conservation and not development" was the prime obligation of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission (BCDC), which he asserted has been too lenient in granting construction permits.

Petris said the bill was needed to avoid the "regulated destruction of San Francisco Bay."

During the past eight years, he said, 480 acres of the bay were filled because of a "weakness in the law" allowing 110 valid permiy out of 155 applications to fill.

Petris, author of the legislation creating the commission, said the agency must act with more emphasis on conservation because any filling of the bay at all leads toward that day when the bay will no longer exist."

Library Will Join Protest To Cutbacks

Marin County library employees will take part tomorrow in a nationwide protest of federal cutbacks in aid to libraries.

According to county librarian Bruce Bajema, the Civic Center library will dim its lights at noon. Employees also have been asked to wear black.

The protest was prompted by President Nixon's move to cut back federal aid to libraries in view of new federal revenue-sharing funds.

The Marin County library system receives no direct federal aid and is supported by local property taxpayers.

Council To Meet In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Mayor Jean S. Barnard has called a special meeting of the Mill Valley City Council for 7:30 p.m. today for unspecified purpose.

Mayor Barnard's announcement indicated the meeting would be held behind closed doors and said only that the closed session is permitted by the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Other councilmen reached by the Independent-Journal said they knew nothing of the meeting and the city manager's office said the ambiguous wording of the announcement had been recommended by the city attorney, Leland H. Jordan.

$270,000 Suit In OEO Firings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two attorneys filed suit today against the federal government, asking $270,000 because they were allegedly wrongfully fired from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

H. Tim Hoffman, 32, Berkeley, and Thomas J. Mack, 34, Sausalito, filed suit in U.S. District Court on behalf of themselves and all 10,000 permanent Civil Service employees who are classified on "Schedule A."

The suit alleged that "Schedule A" employees are presently excluded from job protection procedures afforded other Civil Service employees. These employees, the suit said, have permanent jobs in nonsensitive positions, for which Civil Service entrance examinations are not required.

They allege they were fired last February on 90 minutes notice and that no reason was given for their discharge.

The attorneys each asked $100,000 for damage to their reputations and $10,000 in lost pay. In addition, the suit asked that Thomas H. Mercer, OEO regional director, be ordered to pay $50,000 exemplary damages.

Decorator Seeking Separation

Patricia Jampolsky of Belvedere, head of a Tiburon decorating business and wife of Dr. Gerald Jambolsky, a Tiburon psychiatrist, has filed for separation in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Jambolsky, in a separation action filed May 1, asked for custody of the couple's two children, Gregg, 17, and Lee, 15, as well as a settlement of property consisting of the family home at 14 Lagoon Road, Jambolsky's medical practice and her decorating business, and other property.

A temporary restraining order sought to prevent Jambolsky from disposing of his assets will be heard in Superior Court at 9 a.m. May 15.

The couple was married on May 23, 1953.

Youth Booked On Driving, Theft Counts

A 15-year-old youth was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday on suspicion of reckless driving, auto theft and burglary, San Rafael police reported today.

Police, responding to reports of a youth driving a car over lawns on Galleon Way, said they spotted the boy driving at high speeds up Las Ovejas Avenue. A short chase ended when the youth smashed into two parked cars on Penny Royal Lane, police said.

Police said the boy told them an acquaintance had stolen the car after taking keys from the home of another friend and had later given the car to him to use.

Identity of the youth, for whom police could report no known address, was withheld on a standing order of Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Girl, 14, Hit By Automobile

A 14-year-old Fairfax girl was hospitalized yesterday after she was struck by an automobile on a crosswalk near Olema Road in Fairfax.

Eileen Di Carlo of 43 Bay Road was reported in good condition today with multiple bruises in Marin General Hospital.

Police said the girl was hit at about 3 p.m. by a car driven by Marianne Horton of Woodacre after she came out on the crosswalk from behind a bus at the intersection of Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Impeach Nixon Proposal Dies

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A resolution calling for the impeachment of President Nixon if he was personally involved in the Watergate scandal was offered at a conservative Republican gathering during the weekend, but was killed in committee.

The resolution called for Nixon's impeachment if he was involved in any criminal misconduct in connection with Watergate or if he had advance knowledge of the burglary at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, said Paul Magnani, state chairman of United Republicans of California.

Subdivision On Agenda

The Novato City Council will have a hearing tomorrow on plans to create a seven-lot subdivision at the end of Alice Street.

Neighbors have opposed plans by builder John Novak to divide 2.62 acres into seven lots, a subdivision they believe will increase flooding in the area.

The council, meeting at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community House, also will hear an appeal of a requirement for an environmental impact report for a 44-unit apartment project at the end of Los Robles Road.

Joseph Wilner, owner of the property, contends an environmental report isn't necessary for the apartment project.

Budget Before City Council

The Petaluma City Council will receive the preliminary city budget for 1973-74 at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

A series of budget study sessions will also be set.

VOLCANO BLOWS ITS TOP

Molten lava spurted from Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii yesterday as a spectacular eruption sent fountains of fire soaring 100 feet in the air, ripped open a giant fissure, touched off forest fires and damaged roads. The unexpected eruption occurred just 10 days after a devastating earthquake shook the state. (UPI Telephoto)

Resignation Seen As A Possibility

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Washington reporters who cover the White House predict that the Watergate scandal could lead to President Nixon's resignation.

John Osborne, who covers Nixon for "New Republic" magazine, said it was possible that "in three to six months it won't be necessary to conduct a Nixon watch," a reference to an Osborne book by that title.

Osborne called Watergate "a sad and tragic affair," and added: "I hate this story. It's obvious now its not going to be over for a long time ... but I hope the presidency and this President can survive."

Henry Trewhitt, who covers the White House for Newsweek magazine, said Sunday Nixon "could be forced to resign" as a result of the scandal. At best, he said, Nixon will be "a caretaker President for the rest of his term."

The two newsmen spoke during a panel on White House coverage at the second annual A.J. Liebling Counter Convention. The three-day convention, held as an answer by the working press to last week's gathering of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, is sponsored by the New York Journalism Review.

Also on the panel were Robert Semple of the New York Times; Sarah McClendon, who runs her own Washington bureau for newspapers in six states, and Andrew Kopkind of radio station WBCN-FM in Boston.

Kopkind challenged the predominant view of the panel that Watergate was a tragic affair because it undermined people's confidence in the presidency. He said investigative reporting is valuable "only if it shakes people's faith and undermines the system ..."

Earlier, a panel of editors and wire service newsmen debated whether wire services reporting was obsolete.

Grant Dillman, UPI Washington bureau chief, argued that "wire services are more important now than ever before." He said the increasing number and complexity of stories had forced them to take on "added responsibility" of telling the reader, not only the news, but also the significance of what is going on —and to do so "quickly and accurately."

Hearing Set In Check Case

A preliminary hearing has been scheduled May 17 for a 21-year-old San Rafael man, who is said to have cashed a stolen check at a bank in San Rafael.

Ordered to appear for the hearing in Marin Municipal Court was William Edward Kizer, who is said by police to have cashed a stolen check last Sept. 25 at the Harbor office of Bank of Marin.

A bank teller identified Kizer as the passer of a $156 check on the account of Cagwin and Dorward, a San Rafael contracting business.

Martha's Belief Nixon Should Resign 'Ridiculous,' Says John

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell says the idea of President Nixon resigning because of the Watergate scandal is "ridiculous." He critiized United Press International for quoting his wife, Martha, as saying the President should quit.

Mrs. Mitchell called UPI White House correspondent Helen Thomas late Saturday night and said:

"Mr. President should resign immediately. I think he let the country down. It's going to take a hell of a lot to get him ... He's been compromised."

Asked why she thought Nixon should step down, Mrs. Mitchell replied: "I think in order to give credibility to the Republican party and credibility to the United States."

Mitchell, who has been mentioned frequently in allegations of an effort to cover up high-level administration involvement in the bugging of Democratic offices at the Watergate building, issued this statement Sunday:

"Martha's late night telephone calls have been good fun and games in the past. However, this is a serious issue. I'm surprised and disappointed that United Press International would take advantage of a personal phone call made under the stress of the current situation and treat it as a sensational public statement.

"I think that under all the circumstances, Martha is entitled to more consideration and courtesy than that, particularly from a reporter whom she had considered a personal friend.

"Any thought of the President resigning is ridiculous."

As she has in previous phone calls to UPI about Watergate, Mrs. Mitchell made clear she was speaking for quotation and was not calling on a personal basis. As far as was known, it was the first time her husband had volunteered a comment on one of her statements.

Mrs. Mitchell also has spoken to the Associated Press and The New York Times about Watergate in recent weeks, but none of her statements was as blunt as her suggestion that the President should resign.

Mitchell resigned as attorney general in March, 1972, to become manager of Nixon's re-election campaign. Two weeks after the June 17 Watergate break-in, he announced he was leaving the campaign to spend more time with his family.

In her call to Miss Thomas Saturday, Mrs. Mitchell said "there is nothing that Mr. President didn't know about that my husband didn't know about." As for her husband, she said, "I don't think he is going to get out of it."

Mrs. Mitchell first tried to reach Miss Thomas at the UPI Washington bureau and then at home. She finally ran her down in a restaurant in Madison, Wis., where Miss Thomas was addressing the local chapter of Women in Communications.

When Mrs. Mitchell emphasized that she wanted the story to move immediately, Miss Thomas noted that it might not appear in some East Coast newspapers because of the lateness of the hour. Mrs. Mitchell said she understood and wanted the story published.

Mrs. Mitchell said she and her husband are "very close" and that she "got him into all this" by convincing him to support Nixon.

"Till my dying day, I'll scream that I changed him from a Democrat to a Republican. I changed him from saying 'Tricky Dick Nixon' into his love for him," she said.

"I wanted my husband to be a great attorney general. I thought we could make a contribution."

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done". But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond held. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

REDUCING WRAP . . .
But does it really work?

Many questions have been asked about the Ann Marie Mummy Wrap Method of size and weight reduction. These women asked questions - got answers and now . . .

LOOK AT THEIR AMAZING RESULTS!

Ethel Fuller Lost 18½ inches first visit mostly from hips and legs - 3 inches off arms.

Nancy Ruud Lost 8 inches from upper thighs in 2 wraps.

Jean Hicks Lost 6 inches in first visit, next day another 7¾ inches all in the tummy area.

Delores Ownes Went from size 12 to a size 9 in just 10 visits.

MISS LEA TURNER DIRECTOR

NO MATTER WHAT YOUR FIGURE PROBLEMS . . . ANN MARIE CAN GUARANTEE RESULTS!

Q. What is the Ann Marie Body Wrap method?
A. Our body wrap is a reducing process allowing a person to lose inches and in many instances, pounds, as it liquefies fat, lightens scars, stretch and age marks, increases the circulation, draws out the poisons and toxins without dehydration and most of all it conditions and shrinks the skin.
Q. Is the Organic Mummy Wrap safe for me to use?
A. A dermatologist brought this formula from Europe and developed this exclusivey for Ann Marie Figure Salons. Any person can use our wrap.
Q. Does wrapping involve exercise?
A. No, our body wrap works independently of exercise. You do nothing except lie back, relax, read a book, or even take a nap while your body wrap treatment works for you. We ask you not to go into any exercise program of any kind while on our program.
Q. Can the face be wrapped?
A. Yes. Most of our ladies do take facials. It is not only very restful but it stops the aging process, tightens the neck, eye and chin tissue as it lightens scar and age marks.

Q. Does this mean the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is a water loss that will return after drinking water?
A. We feel that the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is more permanent than dieting or exercise. As with dieting or exercising, the permanency of inch loss depends on a person's day to day habits after the event. Contrary to common belief, a liquid loss of this nature will not return permanently upon the consumption of non-caloric fluids. Drinking water is non-caloric and its ingestion travels the digestive process with the greatest percentage leaving the body through the urinary system. We encourage you to drink as much as eight glasses of water a day.
Q. Do you use any drugs or medications.
A. Absolutely not!
A. Our wrap has worked on thousands of other people and that's why we offer a money back guarantee if you don't lose from 5 to 25 inches, depending on where you are wrapped. May we suggest that anybody with a figure problem call us for a body wrap analysis without cost or obligation. These consultations are private and confidential.

IT SHOULDN'T TAKE AN ACT OF CONGRESS TO MAKE CARS SAFE.

Volvo was committed to safety long before it became mandatory.

In 1956, for example, we installed padded dashboards: 12 years before the government insisted on them.

In 1959, Volvo became the first mass-produced car in the world with safety belts as standard equipment. Nine years later all cars had safety belts, inspired by Federal regulations.

We don't just settle for the legal minimum, either:

The law says all cars must have two brake circuits. Volvos have two triangular circuits, each controlling three wheels. So if one circuit fails, you still have about 80% of your braking power.

Volvos also have many safety features not required by law:

Like front and rear ends which absorb the impact of collisions. Four-wheel disc brakes with a pressure-proportioning valve to reduce the chances of rear-wheel lock-up. Child-proof rear doors. Rear window defrosters.

Now who would you rather buy a car from?

A company that builds a safe car because someone else made them do it?

Or a company that builds a safe car because their conscience made them do it?

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Waldie Running In Wrong Direction

Ever since Rep. Jerome R. Waldie of Contra Costa County became an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, he has been pouring out press releases at the rate of about one or two a day.

Many of these are sent under congressional frank; on others (which, presumably, he considers spot news), he pays airmail postage — out of his congressional postage allowance, we suppose.

Most of Congressman Waldie's breathless announcements are the kind that come (in lesser quantity) from other congressmen and commonly end up in the "round file." But the other day he sent one (airmail) which deserves comment.

IT WAS AN announcement that the Contra Costa Democrat has introduced a bill "which would free state, local and federal government employees from the overly restrictive provisions of the Hatch Act governing their political activity."

Declaring that the Hatch Act is "impermissibly vague," and in the same sentence that it is "in violation of First Amendment guarantees of free speech," Waldie announced his bill would allow state, local and federal employees, "in their roles as private citizens," to serve as delegates to political conventions, make political speeches, distribute campaign literature, and "many other rights that have been denied under the current Hatch Act provisions."

NOW, WE ALWAYS thought that Jerry Waldie was a pretty intelligent chap. We still think so. But apparently he does not know or has forgotten the history of Civil Service — and of the Hatch Act.

Federal Civil Service reform, to abolish, the "spoils system" in appointments to most government jobs, came about with passage of the Pendleton Act during the administration of President Chester A. Arthur. His predecessor in office, James A. Garfield, was killed by a disappointed job seeker. This was enough to put Arthur, previously known as a "spoilsman," staunchly behind the legislation to make government employment non-political.

States, counties and cities gradually followed the federal government's lead to adopt their own Civil Service systems. And all these included restrictions on partisan political activities by government employees.

The Hatch Act came about because many federal employees who were not under Civil Service — especially those in the New Deal's Works Projects Administration — were engaging in partisan activity. It tightened existing rules and extended them to non-Civil Service workers.

THE PURPOSE of Civil Service —and of the Hatch Act —was twofold: to assure that jobs were filled on the basis of examination and evidence of competence, and to prevent building up a political machine inside the government bureaucracy.

Waldie seems to have overlooked that.

We don't want the welfare worker making speeches to her clients in behalf of political candidates. We don't want our mailman filling our mailbox with party propaganda on which no postage has been paid. We don't want the policeman, who must be called on for riot control, demonstrating for some office-seeker. No thank you, Mr. Waldie!

Let Them Drink Beer

Spring is the time to make our first attack on slugs and snails in our Marin gardens. The organic gardening crowd suggests that we avoid using poisoned baits and pellets and put out dishes of beer instead. Snails and slugs are so wild about beer, they drown in their gluttony.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Holmdahl's Bill Helps Nobody But The Taxpayer

By RUS WALTON

Let's say you are buying your house on time. Let's say you borrowed the money from a bank or savings and loan.

In addition to your monthly mortgage payments, you are probably shelling out a hunk of dough each month to cover your taxes and fire insurance. The money, called impound fees, is held by the outfit that holds your mortgage.

That way its loan is protected: it knows your taxes are current and your fire insurance has been paid. There is no risk of a tax lien and no loss if there is a fire.

It makes sense. But there is an inequity.

YOUR MONEY is impounded but you get no interest on it. The lending institution does, but you don't.

State Sen. John Holmdahl, D-Oakland, figures the impound fees in this state come to about $350 million a year. And he figures that California lending institutions make about $18 million a year on that money.

He wants to change that. He wants you to get the interest on your money.

Under Holmdahl's bill (SB 671) the lending institution would be required to pay you interest on your impounded funds at the same rate it pays its time depositors. If it doesn't have time depositors it would have to pay you at the rate of 5 per cent simple interest per annum.

Even then, Holmdahl figures, the lenders would make a profit on the use of your money because they could lend it to someone else at a higher interest rate.

Holmdahl's bill is a step in a good direction. It would halt an obvious inequity. But it could be improved by an amendment: Require that the home buyer be given the option of opening his own savings fund, provided it were assigned to tax and insurance payments.

Such an amendment is important for two reasons:

First, it would give the home buyer more leeway in handling his own money while realizing the interest on his impounded funds.

Second, it would revitalize his motivation to raise hell about property taxes and tax rates.

LOOK AT IT this way:

When you pay those property taxes direct to the county confiscator, you know — you really know — how much those taxes are and how much they hurt. And, if you are mad enough and man enough, you can do something about it.

But when your tax payment is dribbled out and impounded, month-by-month, and then paid by the lending institution, part of the sting is taken away. It becomes a computer-to-computer deal. The tax collector's computer spits out your tax bill and mails it to the lending institution. The computer over there spits out a check and mails it to the tax collector. Untouched by human hands; unstained by human tears, or blood.

The tax collector likes that. The assessor likes it even better. It means fewer irate taxpayers camp on his desk.

Even without that savings fund option, Holmdahl's bill should be enacted. But he fights a lonely battle here in Babylon. The odds against him are staggering. Only the people would benefit from his bill, and they don't seem to count.

Good Samaritans Helped Accident Victim

That Tax For 'Water' Is Really For Sewers

Your editorial note to a reader's letter last week was not the first time you have indicated that the Marin Municipal Water District does not levy taxes.

I would appreciate your identifying the Taxing Agency listed only as "Water" on our tax bill; to whom we paid $5.20 for 1972-73 and $4.64 for 1972-73.

ANTOINETTE CAMPAGNA

Mill Valley.

(The editor's note should have contained a qualifier: Marin Municipal Water District has no tax rate; however, within the water district, taxes are levied for "Improvement District A," which was set up as a legal entity to permit eight Southern Marin sanitary districts to jointly develop sewage facilities. The tax rate for "Improvement District A" this year was 5.8 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Although levied through the water district, it actually is a tax for sanitary facilities. — Editor)

Sure Way Offered To Reduce Inefficiency

County Administrator Barrows is once again trying to lead the taxpayers of Marin down the primrose path with his empire-building schemes disguised as consolidations of county departments. He seeks to take effective departments and herd them into conglomerates, install a bloated bureaucracy over them with high-paid super-administrators, and palm this mess off on the supervisors and citizens.

This he calls economy and efficiency?

It takes little astuteness to see behind Mr. Barrows' schemes. How do you tame a planning department whose countywide plan calling for limited growth displeases powerful local developers? How do you control a parks and recreation department to whom the voters have entrusted the acquiring of open space (that could otherwise be profitably developed)? Simple: place these departments under the director of public works, whose expertise is in paving and construction. Clever, except that the supervisors were on to the administrator's game and roundly defeated that "consolidation" Tuesday.

On May 8, Mr. Barrows will try once more, this time an incredibly cynical proposal to consolidate the probation, mental health, public health, and social services departments, by creating a new, expensive super-administration headed by the welfare director . . .

This irate taxpayer offers one sure way to reduce county inefficiency: for the supervisors to replace the county administrator, who has proven he is expendable.

San Rafael Stagnating? Not By A Long Shot!

Permit me to express my personal pleasure and delight at the splendid display by Marin County artists, so nicely distributed among the various stores on Fourth Street. The chamber of commerce and cooperating merchants are to be commended.

It gave me a good opportunity to view in detail the variety of shops and stores which we now have on Fourth Street — no sign of "stagnation" here! No — San Rafael isn't a ghost town, not by a long shot. My one concern is the abnormal influx of shopping centers in the surrounding communities, which can give competition even to the point of bankruptcy. Nevertheless, I'll continue to do my shopping in San Rafael, where my fellow taxpayers and citizens are striving to make an honest and equitable living.

I have recently appeared before the city council, acting as the San Rafael Redvelopment Agency, and presented a suggestion for the beautifying of Fourth Street, in a Spanish motif, with the designation of "Don Timoteo Mall". How does this name sound? I suggested a firm of architects be engaged for this project.

Let's continue to keep San Rafael beautiful and prosperous!

Central Airline Ticket Procedure Advocated

Rather than impose a surcharge per passenger ticket to pay for the cost of security at airports, I have a simple idea that would not only pay for security but would save the airlines millions of dollars and enhance passenger service. The end result would be a reduction in air-fares and a totally objective booking of passengers.

Here is how it would work:

All the ticket counters operated by airlines in airports would be closed. In their place one central ticket counter representing all airlines would be opened in each airport terminal. The personnel would work for the airport, not for the airlines. They would book the passengers on the flights that would best serve the passengers. . .

The space now used by airlines for ticket counters would be leased to private business. The personnel used to staff the airline counters could be employed in other jobs, including security.

This idea could be put into effect quickly, and in addition to enhancing service and saving passengers a lot of time, it would generate additional revenue for the airport, as the space rental now used by airline counters would command high rentals from firms interested in displaying and selling.

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

These days Democrats have the last word in every political argument. It's 'Watergate."

How were those Republican spies to know the Democrats didn't have any secrets worth spying on?

The only thing the GOP learned at Watergate was that political espionage is a "no no."

Those White House aides were surprised to lose their jobs because Dick hadn't warned that he was behind them 300 per cent.

Kleindienst On Wiretapping —A Good Thing, A Bad Thing

WASHINGTON — You and the Democratic National Committee may be surprised to hear that wiretapping is a fine and valuable institution in America today. Please do not take my word for it because it is not my word. It comes from a senior Democrat, of all people, this week of all weeks, on the floor of the United States Senate.

If that defies current political wisdom, further note his principal source: our recently departed attorney general, Richard G. Kleindienst.

JOHN McCLELLAN, who predates even the current administration law-and-order field, quoted Kleindienst with approval on the subject on the very day Kleindienst relieved himself from the cabinet. Congress' approval of wiretapping in the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 is "the most significant, most important weapon that our country has had to deal effectively with the problem of organized crime," said Kleindienst/McClellan. Then the senator offered a bargeload of statistics to prove it.

To him, the most encouraging part was that 841 federal and state wiretaps were installed (officially, that is, with court sanction) last year. Each of them listened in on an average of 51 persons and 600 calls, and 50.5 per cent of the calls turned out to be incriminating.

While that may seem)ood news to the tapping advocate, the incriminating percentage was down from the previous two years. McClellan explains that the main surveillance effort before was against gambling, which operates largely by phone, thus is very vulnerable to tapping — while the 1972 taps were mainly against narcotics suspects, where it is harder to gather phone evidence.

TO ME, on the other hand, the happiest part of McClellan's report was that "the privacy of the average citizen is not threatened by the court-ordered surveillance authorized by Title III" (of the 1968 act). In fact, the average phone tap costs the authorities $5,435, and the federal government spends almost twice that much on each of its "intercepts," as they say.

"Most police departments, including the federal law enforcement agencies, simply do not have the manpower and other resources to conduct widespread or indiscriminate surveillance," the senator assured the nation. These glad circumstances mean that the percentage of all calls made in this country which were tapped last year was only .0000039 per cent.

Of course, if you happened to use your phone a lot, the chance of somebody's listening in statistically went up. And it went up even more if you happened to work at Democratic headquarters or had a friend who did, or if you or your friends happened to be on bad terms with Mr. Nixon and his friends.

That comes around to the illegal wiretapping part, which is not covered by the court reports cited by McClellan. It apparently was too late for him to delete his favorable quotation from Kleindienst, but he did manage to interpolate an updating paragraph when he delivered the speech to the Senate.

"THE MOST IMPORTANT case yet developed under the 1968 act has been the Watergate affair. The investigation, prosecutions and convictions in this case were all made possible by the 1968 act. Without it, we would not have had available on the books a federal felony, punishable by five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. As tragic and regrettable as this whole affair has been, I am glad that the 1968 act could be used to bring these men to justice. . ."

It is not clear out of context that the senator referred to that part of the law forbidding wiretaps without a court order — not the part allowing them with such restrictions. Kleindienst and John Mitchell and the Justice Department fought to overthrow the court-order restriction but failed. Thus deterred, the administration set up its own tapping operation outside the law.

That, we all should know, is A Bad Thing. I quote you evidence: "When men usurp the law, then government is subject to their whims, their personalities, and their varying ethical standards. Uncertainty and finally chaos become the prevailing characteristics of society. No worthwhile venture can be risked, because the very stability of society is in question. Stagnation and degeneration must be the result."

The source remains the same: Richard G. Kleindienst, in a speech prepared for the Law Day ceremony of the D.C. Bar Assn., May 1, 1973 — but never delivered.

Watergate Fallout Hurts Some Candidates, Helps Others

Political fallout from Watergate: It is considerable: It weakens the prospects of the former secretary of the treasury, John B. Connally.

It raises the prospects of Democratic Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington.

It impairs the potential of Sen. Edward Kennedy.

It strengthens the prospects of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, and Gov. Ronald Reagan.

It hurts Vice President Spiro Agnew.

HERE ARE the reasons the Watergate scandal affects each of the foregoing differently:

Connally is hurt because Nixon is hurt. It would be difficult for Connally to get the Republican nomination without the President's help, and the President may not be in a strong position to help.

Jackson emerges more than ever at the political center of the nation —a domestic liberal and a firm-line internationalist. His hallmark is personal and intellectural integrity.

Kennedy is hurt because Watergate emblazons personal ethics in government as a burning issue. This inevitably brings to the fore Kennedy's conduct after Chappaquiddick.

All Republican candidates are hurt. When the President is damaged politically, all in the administration are damaged politically. This is why Agnew is weakened although directly untouched by the scandal.

Republicans outside the administration escape with lesser injury. Rockefeller, Reagan, Percy get a lift toward the nomination, but Watergate cannot fail to make the election of any Republican in 1976 more difficult.

KREMLIN SHAKE-UP BOON TO BREZHNEV. The latest changes in he Soviet Politboro are a vote of confidence in Chairman Brezhnev and endorsement of closer relations with the United States.

The Communist Party chief told the leadership bluntly that Moscow has no alternative other than to co-operate with the United States. New members were added to the Politboro to support Brezhnev's trade and detente goals.

REPORT ON AMERICAN YOUTH. Young people in the United States are demonstrating less and liking it more. There are obvious exceptions, but the overall picture is that college and high school students are turning away from "cosmic" issues and hitting the books. They like a little more fun and prefer better grades to marching in order to get better jobs. They are tending to choose law, medicine, business, engineering over sociology and the humanities.

PEKING — KID GLOVES FOR TAIWAN. The Chinese leaders feel they can be very patient in getting Taiwan back under mainland control. No force, no heavy propaganda campaign. Meanwhile, they are doing their best to assure foreign investors — mostly Japanese and American —about doing business on Formosa.

They want to exploit Taiwan's direct links with foreign manufacturers, discourage the outflow of capital, and in the end be in a position to take over Taiwan as a prospering, not a bankrupt, province.

SHOULDN'T CONSUMERS CHECK SHOPLIFTING? Theft is part of the reason for higher prices. It hits business below the belt, and the cost is passed on to the consumer.

Michael O'Connor, executive director of the Supermarket Institute, points out that "supermarkets could not exist if most people weren't honest."

Shoppers could help reduce shoplifting, but shoplifting is only part of the toll. Employee theft accounts for $10 million a day or about $3 billion every year.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

May 7, 1963

Eight members of the Marin County schools staff resigned or were dismissed, several of them claiming "incompetent administration" led to their departure.

The Belvedere City Council, by 3-2 vote, granted St. Stephen's Episcopal Church permission to institute a day school, ending a long dispute over the plan.

20 YEARS AGO

May 7, 1953

The United States began sending arms aid to Thailand, but Secy. of State John Foster Dulles assured congressmen there was no intention of dispatching troops.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors granted J. D. O'Connor a variance to permit building homes in Gallinas Village without underground drainage lines.

Four New Faces Likely On County Plan Commission

Four seats on the Marin Marin County Planning Commission will be up for grabs next month and it's almost a sure bet none of the incumbents will be reappointed.

Two commissioners — Rebecca Watkin and Ken Stevens — reportedly want out. Both have complained about the frequency and duration of commission meetings.

The other two — John West and George Leonard — would like reappointment but, sorry, no way.

LEONARD, a resident of Stinson Beach, is the Fourth District's representative on the commission. That's Gary Giacomini country and the young supervisor has already started the purge of Bud Baar's appointees. Edward Colthurst, who served on the Human Rights Commission, was the first to go. Others, including Leonard, will follow.

Leonard, who would like to remain on the commission, isn't going to fight for a position. He is working on a federal appointment to the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, and is believed to have a good chance to get it.

He is expected to be replaced on the planning commission by Jerry Friedman, formerly the head of a West Marin conservation group which he established.

WEST was appointed several years ago by Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. to represent the second district. West was living in San Anselmo at the time but has since moved to Inverness, outside of Arrigoni's district.

He likes serving and is probing for appointment to one of the at-large positions being vacated by Mrs. Watkin and Stevens.

It's unlikely he will get it, however.

West is a personable man who votes a straight and narrow conservation line. He has one hang-up. Rather than simply expressing his opinions, he tends to smother people with them.

This has resulted in resentment from some other commissioners, who last year teamed up to break tradition by reappointing Jack Nixon to a second term as chairman. West was in line for the job. He became chairman last month when Nixon resigned to take his seat on the San Rafael City Council.

West served for half a day as chairman at the last meeting and managed to irritate fellow commissioners by twice cutting off debate and then launching long monologues on his views.

For West to win an at-large appointment from county supervisors will require three votes. Those votes aren't there now.

MELVIN MADDOCKS

Neither Doomsday Nor Utopia On Future Teeter-Totter

A cartoonist doddling in search of the image for a future-watcher might connect a child's body to an enormous, egglike head. This head, furthermore, will come equipped with two masks: banally tragic, banally comic.

Let the scene be the good old playground of life, and let the future-watcher be riding a seesaw — all by himself, solo. One end of the seesaw is labeled Utopia, the other end Doomsday. Sliding from extreme to extreme, adroitly switching masks as he goes, the future-watcher plays the game of split-personality prophet while the rest of the kiddies — us — either laugh and clap (Hooray, here comes Utopia) or cry and roll in the dust (Go away, Doomsday).

First, of course, the good news. Only yesterday, it seems, the future-watchers, wearing their Jules Verne play togs, were promising that something called cybernetics was going to organize the universe, to say nothing of stamping out housework.

You name it: If you didn't like to do it, there would be a robot at your elbow to do it for you. Two electric cars were promised for every garage, and a battery-stimulated chicken for every pot. The word "drudgery" would disappear from the dictionary, and "leisure" would become man's only problem.

Ah, the cliches of future-think!

EVERYBODY WOULD live in a no-upkeep house and wear disposable suits. Even the newsboy who throws the paper into the hedge would be automated out. Why, tickers would pour the news right under your door along with all the miscellaneous data you cared to request on, say, the feeding of pandas, from your local library — oops, your information-retrieval center.

"Miracle" was the operative word: "miracle" drugs for all diseases, "miracle" programs to cure poverty, just like that.

Then, as seesaws will, the seesaw began to tip. The word "miracle" became replaced by "side effects," the word "revolution" by crisis." Technology, which was going to save us from Nature, suddenly wasn't even going to save us from outselves. We explained to one another endlessly that, yes, nuclear energy was a neutral force, for good or evil. But somehow the thing the genie in the bottle did best was go bang.

Dropping their Utopian masks as if they were in bad taste, the future-watchers made an instant switch, or so it seemed, to the subject of Apocalypse. "Famine and pollution!" they cried. The seesaws bottomed out. Just as we were adjusting to re-entry into the Garden of Eden we got the new corrective bulletin: Our species was about to become extinct.

Poor dizzy watchers of future-watchers! It's enough to make you nostalgic for a nice, gentle rocking horse. Or for those old, leather-bound philosophers who kept raising a sage finger and saying: For every thesis there's an antithesis — and then a synthesis.

WELL, THE SYNTHESIS, otherwise known as Phase 3, may or may not be staging a comeback. But the report on future-watching, 1973-style, is that an almost old-fashioned sense of balance now governs the seesawing. Hysteria is out of style. The Harvard sociologist, Daniel Bell, has gone so far as to declare: "In the foreseeable future — say for the next 100 years — there will be neither Utopia nor Doomsday but the same state that has existed for the last 100 years."

MODERATION HAS BECOME our ultimate novelty — and what a commentary that is!

Broderick Against Probation Proposal

The presiding judge of Marin Superior Court has joined a growing list of those opposed to including the probation department in a proposed consolidation with health and welfare services.

The consolidation, to be considered tomorrow by county supervisors, was proposed last month by County Administrator John F. Barrows as a way of improving county services.

"The court feels that the traditional current alignment of the probation department within the criminal-justice system is the more satisfactory one," Judge Henry J. Broderick wrote.

"Persons going through the criminal-justice system progress in stages of detention and apprehension, adjudication, rehabilitation and correction," he said. "To take the probation department out of this system and put it into another system, however related, fragments the effectiveness of that department within the criminal-justice system."

The judge said supervisors should take no action on Barrows's recommendation and wait until they decide on establishing a new Department of Corrections. That matter is to be discussed May 15.

Broderick said probation would more properly fit under such a department, which has been recommended by an special committee studying the closing of San Quentin and the state's correctional system.

Others opposed to inclusion of the probation department in the consolidation are Community Action Marin, members of the juvenile justice commission and John W. Brewer, chief probation officer.

Engineer Head Of Sierra Club

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Laurence I. Moss., a Washington, D.C. nuclear engineer, was elected president of the Sierra Club Saturday, marking the first time in the organization's 81-year history that it has had an out-of-state president.

A Sierra Club spokesman said the election was further evidence of the increasingly national character of the organization.

Supervisors To Eye Corte Madera Plan

Marin County supervisors, meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, will consider whether to file suit against the Town of Corte Madera to block its controversial redevelopment project.

According to Allen A. Haim, deputy county counsel, the county has until June 22 to file legal action contesting the town's plan.

The town council, on a 4 to 1 vote last month, enacted an ordinance approving and adopting a redevelopment plan to aid development of a regional shopping center east of Highway 101.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors' agenda also includes:

CLOSED SESSION — A closed session to give its negotiating team instructions on salary negotiations with sheriff's personnel.

BOUNDARIES — Discussion of proposed boundary changes to the Golden Gate National Recreation Area which would free money for purchase of Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito.

MARIN CITY — Review of Marin City Master Plan for creating a balanced residential-business community.

GRANT — A proposal from the county administrator that supervisors give the Tomales Sewer Maintenance District $10,000 for engineering studies of a new sewage system.

Bar Opposes Total Shield For Newsmen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — U.S. Attorney James L. Browning Jr., released the results of a poll Sunday that showed the concept of an "absolute" newsman's privilege being overwhelmingly rejected by the Federal Bar Association's Criminal Law Committee.

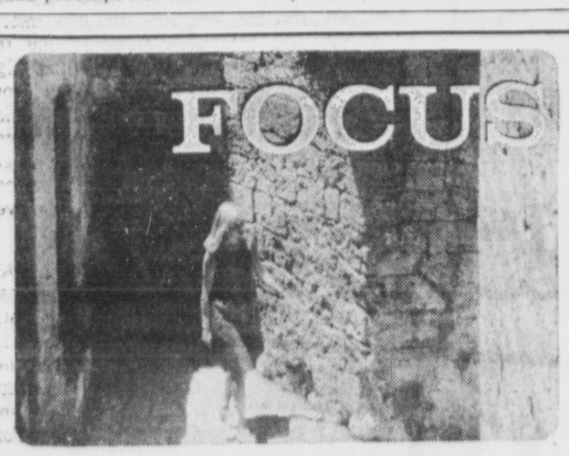
The committee said that 87 per cent of its more than 500 attorney members felt any such privilege should not provide reporters with an absolute right to have an otherwise valid subpoena quashed.

The question of whether any type of newsman's privilege should be enacted was answered "in the negative by a narrow margin of 51 per cent," said Browning, adding that 68 per cent felt that any privilege should preempt state laws.

Man Is Arrested On Theft Warrant

Ralph Richard Umland, 24, of 10 La Brae Way, San Rafael, was arrested at 7:45 p.m., Saturday by California Highway Patrol on their warrant on suspicion of car theft.

He was held in Marin County jail in lieu of $1,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.



Israeli Anniversary

After 25 years of fantastic growth for Israel, tourism has become its No. 1 earner of foreign currency. Historical-religious interest in the Holy Land is no longer the only attraction. Resorts crowding the country's 4 shorelines — the Mediterranean, the Dead Sea, the Red Sea, and the Sea of Galilee — make Israel a favorite vacationing spot for sun-seekers. Tourism might explain why the government is pouring almost $5 million into a gigantic military parade today. This year Israel is hoping to draw a record 825,000 visitors, equal to nearly one-third of the country's population.

DO YOU KNOW — What ancient city is Israel's capital?

FRIDAY'S ANSWER — The Kentucky Derby, the Belmont Stakes, and the Preakness are the "Triple Crown."

HE DOESN'T DO THE NEWS IN SHORTS ANY MORE.

Ron Magers wasn't always on The Best Dressed List. One hot summer in Oregon in 1966 he anchored the news in tie, coat and (unseen behind the desk) tennis shorts.

There've been other experiences, even more dramatic, that have trained him to cope with any eventuality.

Some highlights:

1967 A raging Pacific storm. Magers films his report from a row boat at sea.

1968 Rioting state prisoners ask him to mediate their dispute.

1969 Sick in bed with the Asian flu, he does a report on — symptoms of the Asian flu.

1970 Sick again. This time from breathing in smoke as his small plane dives over a forest fire for a close-up look.

Mental Hospital Probe To Start

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A special Senate probe of the Reagan administration's plan to eventually close state hospitals for the mentally ill and retarded is tentatively scheduled to begin the first of an "exhaustive" series of hearings May 18.

Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose, chairman of the select committee conducting the investigation, said the panel will hear complaints that state hospitals are being closed before adequate care is available to treat the hospital's patients at the local level.

According to aides to Alquist, the first witness before the committee probably will be Dr. Earl Brian, secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency.

He is expected to restate the administration's proposal to close hospitals for the mentally ill by 1977 and gradually phase out hospitals for the mentally retarded over the next decade or so.

During later hearings, the Select Committee on the Proposed Phaseout of Hospital Services will hear complaints from local areas about the plan and will travel to the affected communities and hospitals.

Alquist said the committee "will investigate charges of possible conflicts of interest against ENKI Research Institute and Arthur Bolton and Associates, a Sacramento-based consulting firm.

"Both have recently conducted studies which described California's present mental health program in glowing terms."

Questions have been raised about the two groups because Bolton and others, while employes of the legislature, helped draw up the legislation creating the present trend to transfer mentally ill persons to local treatment centers.

Later as members of the private firms, they assessed the effectiveness of the programs.

The committee will also investigate reports that many mentally ill patients are involved in crimes which lead to jail or prison terms rather than confinement in mental health facilities.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Monday, May 7, the 127th day of 1973 with 238 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

English poet Robert Browning was born May 7, 1812.

On this day in history:

In 1915, 1,198 passengers, including 124 Americans, were lost when a German Uboat sank the British liner "Lusitania" off the coast of Ireland.

In 1945, Nazi Germany surrendered on the 2,075th day of World War II.

In 1954, French troops surrendered the fortress of Dien Bien Phu and withdrew from what is now Vietnam.

In 1968, Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace died of cancer at the age of 41.

A thought for the day: Robert Browning wrote, "Ignorance is not innocence but sin."

Connally Termed GOP Contender

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, former Republican national chairman, says he considers Republican convert John B. Connally already a "strong contender" for the party's presidential nomination in 1976.

"He represents that broad middle ground," Dole said, "... and I see right now the vice president, Mr. Agnew, and John Connally as the front-runners, even though Connally has been a Republican only a few days."

Doctor Tells Kansas Man How To Help Shrink Painful Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

...caused by inflammation and infection.

Prairie Village, Kan.—Mr. Joseph Sutton reports: "My doctor suggested suppositories. I chose Preparation H suppositories. On a physical check-up my doctor noted how effectively it works."

(Note: Doctors' tests have proved Preparation H® actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. It's so effective that in many cases, the first applications give prompt, temporary relief from pain and itching in such tissues. There's no other formula like doctor-tested Preparation H.)

Own 8 cars at the same time.

Anyone who's ever seen the interior of the Mercedes-Benz 280SE and the trunk space of the Lincoln Continental Mark IV finds it hard to look at another car.

The Rolls-Royce Silver Shadow has incredible headroom and legroom.

You can't do better than the steering system of the Ferrari 512 racing car, the front suspension of the Aston Martin and the ignition system of a Porsche 911.

Just ask the owner of a Cadillac Eldorado what he thinks of front-wheel drive.

And service-wise, the Volkswagen is in a class by itself.

Why are we boasting about these other great cars?

Because the Audi has the aforementioned features of all of them.

And if one outstanding feature is enough to sell you on a car, we figured 8 would be irresistible.

SNUG INSIDE the teepee which is their ranch home (left), Robin studies approved methods of organic gardening, while Eileen prepares the midday meal, sharing some of the meager fare with a ranch cat. The pyramidal canvas structure is 18 feet in diameter and 30 feet high and has a planked floor. Mulch is spread on the ground (right) to protect the vegetables by keeping the ground moist. Eileen and Robin work hard to produce the organically grown vegetables, which are their chief source of income.

Their Garden Of Life Is Their Lifestyle

By BETTY FROST

When they talk about The Garden, it is as though both words were capitalized and in italics.

The two city children discovered Rancho Baulines on Highway 1 at Bolinas a year ago. Since then the one-and-one-half-acre area, divided into two plots, has been both a haven and a challenge to them. Their vegetable garden is a part of the 1,400-acre ranch where horse are boarded. On Bolinas Lagoon, the ranch is in an idyllic setting with rolling hills, meadows, a stand of redwood trees, wildflowers and streams, and the two have permission to live on and garden a part of it. And they grow the food for their own vegetarian meals.

Finding life in San Francisco frustrating and mass education at a large public high school irrelevant, Robin and Eileen, both 18, decided to seek new values and live a new lifestyle. Most of it is the growing of "organic" vegetables and living in a tepee on the land. In their society, which they now share with three others, no one asks for last names or brings up the past.

"Gardening teaches you a lot about life and death," Robin said. "In our organic gardening we try to emulate the closed system of the forest. In the forest," he explained, "the trees shed their leaves and it becomes fertilizer and mulch for future growth. We use our compost pile like that, returning to the vegetable patch the natural nutrients."

NO TOXIC sprays are used. "We believe in letting the bugs eat a little bit," Robin said. "We also use insect resistant varieties of corn, and use natural sprays, such as garlic, which repel the insects."

The garden is their chief source of income.

"When I was a child I didn't even like vegetables," the young man commented. "I ate mostly frozen food and TV dinners, and the only vegetable I had ever grown was a radish in nursery school."

Their home, situated in a canyon near a creek, is a 30-foot tall canvas tepee, enclosing a circular living area about 18 feet in diameter. Its access is the typical low rounded entry of the Indian tepee. Daylight filtering through the tall canvas structure sheds a soft light over the interior.

In the center of the single room stands a pot bellied stove. There are two comfortable rocking chairs, a low bed covered with a lace bedspread, bookshelves, pots of ivy, fern, and an Easter Lily. Eileen cooks their vegetarian meals on a camp stove.

Eileen, a pretty girl with intense blue eyes, curly auburn hair, manages to look perfectly groomed despite the rigors of ranch life. She welcomed visitors to the tepee with the dignity of a duchess showing off the family castle.

THE WINTER was hard on Eileen. "Sometimes the tepee leaked and the stove smoked," she said, "and it was lonely with no visitors for months. The gentle creek near the tepee rose during the heavy rains until it was six feet across."

Robin took advantage of the wet winter months to study books on organic gardening. He was concerned about the delay in planting, and lettuce already planted took three months to mature.

Completing the small colony are Samson, a tall bearded man who lives in a geodesic dome farther up the canyon, and two young women, Rosalie and Edith, who put up conventional pyramidal tents. There is also Ezra, a husky 10-month-old baby whose mother is temporarily away. The five young adults happily share the care of the little fellow.

Of the newcomers, Robin says, "It's their garden, too."

ALL WORK together in the garden. On a recent afternoon one of the young women was shoveling the garden cuttings into a compost heap, another was planting zucchini seeds in paper cups. "Does it matter which end of the seed goes down?" she asked.

Samson prepared another part of the garden for planting, and Robin and Eileen added mulch to the crop of red and Simpson lettuce and the onion sets under cultivation.

The vegetables are sold fresh from the garden to people who stop at the ranch, and some are taken to local markets which serve Bolinas residents. At the height of the harvest, during the summer months they expect to make $160 a week.

The dark-haired Robin expressed pride in their operation. "We have the biggest organic vegetable garden in western Marin," he bragged.

To the question, "Do you expect to make the garden your life work?" Robin had a simple answer.

"All I can say," he replied, "is that we are planting our summer crop."

Illness Game Gets Sickening With Hypochondriac Playing

DEAR HELEN:

What do you say to a woman who can always top you on illnesses?

If you've got a headache, she's got a bigger one. I sprained my ankle — she developed a limp, and told everybody about her "tendonitis."

She and I visited a friend in the hospital, and this dame spent the whole time describing "her operation" in detail.

It's become a game with some of us. Mention hay fever, and her "asthma" kept her awake all night. If you cough a couple of times, her "emphysema" gives her fits. (She's really very healthy for a 63-year-old.) We got her blood pressure up "over 200" the other day because she had to beat the next contender who mentioned 185.

But what started out as a joke (we thought she'd catch on and shut up after awhile) has become a contest. All we talk about at our card club now is ailments —and half the members are beginning to believe in their "symptoms."

I think I'll announce I've got terminal cancer. Do you suppose she could top that one? — TIRED OF THE GAME

DEAR TOTG:

Don't: she might die trying!

You've learned by now that you can't beat a hypochondriac at her own game, so why don't you all "get healthy" again. . .and perhaps feel pity for a woman whose life is so barren that only her illnesses make her "important"? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Thanks for standing up for the foxy grandpa of 70-some who still enjoyed life. I am a man of 72 who goes out with a chick of 54 — my wife. We dance to Country and Western music twice a week, she buys me wine-colored bell bottom pants, and loud shirts, bow ties, wide belts — and since she's a pretty foxy lady, we have a ball.

I hope Grandpa's "scandalized" son reads this and stops trying to make an old man of his father. — SWINGER AT 72 AND HAPPY

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? A fun idea? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, care of the Independent-Journal.

MONEY MATTERS

Questions, Answers On Your Problems

By JOSEPHINE RIPLEY
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

Q. I read your column on oil credit card charges and found it lacking in one very important area. Your advice is good if the company returns the receipt. A few companies do not do this and the consumer has no tangible means of correction or verification.

What can the consumer do to protect himself against false charges when this no-receipt system is practiced? E. T. O'T., Lutherville, Md.

A. Be sure to keep the copy of your credit card charge when it is given to you by the service station attendant. Keep these copies in a marked envelope or other specific place.

Compare them with the itemized charges on your monthly bill. Don't hesitate to raise a question if you have one. You may not be able to persuade these companies to change their system of billing, but you can challenge any item for which you do not have a receipt or which does not jibe with the slips you have. Ask for the company's copy of the item in question.

Q. I was interested in a recent column of yours relative to retirement outside the USA. The article discussed residence in Great Britain (by a United States citizen). Would a similar booklet be available on Yugoslavia? Mrs. B.P.C., Bisbee, Arizona.

A. Not a similar booklet, perhaps, but the Yugoslav Embassy in Washington, D.C., has many informative and helpful publications on various aspects of life in that country. It is interesting that your question comes at a time when the embassy is in the process of preparing a new publication with current information on many subjects of special interest to tourists.

Yugoslavia is attracting an increasing number of tourists because the cost of living and touring is less there than in many other countries today.

Food and accommodations are cheaper. The average hotel rate per day is about $15. In one town, a famous castle which has been converted to a hotel charges $25 a day, including meals.

A full-course dinner in a restaurant or hotel would come to about $5. "All our vegetables are right out of the ground," according to one authority. "We have organic food in abundance."

For more information and booklets, address: Secretary for Information, Yugoslav Embassy, 2410 California Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20008.

Q. I gained an impression from a previous Money Matters column that gifts of money up to $3,000 a year were tax deductible. . .We are putting aside money for the college education of our children. Could this be considered a gift and thus deductible from our income tax? Mr. N. L., Boulder, Colorado.

A. Sorry, but the answer is no. The column referred to the gift tax laws. The income and the gift tax are two separate forms of taxation. On your income tax report, you pay a tax on the money you receive.

Under the gift tax, you pay a tax, if due, on what you give in the form of gifts. That is, when such gifts exceed $3,000 for the year. In addition to the yearly gift tax allowance, there is a lifetime tax free gift allowance of $30,000.

The taxpayer may draw on this at will. If his gifts for one year should come to $5,000, he may draw upon his lifetime exemption for that extra $2,000. But this must be reported on the quarterly federal gift tax return.

GETTING READY — Michelle Olsonoski (left), 11, and Jennifer Leith, both sixth graders at Lucas Valley School, rehearsed their speeches and got the feel of shovels before groundbreaking ceremonies Saturday at the Laguna Ranch Environmental Education site at Point Reyes National Seashore. Voting Rights Act Provisions Ruled A Must In Remap Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today that states must apply provisions of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, in reapportioning their legislatures, to make sure that rights of minorities are not endangered.

The ruling, drawing on previous decisions that the voting rights statute applies to "a broad range of voting law changes", ordered Georgia to draw up a new reapportionment plan for its House of Representatives.

Justice Potter Stewart wrote the majority opinion which reaffirmed a lower court decision in a suit brought by the Justice Department.

Dissenters in the ruling were Justices Byron R. White, Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist. They maintained that the Justice Department had not followed proper procedures under terms of the voting rights act, which requires federal approval of reapportionment plans in states and other jurisdictions with records of low voter participation.

In other actions, the Court:

—Sustained a lower court's refusal to extend to civil cases the rule requiring newsmen to disclose confidential sources to grand juries investigating crime.

—Agreed to decide whether illegal use of another person's credit card is a violation of federal mail fraud statutes.

—Upheld North Carolina's right to deny the vote to a convicted felon unless that right is specifically restored; and agreed to examine a New York state law denying the vote to persons in jail awaiting trial or serving misdemeanor sentences.

The Voting Rights Act forbids certain states and other jurisdictions with past records of low voter participation to make political changes that might affect minority political rights without prior approval by either the U.S. attorney general or by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. Georgia is subject to the act.

The attorney general rejected plans enacted in 1971 and 1972 by the Georgia Legislature because they provided for a large number of districts where more than one member represented the same geographic area, and for runoff elections when no candidate got a majority.

In multi-member districts, each candidate was required to designate the seat for which he was running, referred to as the "numbered post."

Speaking for the majority, Justice Potter Stewart said prior decisions of the high court control the Georgia situation. He said they held that the 1965 act applies "to a broad range of voting law changes."

The Stewart opinion affirmed a judgment by a special three-judge federal court in Atlanta in a suit brought by the Justice Department to stop the 1972 election after the Legislature decided not to act further.

The Supreme Court stayed the effect of the panel's decision so the election could go ahead under the 1972 plan, and Stewart said "it would be inequitable" to require new elections at this time.

But under the Stewart opinion the panel is instructed to bar any future elections "unless and until the state ... tenders to the attorney general a plan to which he does not object or obtains a favorable declaratory judgment from the District Court for the District of Columbia."

Council To Eye Plan Revisions

The Ross Town Council will resume discussion Thursday of the town's master plan and proposed revisions which do little, if anything, to change the character of quiet community.

The revisions, to be presented by consultant James M. Campbell of Palo Alto, will be discussed at 8 p.m. at town hall. An environmental impact report on the plan also will be heard.

Also scheduled for discussion Thursday is the town's proposed budget for fiscal 1973-74, parking problems on town streets and a report on the status of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Outdoor Learning Site Dedicated

Young people teaching other young people was the plan outlined Saturday during groundbreaking ceremonies at the Laguna Ranch Environmental Education site at Point Reyes National Seashore.

"The idea is that children learn more from someone nearer their own age," said Steven Wilson, 18, a senior at Petaluma High School and a volunteer teacher at the 1,800-acre ranch.

"Volunteers are taught the inquiry method of teaching," he said. "Instead of answering a student's question, we pick their minds by asking a series of related questions aimed at getting the student to think for himself."

Another facet of the program is that everybody works.

"Youngsters never come out just for entertainment," said Robert Evans, a consultant in outdoor education for the Sonoma County Schools and one of the motivating forces behind the project since it began about a year ago.

"The kids come out to have fun, to learn and to work. the three go together," he said. Volunteer teachers are as old as 18 and as young as 10.

The ranch site, once the home of the Miwok Indians, was designated an educational area by the U.S. National Park Service in 1970. By March 1972, a committee made up of educators from Sonoma, Marin and Alameda counties were working with representatives from the Audubon Society, Marin Humane Society, state department of parks and recreation and the national park service to plan the educational future of the area and to find funds.

Small amounts of money at first came from school districts, personal contributions, Point Reyes Natural History Association and the Standard Oil Company.

The Rosenberg Foundation of San Francisco funded a series of workshops to train teachers and a $22,500 grant from California license plate funds provided the backbone of financing, Evans said.

Students from the Tamalpais High School District, Petaluma, Piedmont, Dixie, Wilmar and Healdsburg school districts worked weekend after weekend clearing the site, hauling off debris and helping repair roads.

The groundbreaking marked the official beginning of construction of 12 eight-man tents plus a rest room with shower and toilet facilities for students on overnight study trips.

The tents, which will be constructed on wood frames, will be portable, allowing them to be moved into any of three meadows on the site.

An existing quonset hut will be repaired and used for storage and as a classroom.

Lumber used to crate bombs has been salvaged from the Port Chicago Naval Weapons Depot.

Facilities, designed by volunteer architect Craig Brown, are intended to be primitive, with an eye toward protecting the delicate environment, Evans said.

Although some classes were allowed on the site at the beginning of the program, study trips have been suspended until the facilities are completed.

Evans said students will be allowed on the hills and trails again in early September.

Groundbreaking speakers included Marin County Supervisors Gary T. Giacomini and Arnold M. Baptiste, Virgil M. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools, and Dr. Walter Egan, superintendent of Sonoma County schools.

Other speakers were Jennifer Leith and Michelle Olsonoski, both 11-year-old sixth graders at Lucas Valley School.

Master of ceremonies was state Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

Juveniles Cited In Robbery Try

Five youths were cited to juvenile authorities Saturday on suspicion of strong-arm robbery at the Laurel Dell Primary school in San Rafael.

San Rafael police reported that the four older boys were pushing two younger ones around demanding money. The older did not get any money this time, but the younger said that they had given the five money before when they had been threatened, according to police report.

Ferry Terminal Site On List

The transportation committee of the Golden Gate Bridge District board will continue discussion of the location of a ferry terminal in Marin with representatives of conservation groups at a meeting at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The meeting, in the administration building at the toll plaza, originally was scheduled for Wednesday but was postponed a day.

Spokesmen for the Sierra Club and the Marin Conservation League have asked that the terminal be located at San Quentin instead of the planned Larkspur site.

French Proposed As Diplomat Tongue

NICE, France (UPI) — Maurice Druon, the new minister of cultural affairs, said that French should once again become the language of diplomacy because "when spoken properly, French does not allow men to lie."

Druon, a novelist, made his remarks at the inauguration of the Alliance Francaise (French Language Alliance) meeting at this Riviera resort.

Grecian Festival A Merry Affair

By FRANK FARRARA

Even the sky carried the national colors of Greece, blue and white, for the second annual Grecian Festival at the Marin Civic Center fairgrounds and Veterans Memorial Building Saturday and yesterday.

The two-day festival, sponsored by the Greek Orthodox Church of Marin, drew an attendance estimated, like last year, at 20,000 persons. According to Charles S. Parnell, general chairman, 5,000 showed up Saturday, 15,000 yesterday.

It was a family outing, a shopping trip, dining out, a cultural event and above all spirited music and energetic dancing to the clapping of the audience.

The sounds of the mandolins and guitars rang out over the Civic Center lagoon where youngsters rode in paddle boats and over the outdoor cafes where the customers ate souvlakia, the national dish of Greece.

Children walked about with blue and white balloons with the lettering "Think Greek," and others wore buttons saying, "Kiss Me, I'm Greek," and "It's All Greek to Me," and "Greek Power."

The master of ceremonies on the main stage urged the crowd to "buy a little shish-ka-bob, buy a little ouzo and watch the shows."

The audience lolling on a grassy knoll was a splash of color in itself, wearing a range of clothing from backyard barbecue to native costumes.

No sooner had the Minerva dancers in native costume finished their series of lively folk dances, accompanied by the Meraklithes, than members of the audience gathered on the stage and danced.

Peter G. Kavantjas of San Anselmo, dressed in the colorful costume of the Royal Guards, including a red fesi and tsarouhia (red slippers with blue tassels) was cooking souvlakia on individual skewers over a charcoal fire.

At the adjoining taverna, there was brisk trade in the sale of the wines of Greece and ouzo, an anise-flavored liquor.

The music was virtually nonstop for when the live entertainers rested, recorded music flowed from a loudspeaker and sometimes live and recorded music filled the air simultaneously.

The crowd warmed to the novelty dance act of Ulysses and Useless, which including dancing with glasses of ouzo balanced on their foreheads.

In a crowd pleasing finale Ulysses balanced three tables and five chairs in the air using his teeth, and when the act was over members of the audience formed a circle and danced.

In contract to the music and the noise outside, the inside of the Veterans Memorial Building was quiet and cool, a change of tempo befitting the cultural exhibits inside.

Along the far side were displayed Greek statuary, character masks, Grecian antiques and rooms of a Grecian village home.

In the center was a white chariot and nearby a collection of Greek coins and stamps, a book exhibit including a Byzantine music book, brown with age, with lyrics and notes that were a puzzle to the viewers.

Grecian handiwork and weaving and a display of various sponges were in other areas and Alonso Gonzales of the College of Marin was fashioning puppets near the doorway.

The sign at the puppet show said it would "be presented as the puppets are finished," and minutes later Gonzales, working on two nearly completed puppets, decided to start the show.

The atmosphere of Greece was carried out in the row of booths beyond the knoll, booths with Greek pottery, jewelry, fishermen's hats, dolls, vases, carpets, baskets, and imports from Greece, posters and information from Olympic Airlines.

For a pastime there was backgammon, listed as the "Sidewalk Cafe Game of Greece," and there was a full array of Greek food, including pastries.

Paradoxically, opposite the booths selling baklava, halvah, spanakopetes, tiropetes, and the like were booths selling hot dogs, ice cream, popsicles and American soft drinks.

A random check showed that the Greek food was outdrawing the American fare by more than two to one.

The entertainers also included the Piraeus Dancers, Plaka Taverna entertainers and Balkanci dancers. Movies of Greece were shown at the Marin Veteran Memorial Auditorium at regular intervals both days.

Guilty Verdict Is Delivered

A College of Marin student has been convicted in Marin Superior Court of breaking into a doctor's office in Corte Madera March 5.

A jury before Judge Joseph G. Wilson deliberated for five hours before returning the verdict against Paul Frederick Mehrten, 23, of San Rafael.

The judge set sentencing for June 1 to obtain a probation report.

The youth was arrested when police answered a silent alarm and found Mehrten inside the office of Dr. Harold D. Lyons on Casa Buena Drive.

Young Goldwater Views Watergate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr., R-Calif., said here he does not expect the Watergate incident to hurt GOP chances in the 1976 elections because "time heals lots of wounds."

Goldwater, here for an address Friday night, said "political espionage is part of the political game. You have to know what your opponent is doing."

Nader Claims Coverup On Defective Cadillacs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader's Center for Auto Safety has accused General Motors of trying to cover up a potential fire hazard in 275,000 Cadillacs built in 1969 and 1970.

In a letter to Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar, released Sunday, the Center said "at least 30 Cadillacs have burned to the ground" because of the defect. It said GM internal documents show there was "fear at GM middle management levels of informing Cadillac executives" of the fire hazard.

Lowell Dodge, director of the center, urged Brinegar to force General Motors to issue a recall notice. He said the danger was in a defective relay switch controlling the air conditioner-heater fan.

"GM's secret internal documents show the relays failed frequently, sometimes burning up much of the car's wiring and even the car itself," Dodge said.

A spokesman for GM denied there was any serious hazard or any cover-up, saying:

"The charge that 1969-70 Cadillacs have burned or could burn to the ground from the failure of the air conditioner high speed blower relay is completely unsubstantiated. There is no evidence in our files or in any files we know of that would support such an assertion."

MUSIC REVIEW

Blair, Tressel In Great Style

By MARTIN FRICK

Marin County music lovers had yet another opportunity to hear excellent ensemble playing of rarely-performed chamber music when pianist Ted Blair and violinist Willard Tressel gave an exciting performance last night of Camille Saint-Saens's Sonata in D minor, Opus 75 in Dominican College's Angelico Hall.

Although Saint-Saens (1835-1921) wrote several hundred music compositions, the main contact we have with him today are a few orchestral pieces, the opera "Samson and Delilah," and the popular two-piano sketches "Carnival of the Animals." Therefore, at least 100 people expressed hearty appreciation to last night's performers for tracking down and performing with great style the D minor Sonata.

In the first and last Allegro movements, Saint-Saens begins with agitated themes, only to dissolve them eventually into cantabile melodies, and Blair, chairman of Dominican's music department and the resolute source of proper style throughout the recital, was especially helpful to the violinist in maintaining the vivid contrast between the themes.

Tressel, violin teacher at the college and a physicist by profession, achieved his most perfect intonation of the evening in the adagio second movement. The most exciting moments were those sustained notes (after elaborate well-tuned passages) under which the piano eased in to fill out perfectly-tuned chords.

The two performers were most precisely coordinated in the third movement where they alternated thematic figures so perfectly that for the first note or two it was difficult to perceive where the violin left-off and the piano began, despite the obvious tone-color difference.

Following the piano's sensitive chordal interlude between the last two movements, Blair supported the violin's well-articulated spiccato theme with a firm two-note ostinato bass in the left hand against agitated chordal movements in the right hand. One of the remarkable characteristics of Blair's technique throughout the work were the cleanly articulated melodic or rhythmic figures that he brought out of the mass of full two-hand passages.

That precise articulation on the part of both performers made possible the thrilling Lisztian conclusion that brought them back to play for an encore Bloch's improvisation "Nigun," from Three Pictures of Chassidic Life. This was more Tressel's piece, and he did it full justice both in expression and melody.

Beethoven's famous "Kreutzer" Sonata in A Major, Op. 47 had opened the program, and while it gave the two instrumentalists an opportunity to display their easy facility in bringing out the dramatic qualities of a work — they are fearless in attacking fiery passages — it took until the second Adagio-with-variations movement before we could begin to relax with their coordination and the violinist's intonation. The middle variations were the best, piano and violin each playing the decorated patterns, then supporting or accompanying the other.

COLLEGE CONCERT — Jazz pianist George Duke will give a concert in the College of Marin's fine arts theater May 25 at 8 p.m. He is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, California State University at San Francisco, and the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and has made several records.

Board Asked For Adviser Nominations

Marin County supervisors have been asked to nominate four local residents — two of whom will be chosen — to serve on an advisory commission for the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

County supervisors earlier had sought to place eight to ten nominees on the 15-member commission, which will be named by the Secretary of the Interior.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors also has been asked to submit names for two seats on the commissions.

The People for a Golden Gate National Recreation Area, organizers and supporters of the new federal park stretching from San Francisco to Olema, have been asked for names for five slots.

The Association of Bay Area Governments and the East Bay Regional Park District will have one each and the Secretary of the Interior will name the remaining four.

The commission, expected to meet six times a year, will advise on policy, planning and development of the recreation area. It will go out of business on Oct. 26, 1982.

Plea Made To Theft Of Car

A 19-year-old San Franciscan, said to have stolen a 1956 convertible, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Preliminary hearing for Thomas M. Ver was set for May 17.

At 6 a.m. April 28, a Sausalito policeman ran a check on the buick driven by Ver because it contained several suspicious-looking juveniles near the Spinnaker restaurant.

The computer check revealed the car was reported stolen April 22 from Stephen Rush of Santa Rosa, police said.

Coordinator For Crafts Chosen

Jack Haehl of Corte Madera, chairman of the art department at Terra Linda High School, has been named to coordinate the crafts program at the Marin County Fair, scheduled for Aug. 30 to Sept. 3.

Haehl, who coordinated the crafts at last year's fair, urged craftsmen in all media — leather, cloth, jewelry, metal, ceramics and others — to contact the fair office at Civic Center to apply for the 1973 fair.

Rainbow Players Make Good Debut

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

A new Marin theatrical group —the Rainbow Players — made its debut during the weekend in Mill Valley.

And it is indeed a pleasure to welcome the exuberant troupe to the North Bay theatrical scene.

The company's opener was "The Roar of the Greasepaint, the Smell of the Crowd," a tough little musical comedy. And on Friday night the group attacked the tuneful Anthony-Newley-Leslie Bricusse play with a lot of vigor and bounce.

Bringing alive the play, dubbed the "musical game of life," was Dr. F. Thomas Shipp of Larkspur in the role of Cocky, a nice little guy who always manages to be on the losing end. Shipp has a very pleasing voice and was most convincing in the melodic ballad, "Who Can I Turn To," the most notable song from the musical's vast repertory.

Mark O'Brien of Mill Valley is cast in the role of Sir, the musical's protagonist who uses Cocky as his baffoon. His timing and style of delivery matched Shipp's resourcefulness on opening night.

Donna Gubbons of San Franicsco made an ideal "Kid." She was something right out of Dickens' "Oliver Twist."

Adding sparkle to the evening's entertainment were the company's dance ensemble, the Urchins, a nice little group with good voices and plenty of bounce in the choreography —a credit to James Piersall, head of the Mill Valley Ballet Center.

Pulling the musical together was Kristi LaBianca, who carries the weighty title of producer, director and head of a small group of accompanying musicians. Her little orchestra is by no means a polished unit, but the teen-aged musicians knew their score well.

The musical is being presented in the Masonic Hall on Corte Madera Avenue. It was amazing to see the cast shuffle in and out and back and forth in the small confines without falling over one another.

In such a limited area, the company was wise in selecting an in-the-round format with the simplest of props. The colorful costumes and the freshness of the cast more than made up for fancier digs.

The presentation is a good spring tonic. It will be presented again Friday and Saturday, 8 p.m.; Sunday, 3 p.m., and at the same times the following weekend.

Bridges To Lead Study Of China Labor System

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dockworker leader Harry Bridges will lead a union delegation to Peking to study China's labor system, which was recently reorganized by the Communist Party.

Bridges told delegates to the 20th biennial convention of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Saturday that a seven-member study team would depart for China following new labor contracts negotiations, which begin in a few months.

His proposal to lead the delegation to Peking was approved after the convention unanimously reelected Bridges to another two-year term as ILWU president.

Marijuana Unit Closing Doors From Fund Lack

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Robert Ashford, state coordinator for the California Marijuana Initiative, today announced that the organization is closing its doors for lack of funds. "California Marijuana Initiative" (CMI) is the initiative organization that qualified and campaigned for Proposition 19 on the November 1972 ballot.

Proposition 19 called for decriminalization of personal use and cultivation of marijuana as opposed to legalization of sales. The proposition was defeated by a 2-1 margin, but scored more than 2.6 million yes votes at the polls.

Ashford traced the organization's money problems to its opposition to legalization, or legalized sales, because "all the big money in the marijuana reform movement favors legalization." He said national legalization interests had simply "steamrolled the California decriminalization organization out of existence."

Report Hit By Mazda Officials

COMPTON, Calif. (UPI) — Officials at Mazda Motors dispute a report that their rotary engine develops more major problems than conventional engines.

A survey research team headed by David Power said that one in five Mazda owners they contacted said that their cars went "boing, boing instead of hmmm" after 30,000 miles.

Power, whose study focused on 600 cars bought in the United States before October, 1971, said the findings "signal a need for a longer look at the consumer acceptability of the Mazda powerplant under U.S. driving conditions."

His firm said Sunday that after the same amount of mileage that five or ten per cent of conventional engines will show power plant problems, half the Mazda rate.

C.R. Brown, general manager of Mazda Motors of America, said the frequency of problems in the new rotary engine is far lower than the Power survey shows.

Brown said some 90,000 Mazdas have been bought since they were introduced to the United States in 1970, and that only 190 of the owners surveyed had more than 30,000 miles on their cars—and 40 reported engine problems.

Power's conclusion is "a pretty grandiose statement based on just 40 cars," the Mazda official said.

The research team, J.D. Power and Associates, said the most frequent problem was failure of "0" rings, a type of seal which, among other things, prevents water from escaping the Mazda cooling system.

McGovern Reported To Dislike Eagleton

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern "never liked" his onetime running mate, Sen. Thomas Eagleton, and was so dejected after losing last year's presidential election he considered moving to England, according to an article in Sunday's New York Times Magazine.

McGovern said the article, by Joe McGinnis, author of the best-selling "The Selling of the President," was a "disreputable and shoddy piece of journalism ... full of innacurate and fabricated quotations."

In the article, McGovern was quoted as saying Eagleton was "the one guy I didn't know at all. And the funny thing is, I never liked him."

Eagleton, who resigned from the ticket after disclosures he had been hospitalized for nervous exhaustion, said in reference to McGovern's denial, "Of course, I believe George. Therefore, any comment from me on statements that were not made and do not reflect his true feelings would be pointless."

McGinnis said he spoke with McGovern as the defeated Democratic candidate relaxed over a vodka and tonic one night in a motel room in Brookings, S.D. He quoted McGovern as saying:

"I didn't like him (Eagleton) one bit. He had always seemed superficial to me. He had no diginity, no reserve. And there was always this nervousness about him. He seemed like a real Junior-Chamber-of-Commerce type."

McGovern reportedly added that Eagleton "never would show me the medical reports" about his illness.

According to the article, McGovern said he was "very, very tempted" to move to England after the election.

"My wife really wanted to go. To get away from all of it. To leave it all behind forever," he was quoted as saying.

He added that he didn't move because of "the thought of how guilty I'd feel a few months later about having run away and left behind those two million people who'd worked for me. I guess I felt I owed it to them to stay."

McGinnis pictured McGovern as generally dejected since the election, and quoted him as saying his wife, Eleanor, was especially hard hit by the resounding defeat at the polls.

Seattle Facing Lack Of Water

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Seattle is the city where it rains all the time, right? Wrong.

Seattlites, who were laughing last winter when they found that most of their rain had gone to Northern California, are less cheerful at discovering that rainy Seattle may soon have a water shortage.

"It's too early to tell for sure," said water superintendant Kenneth Lowthian. "But the extremely low snowpack on the city's two watersheds combined with a dry summer could put the city's water supply in a critical condition."

'Butterflies' Pokes Fun But Is Serious

By KAY KSANDA

Underneath all the roaring laughter and snappy patter this weekend in the presentation of the hit comedy "Butterflies Are Free," there was a strong thread of elemental drama.

The jokes and situations were very funny, but the characters themselves could have been out of a Greek drama instead of a 1970 contemporary play.

Instead of the usual Neil Simon comedy, the Actors Playhouse of Marin offered this plot by Leonard Gershe about a blind man with a possessive mother. And what's funny about that?

Quite a lot! So much so, that after a special showing for all the guests at Guide Dogs for the Blind, the audience stopped laughing long enough to plead with the cast to tape it so they can spread it around.

The story is about what happens when Mama from Scarsdale drops in unannounced upon her "Little Donny" in his flat in New York. She catches him and the swinging blond from next door in a compromising situation. Mama is outraged, furious, and frosty.

Most of her sarcasm is directed at her enemy, the beautiful Jill, played by Stephanie Nicol. Jill has identified herself as a divorcee, and an actress.

"How nice," purrs Mrs. Baker, "Might I have seen you in anything besides your underwear?"

Unable to penetrate the crust upon Jill, she tyrannizes her son about the appearance of his living quarters, and finally plays her trump card: she will no longer support him.

Undaunted, he replies to the complaint that he doesn't care how his place looks, because he can't see it anyway. As far as the money, he says that he can always walk the streets with a tin cup.

What makes this story good is that eventually real feelings show through all the insults. Everybody really cares about each other, and in their own way all are trying to help.

The cast is fine, and the direction by Addyse Lane Palagyi is skillfull. The pace is fast, and the set is adequate.

Gene Nelson as Don Baker steps up from his usual character as a comedy-hero and is quite true as the blind man reaching for his own sense of confidence and self-worth. Stephanie Nicol as Jill is simple and clear, and Jane Watts as Mrs. Baker is a real top actress with a delicious sense of timing and presence.

Terry McGovern as Ralph (a wheeler-dealer director) was a nice surprise. His shift from fey comedy parts to an almost sleezy guy was a good experience for him and the audience.

As far as the audience was concerned, it was a fun play and a good evening; and Jill looked better in her underwear than Don.

The show will only run for one more weekend at the Miller Creek School Auditorium (off Las Gallinas Road in Lucas Valley), next Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

"BUTTERFLIES ARE FREE" — A two act comedy by Leonard Gershe, produced by Robert Boyden, and directed by Addyse Lane Palagyi. Assistant producer, Peggy Boyden; script, Elizabeth Ripp; stage manager, Manny Miro; lights, Jim Loomis; set, Western Services; set consultant, Gari Gareis; props, Sharon Gallagher; music by Henry Chazakin. Cast: Don Baker, Gene Nelson; Jill Tanner, Stephanie Saunders Nicol; Mrs. Baker, Jane Watts; Ralph Austin, Terry McGovern.

Berkeley Police Ignore Protest

BERKELEY (UPI) — About 100 young persons sat across from City Hall Sunday and puffed what they said were marijuana cigarettes to protest a court order blocking the enforcement of the recently passed Berkeley marijuana initiative.

"I would estimate that we have smoked a total of 250 joints here," said protest organizer Tom Accinelli.

Some of the youths in the protest at Civic Center Park sat on a wall on which the words "Beer and Weed is All You Need" had been painted.

No arrests were reported.

"We have more pressing problems," said a Berkeley officer in police department headquarters in City Hall.

"We're not concerned with a bunch of people who want to create a confrontation."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Better Find Hay Fever Cause Before Having Nose Operation

A woman from North Carolina writes: "My daughter has hay fever, and I think the constant blowing has broadened her nose. A sort of beak has formed at its tip. Now she wants to have plastic surgery on it. Do you think it is advisable, even though she suffers from hay fever? She is quite unhappy about her features, and this is making her self-conscious."

Her concern is understandable. Teenagers abhor any defects that set them apart or make them unattractive. Cosmetic surgery can correct the abnormality, but until she attains full growth, the cause must be considered first.

IF WE ASSUME that the nasal defect stems from "blowing the nose constantly," there is no sense in doing anything until the sniffling is eradicated. Otherwise she would soon acquire a beak at the tip of her new nose. The first step is to find and eliminate the cause of the hay fever. Again, we must assume that this condition has been thoroughly investigated by a physician who specializes in these problems.

Finally, surgery is not advisable if the defect is slight and there is reason to believe that this girl has a personality problem which she is blaming on her nose.

P. V. writes: "Do you believe in reincarnation?" This is not a medical question, but I must answer, "sure." I feel the same as an English general practitioner who reached this conclusion after watching infants in a baby clinic. He noted that they come in two varieties.

FIRST ARE the babies who gaze at you with big, round open eyes and a look of continual surprise. They are seeing everything in God's world for the first time. They are surprised and mystified at this strange place.

The second variety is the baby who looks at his surroundings through half-closed eyes. It is almost as if he has seen it before, and has that "you can't fool me" expression. These kiddies are second-time 'rounders and "proof" of reincarnation.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal.

HOMEWORK

Tommie writes: I'm in sixth grade and would like you to send me information on the five senses — sight, sound, smell, taste, and touch. I need this for an assignment.

REPLY

Sorry, we have no printed material on this subject. The senses are the major outposts of the body that keep it informed about the outside environment. In general, sight and sound deal with communications, smell and taste are intimately related to the gastrointestinal system, and touch is projective.

PSYCHIATRIC HELP

J. E. writes: Are there any diagnostic psychological tests to determine whether a person needs psychiatric help?

REPLY

Yes, but they are not a substitute for a thorough discussion with the patient and his friends regarding his behavior, thoughts, and relationships with others.

OBSERVATION

W. A. writes: A laboratory technician told me my veins are knotted. What did she mean?

REPLY

All veins have valves that may look like knots. Beyond this, the statement makes no sense to me.

Diagnosis needed

A reader writes: Except for a short stay in the hospital, a friend has not been out of the house since last December. She is getting worse all the time. X-rays showed a diseased gallbladder, so she was put on a bland diet. But she still has pain, sometimes very severe. The doctor told her to go to bed when she has pain, so she spends most of her time in bed. When up, she is unsteady on her feet and has fallen many times. Now her husband says she can't get up at all. I understood that an infected gallbladder must come out. Am I wrong?

REPLY

You are right, provided the diagnosis was correct. A consultation is suggested because an infected gallbladder does not make a person an invalid.

Rheumatism

S. W. writes: Mother tells me that, as a child, I was sick with what was called inflammatory rheumatism. Was this what is now called rheumatic fever?

REPLY

Your guess is as good as mine. Years ago these conditions were difficult to tell apart. But if you have no residual changes, why rack your brain trying to figure out what you had as a child?

SQUELCH BELCH

E. H. writes: We all know how dangerous it would be if smoke could not come out of a chimney or exhaust out of a car. So why not let a belch come out — rather than get a stomach ulcer or cancer?

REPLY

Speak for yourself. Smoke and exhausts are waste products of combustion. Humans have other ways of disposing of their wastes. Furthermore, nothing would happen to the human body if the person never belched. Gassiness comes from swallowed air or is generated by the chemical action of foods. Most of the gas is absorbed or passed along through the intestines. But despite all of this, many people live by the dictum: "Better out than in."

LIGHT WORK

H. W. writes: I am a 59-year-old widow with high blood pressure and an enlarged heart. What kind of work will I be able to do?

REPLY

Twenty years ago I would have said, "Ordinary housework, so long as it involves little or no stress, excitement, or reponsibility." But nowadays we have several good medicines that lower the blood pressure, and you should be able to do almost anything.

ENCEPHALITIS

M. N. writes: How would a woman of 75 get encephalitis?

REPLY

Fron an infected person or animal. Encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) is caused by a variety of viruses and bacteria, many of which are contagious. Age is no barrier.

AFTER PLEURISY

P. Y. writes: Do residual lung scars remain after an attack of pleurisy?

REPLY

Scarring may follow an attack of pleurisy, as evidenced by X-rays taken months or years later. They are harmless.

ANTIBIOTICS MISUSE

A reader writes: Please discuss purchasing antibiotics indiscriminately over the counter. I foolishly bought a well-advertised brand for sore throat and suffered for four days from swollen tongue and runny nose. Thank goodness, I took only four tablets.

REPLY

You picked a loser, but you are lucky the allergic reaction was not more severe. I hope others will profit from your story because colds do not respond to these drugs and are not serious enough to risk the use of a potentially dangerous product.

Policeman Injured In Scuffle

Corte Madera police officer Andre Horn was treated for a back injury after a fight with a youth he was attempting to arrest in the parking lot of Cinema I Theater early Saturday.

Corte Madera police said today Horn was reported to be suffering a pinched nerve, but was not hospitalized.

Police were called to the parking lot at 1 a.m. after teenagers were seen breaking into parked cars. They found two youths inside different cars, and while one halted on orders, the other ran away.

Police said Horn chased one youth 100 yards, ending with a fight on the ground near the patrol car. During the scuffle Horn's back was injured, his knees and hands were cut and his uniform pants torn.

While the two suspects were being transported to Juvenile Hall, one hit Horn on the jaw with his handcuffed hands, and inside the hall, they again attacked an officer, kicking him in the groin.

Names of the juveniles were withheld on standing orders of Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Fireworks For Sally's Birthday

Sausalito City Councilman Sally Stanford had a spectacular 70th birthday Saturday night as a barge, towed near her Valhalla Restaurant, put on a huge fireworks display.

Miss Stanford was dining with Sausalito city officials, chamber of commerce officers and friends at 9 p.m. when the fireworks were set off.

As part of the display of skyrockets and exploding fireworks, a green message spelled out "Hi Sally." Then there was the outline of a birthday cake with a sparkler for a candle.

Miss Stanford, ex-madam, restauranteur, rancher and author, took it all with a hearty laugh.

The display of fireworks came as a surprise. Traffic was stopped on Bridgeway as drivers stopped to watch.

Two Cyclists Hurt At Curve

Two persons, one a Mill Valley youth, were injured yesterday in separate motorcycle crashes within 10 minutes of each other on the same curve on Shoreline Highway near Marshall, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Thomas Sherlock, 19, of 7 Homestead Boulevard, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma for injuries to his right leg.

Thomas Decker, 34, of San Francisco, was reported in good condition at the same hospital after suffering internal injuries.

The highway patrol said both men were driving too fast to negotiate a turn about 500 feet north of the Marshall-Petaluma Road and careened off the highway into an open field.

Decker was injured at 5:20 p.m. and Sherlock at 5:30 p.m., the patrol said.

$20,000 In Pledges From Walking, Biking

The second annual walk-a-thon and bike-a-thon yesterday produced pledges of $20,000, according to Virgil S. Hollis, campaign chairman for the North Bay March of Dimes Chapter.

Some 500 walkers and bicyclists, participated, he said, compared to last year's 300 persons who raised about $14,000, he said.

Entrants could take a 20-mile hike starting at Fort Baker going through Golden Gate Park, or a 40-mile route from Fort Baker to and around Lake Merced.

Of those entering, about two thirds rode bicycles and one-third walked.

Three students from Adaline E. Kent upper school compromised and roller skated the 20 miles instead of walking. Skaters were Kathy Bursch, Jane Marchant and Gail Moore.

Hill Junior High School in Novato became the largest single group when a rented bus took about 60 students to the starting point. A truck followed with the student's bicycles.

Greg Bonds and John Rucker from Hill Junior High School were the first two to complete the bicycle ride, leaving at 8:15 and returning at 11:15 a.m.

A poop-out truck made the rounds to see if anyone gave out on the walk or bike ride. It did no business, Hollis said.

An unplanned ending to the walk and ride came when The Doppler Effect, a rock group from Tamalpais High School, went to Fort Baker and played for about 200 studnets after the walk and ride.

The San Rafael Lions Club and North Marin Kiwanis Club, manned the check stations along both routes.

Petaluma City Clerk To Retire

Petaluma City Clerk Lillian Nommsen announced her retirement today to become effective on Aug. 1.

Mrs. Nommsen said her resignation will be officially presented to the city council tonight. She has been a city employee for 20 years and has served as city clerk for nine years.

Two Booked In Drugs Possession

Two men were arrested on suspicion of narcotics violations after a high-speed auto chase today on Highway 101 by the California Highway Patrol.

Blair William Guthrie, 28, of Littleton, and Edward DeWayne Snead, 29, of El Sobrante, were booked on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs and possession of dangerous drugs for sale and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Guthrie also was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol.

Both were released on $2,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Officers said they pursued the men's auto at speeds of more than 100 miles per hour before overtaking it and pulling it over south of Novato at about 12:10 a.m. The CHP said the chase began when the car was seen traveling erratically on Highway 101 near Marinwood.

Officers reported they found a hypodermic needle, a kit for making capsules and 10 pills suspected of containing amphetamines in the men's car.

Two Bel Marin Keys Youths Hurt In Crash

Two Bel Marin Keys youths were injured, one critically, last night when a car struck a bridge and went down an embankment off Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, south of Hamilton Drive.

Novato police arrested the driver, Joseph T. O'Neill, 38, of 40-2 Moraga Avenue, San Francisco, on suspicion of felony drunken driving.

Stephen Nicholas Coleman, 14, of 176 Montego Key Boulevard, a passenger in the rear seat, suffered head injuries and was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital.

Gary Elliott Simmons, 12, of 927 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, a passenger in the right front seat, who suffered a fractured left leg and facial fractures, was reported in satisfactory condition today in the intensive care unit at Novato General Hospital.

Officers said O'Neill's southbound car skidded 183 feet, hit the Arroyo Bridge and came to rest eight feet down the embankment on the east side of the boulevard at 6:35 p.m.

O'Neill was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and a cut chin and transferred to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco. He was released under his own recognizance and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court May 11, police reported.

Two Knives Get $113

Two men armed with knives took $113 from a San Rafael man after threatening him in his home last Thursday, San Rafael police reported today.

Anthony Louis Cabella of 43 Crescent Drive told officers Saturday that two men came to his home at about 11 p.m. Thursday and demanded that he cash a check for them, police said. The men then left with a guest at the home, police said.

The pair later returned and burst into a bedroom where Cabella and several friends were dividing drugs bought earlier, according to police. One of the men hit Cabella several times and the pair fled after robbing him of $113 at knifepoint, police said.

LAST LOOK — Rosamond Day of San Rafael, savoring the last Stinson Beach Wildflower Show which ended yesterday, studied the California poppy through a magnifying glass. The show, an annual event in Stinson Beach for the past 15 years, this year featured 350 varieties of wildflowers gathered from every wild corner of the state by three Stinson Beach women who decided the 1973 show will be the last.

Murderer Reported Captured

A murderer who walked away from San Quentin Prison last November has been captured by Los Angeles police, a prison official said today.

In custody again was Brian Bernier, 30, who failed to show up for a head count when he was assigned to a construction crew working outside the prison gates.

Prison information officer Lee De Bord said Bernier had been captured once in the meantime by the Glendale police but had escaped again.

He did not know the circumstances of Bernier's most recent arrest.

The convict was serving sentences in connection with the murder of a clerk during a liquor store holdup in Los Angeles. He came to San Quentin in 1968.

Man Is Facing Burglary Count

Charles L. Berry, 22, of 221 Keokuk Street, Petaluma, was arrested Friday on suspicion of burglary at a doctor's office and possesssion of marijuana.

Berry was booked into Sonoma County Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said Berry apparently entered the office of Dr. George Flynn at 135 Keller Street through a second floor window at 9:30 p.m. Flynn, who was working in the office at the time, chased the intruder out of the building and alerted police, who stopped Berry in a nearby alley.

Bolinas Group Seeking Resident Deputy Sheriff

Bolinas Property Owners Association members voted nearly unanimously last night to ask the county board of supervisors for resident deputy sheriffs, several commenting that resident deputies would improve response time and would have close knowledge of the community. (Another association story, page 1.)

Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini requested support for the program, but warned that the chief problem was additional expense in increasing the 11 officers who now patrol West Marin to a number closer to 30.

Under the current system, he explained, the 11 west Marin deputies operate in three shifts as "floaters" who can respond anywhere in the area.

When the resident system was tried earlier, he said officers complained they were on call 24 hours a day. As a result, the sheriff's department felt that there should be sufficient residents to allow for shifts.

An exchange indicating the temper of some members occurred as a man said a "hippie" had entered his back door at night while he and his wife were watching television.

"You should have shot him" said a male voice from the rear of the room.

"Next time I'll have his guts hanging on the wall, you can bet" responded the first speaker. A spatter of applause followed his retort, but one man put his hands over his face and murmured, "My God."

The so-called "hippie" claimed he was looking for someone in Point Reyes Station said the speaker, and sheriff's deputies arrived two hours later.

More then 70 persons attended the meeting.

The Bolinas Property Owners Association also:

MEMBERSHIP — Heard from treasurer Glen G. Slater that the group now has 346 members, with $1,852 in the bank.

BEACH — Approved a motion asking county supervisors to extend the mounted patrol of local beach to include weekdays as well as weekends.

PLANNING — Voted 29 to 23 against holding a joint meeting with the Bolinas Planning Group to give comments on a proposed local plan. Opponents argued it was a "dangerous move" which would lend "the history and credence of our organization to the planning group."

Growth Petition On Agenda

A petition signed by residents concerned with a fast growth rate will be presented at the Rohnert Park City Council meeting at 7 p.m. today.

Christine Compton is scheduled to present the council with a petition urging them to consider the crowded school conditions, along with a slower city growth rate.

Two Booked In Theft Suspicion

Two 16-year-old Marin County youths were booked into Marin Juvenile Hall Saturday on suspicion of burglary following an attempt to take camera equipment from the photo lab at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, police reported today.

Police said a night watchman at the school saw two boys running from the lab at about 9:34 p.m. Saturday, and reported that a window had been smashed but nothing taken.

Police said they found one of the boys amid a group of youths in a house on San Anselmo Avenue after he stepped outside carrying two canvas bags, and said the boy implicated an acquaintance.

Identities of the pair — one who lives in Ross, the other who listed both Fairfax and San Anselmo addresses — were withheld on a standing order of Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

2 Inmates Get Hour Of Freedom

Two San Quentin inmates had about an hour's freedom Saturday night before they were arrested by San Rafael police.

Officer of the day I. O. Ritter said that the two were reported missing about 9 p.m. and arrested about 10 p.m. by San Rafael police who had a report of two men trying to break into cars at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

The inmates are Charles L. Pacchetti, 30, serving a five-years-to-life sentence from San Bernardino County, for armed robbery and Jose Romo, 41, serving the same length sentence for selling narcotics in Los Angeles County. Pacchetti has been in San Quentin since March 1971 and Romo since October 1970.

Project Will Affect Traffic

A project in progress on Highway 101 which will alter traffic patterns or affect the flow of traffic tomorrow was announced by the State Division of Highways.

The section of the freeway involved is:

The northbound lanes on either side of the Richardson Bay bridge to be paved between 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. if the temperature permits. Two lanes will be open at all times.

The Wildflower Show— Biggest, Best And Last

By PAUL LIBERATORE

"The biggest and the best Stinson Beach Wildflower Show," beamed Roberta Shockey. And the last.

Just as certainly as wildflowers bloom in the spring, for the past 15 years Mrs. Shockey, Anne E. Leary and Barbara Menzies have brought them back to Stinson Beach for the annual show, which has become a tradition in the seaside town.

And why is such a hallowed tradition being abandoned?

"Because we're tired," cried Mrs. Shockey and Mrs. Menzies in unison as they greeted some of the 2,000 flower lovers who passed through the door of the community center Saturday during the two-day event, which was to end yesterday — forever.

"After 15 years of stopping the car, climbing the barbed wire fence, picking the flowers and then driving off again, we're through," Mrs. Shockey said.

As the women spoke, hundreds of showgoers bent over tables heavy with bright blossoms collected from the Oregon-California line to the Mexican border and east to Las Vegas.

This year, especially bountiful because of heavy winter rains, the trio traveled a total of 7,000 miles and collected about 350 varietes of flowers and plants.

There were orange California poppies that occupied an honored vase by the front door, hulking pitcher plants from the forests of Humboldt County, tiny red "firecracker flowers" from the grassy slopes of Mendocino and fluffy, white "winter fat" from the Mojave Desert.

Of special interest were two varieties of bear poppies, one kind white and one yellow.

"This is the first time they have ever been shown together anywhere," said Mrs. Shockey proudly.

Two botanists worked to identify the hundreds of blossoms: John T. Howell, curator emeritus of the California Academy of Science in San Francisco, and Mrs. Shockey, Mrs. Menzies and Mrs. Leary.

"The three of us make one good botanist," Mrs. Shockey explained.

The three founders of the show escaped to sip tea in the community center kitchen as old women in hiking shoes and orange Sierra Club packs, young couples carrying babies strapped to their backs and scholarly-looking wildflower students with magnifying glasses and notepads buzzed among the blossoms like bees.

Money from this year's show will defray the women's car and lodging expenses, the surplus going to community center improvements, this year a new sprinkling system, Mrs. Menzies said.

Sixteen years ago, the women took in the Monterey flower show, thought they could do better, and headed out on the first of 15 tradition-making journeys into every wild corner of the state.

"The best part has been the enjoyment we have given people," Mrs. Menzies said, putting down a leather-bound wildflower handbook she had been thumbing.

"We thought of it, started it, finished it and now we're putting it to bed," Mrs. Shockey said, waving a plump hand in a fond farewell to the last Stinson Beach Wildflower Show.

Trumps Have To Be Played Safely To Assure Contract

In a familiar psychology test, students are asked to describe in words an eight-ounce glass that contains four ounces of liquid. The optimists say the glass is half full; the pessimists say it is half empty. In the same way, bridge players sort themselves out as either optimists or pessimists when a high trump drops.

FINAL CONTRACT

The scene was a match between England and Wales, not long ago. At both tables the final contract and opening lead were the same.

The English declarer took the first trick with the ace of clubs and promptly led out the ace of hearts. When West dropped the jack of hearts, our English friend continued with the king of hearts, hoping to capture the queen of hearts too.

This optimistic play sealed South's doom. East was now sure to win two trump tricks, just enough to defeat the contract.

AVERTS DISASTER

The Welsh declarer observed the same facts but took a pessimistic view. After the first two tricks, he worried about the trump situation. Instead of leading out the king of hearts, he led a low trump. Dummy's ten lost to East's queen.

East returned a club and West took two tricks in that suit. South ruffed the next club and got to dummy with a diamond to return a trump. South had the K-8 over East's 9-7, so he was able to draw the trumps without further loss. He then had enough top cards to take the rest of the tricks.

OPTIMISTIC PLAY

The first declarer's optimistic play would have been justified if his contract had been five hearts since then he would need good luck with the trumps to make his rather foolish contract. Since the contract was only four hearts, the second declarer was right. He could afford to lose one trump trick but was right in not risking the loss of two trumps.

Applicants may apply in person at the prison's personnel office no later than 4 p.m. May 21, according to information officer L.E. DeBord.

The Dixie School District board will consider a recommendation Wednesday that 14 teachers and one speech therapist be laid off because of declining enrollment.

The board, meeting at 8 p.m. at the administration office, is expected to answer a proposal from teachers that the excess teachers share assignments with fellow teachers.

The district's superintendent has recommended against such action and instead urged the board not to rehire the 15 employees.

The board also is expected to review a proposed budget for fiscal 1973-74 and discuss the impact of S.B. 90, the state's property tax reform law.

Plush Plane Probe Asked By Proxmire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says the Air Force is spending $430,000 to turn a military jet airplane into an upholstered, blue carpeted "flying playboy penthouse" for VIP's.

He wants the General Accounting Office (GAO) to investigate.

"To date I have been able to confirm that this C135 (a jet transport) has been given a new exterior skin, a paint job, and that there are plans for a complete redesign of the interior including refrigerator, self-cleaning range with oven, large tables with formica tops, soundproofing, reupholstered chairs, and a specified blue carpet throughout," Proxmire said Sunday.

He said he has heard, but has not yet confirmed, that the aircraft, which is located at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio., will also have "three bathrooms, completely new kitchen, trash compactor, stereo system, 14-foot freezer and a bar."

Lusitania Said Transporting Weapons

NEW YORK (UPI) — A British journalist claims the liner Lusitania, sunk 58 years ago by a German submarine, was carrying troops and ammunition to England and was not the innocent victim propaganda of the time proclaimed it to be.

The Cunard liner sank only 18 minutes after it was torpedoed off Ireland May 7, 1915. Of those aboard, 1,201 died and 764 were saved.

Colin Simpson, who works for The Sunday Times of London, said in his book "Lusitania," published today by Little, Brown and Co., ($8.95), there was a major conspiracy involving both the United States and Britain to cover up the fact the Lusitania was involved in the war effort.

Among those involved, he said, were Winston Churchill, then First Lord of the British Admiralty, U.S. customs collector Dudley Field Malone, in New York, who permitted the ship to carry contraband for the British war effort, and State Department counsellor Robert Lansing, who was aware the ship was carrying contraband but, acting against the policy of Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, covered up the fact in order to put the United States into the war on the side of Britain.

Simpson said that after the 760-foot liner, known as the "Greyhound of the Seas," was sunk, both U.S. and English boards of inquiry purposely buried facts showing the vessel carried arms, ammunition and Canadian troops.

The sinking was made out to be an action of "German barbarism" and as such played a great part in bringing the United States into the war on the side of Britain.

The facts, however, show the Lusitania was "fair game" for the German U-boats, Simpson said. He added that there were a number of warnings the ship might be attacked, including an attempt by German-Americans to publish newspaper ads warning American passengers. He said the State Department discouraged newspapers from publishing them.

Simpson said the new information is based on extensive research into previously secret government documents and private memoirs.

Spanish Demonstrators Demand That Franco Fire Government

MADRID (UPI) — Thousands of right-wing demonstrators roamed downtown Madrid today demanding that Generalissimo Francisco Franco fire his government and put the army in power.

The demonstrators carried banners reading "Government Resign," but made clear they meant the cabinet by shouting "Franco si —government no."

The marchers, estimated at 5,000 by witnesses, also attacked the hierarchy of Spain's Roman Catholic Church. One banner asked that Cardinal Vicente Tarancon, the liberal-minded archbishop of Madrid, be put "to the wall"—sent to the firing squad.

The demonstration was the latest symptom of right-wing unrest over leftist and liberal activity. One policeman was slain and several injured in a May Day clash in Madrid.

Police made no effort to stop the match even though the cabinet said after a special session last week it was determinted to guarantee order.

The demonstrators also chanted "Iniesta to power." Gen. Carlos Iniesta, commander of the paramilitary Guardia Civil police, is one of Spain's most outspoken rightists.

With police and Guardia Civil still inactive, the demonstrators marched to the headquarters of the military commander of the Madrid region shouting "The army to power," "government resign," "Franco yes—government no," and "Falange yes—Opus no."

Gasoline Shortage Closing Stations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government figures show that 342 gasoline stations—mostly in the Midwest and Southeast—have been forced to shut down due to the shortage of gasoline, according to Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis.

Aspin, who said he obtained the statistics from the Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP), said the fuel crisis also threatens to drive out of business another 930 stations. He said the government figures represented "just the tip of the iceberg."

TWO GAMES, ONE FIGHT

Giants Sweep 3 From Chicago

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants are claiming a clean sweep of a Sunday "triple-header" with the Chicago Cubs at Candlestick Park.

There is no doubt they won the two baseball games—11-9 in the first on a 12th inning home run by Bobby Bonds and 4-3 in the second with the help of clutch relief pitching by Sam McDowell.

Manager Charlie Fox of the Giants also is claiming a TKO in the free for all which halted the first game for 15 minutes in the fourth inning.

"They had to help one of their guys off the field. None of our guys got hurt," Fox said.

The brawl broke out after a bean ball match between the Giants' Jim Barr and Chicago pitcher Milt Pappas.

Before it was over there were individual fights all over the field. As a result four participants were ejected from the game and three ended up in the hospital.

Barr and Pappas were kicked out for throwing at batters and Cub manager Whitey Lockman and Coach Hank Aguirre were tossed out for arguing.

The most seriously injured was Cub coach Pete Reiser who was acting as a peacemaker. He was hit from behind by someone's elbow and knocked unconscious near home plate.

He was taken from the field on a stretcher and was held overnight for observation at St. Luke's Hospital.

"That ended the fight right there," Fox said of the injury to the 55-year-old Reiser.

But before that the fight was a goodie. Jack Aker of the Cubs and Bobby Bonds of the Giants each got in some good shots and Barr and Cub catcher Randy Hundley got in a shoving match.

Bonds had the last word in his battle with Aker. He hit his game winning homer off him.

"I wasn't trying to hit anyone," Barr said afterward. "I was just trying to pitch tight to Santo."

Pappas claimed the ball was slippery when he sailed one pitch over Barr's head and the hit him with another.

On the pitch over Barr's head, Dave Rader of the Giants scored all the way from first base. The Cubs protested the game on the basis that time should have been called when players from both teams swarmed on the field.

Hundley claimed Barr elbowed him after being hit by the pitch but Barr said it was accidental.

The game was almost incidental. The Giants had three homers including a three-run shot by Dave Kingman who drove in five runs. The victory went to Don Carrithers who blanked the Cubs for the final two innings.

Jim Willoughby was the winner in the second game although he needed ninth inning relief help from both Elias Sosa and Sam McDowell.

McDowell was called in to face pinch-hitter Jim Hickman with two outs in the ninth inning.

"I told the catcher to forget about signals. It was him against me," McDowell said.

McDowell struck out Hickman on three pitches.

The Giants, who increased their National League West lead to two full games over the Houston Astros, take a break from the pennant race today to play an exhibition game against Santa Clara University.

They open a three game series with the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night with Juan Marichal (4-2) pitching against Bob Gibson (1-3).

San Rafael's Henry Wins 1st Masters Bowling Tournament

By RON LENT

"This is the first time I've won (a Master's tournament) and I've been bowling in them for five years, San Rafael's Ed Henry said last night after winning the 12th annual Marin County Men's Bowling Association Master's tournament at Greenbrae Lanes before about 200 applauding fans.

The 31-year-old plumber edged Mill Valley's Rich Leesman, first in the matchplay semi-finals after rolling a 3,628 in 15 games; Henry, fifth in the semis, picked up nine pins on his 11th ball to nip the fast-charging Leesman, 227-225. Ironically, the pair met at the opening game of the semis Saturday night and Henry prevailed, 254-217.

Henry's booty included prize money of $250 that featured $20 for high qualifying series (1,123) and $20 for high final game (227). Henry, clad in a purple shirt with his name etched in white lettering on the back and purple jeans was all smiles as he accepted the money and a silver cup commemorating the sponsoring organization's 25th anniversary. In all, 71 bowlers competed in the tourney.

Observers theorized that the key to Henry's finals victory was his four strikes on his first four balls. However, Henry had other ideas regarding the turning point. "We moved to lanes 21 and 22 for the finals — that was the key. Those lanes had not been used, so I moved inside and I went direct with my ball. I was able to stay closer to the pocket this way."

At one point during the semis, Henry confided to scorekeeper Bill Kirby that "I feel like a turkey in a cage that everybody is shooting at." Henry's quip was prompted by the finals format that called for the fifth-seed Henry, who notched 3,492 pins for eight games Saturday night and seven Sunday afternoon, to face the fourth man, Ray Miller, Petaluma Bowling Association president. Henry triumphed over his 42-year-old rival, 218-211. Henry subsequently beat third-seeded Steve Hargrove, 213-172, and number-two man Bill Henderson, 234-147. This set the stage for Henry's confrontation with Leesman, who was making his first appearance in the Masters.

Henry started fast, but his 30-year-old Mill Valley foe closed strong by striking on the sev-

Special Olympics: Great Time

It was a great time for 224 persons, mostly youngsters, who performed in Saturday's Special Olympics at San Rafael High School, put on by Cedars Development Foundation of Marin, Easter Seals Society and Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

The program is for mentally retarded students of Marin and neighboring communities and some of the top winners will be able to compete in August in a state-wide Special Olympics at UCLA. Competition included track and field and swimming events.

Among the top performers in track and field were Joe Jesus of Cedars Development, a double winner in the boys 16-18 50-yard dash, 6.6, and long jump, 8 feet, 5 inches; David Cooley of Sinaloa Junior High, Novato, 181-foot softball throw in 13-15 division, and Kenny Green of Magnolia Park School, 50-yard dash winner, 6.5, in the 19 and older group.

In the girls competition, Priscilla Nisby of Vallejo (age 13-15)

Andersen In Perfecto For Redwood Nine

If Ed Andersen is capable of pitching games like that as a sophomore, and if he shows normal improvement, what will he be like as a senior?

That was the question hanging in the air after the Redwood High School right-hander pitched a perfect game Saturday night, stifling Drake High, 6-0, in a Marin County Athletic League game at Albert Field.

"He just blew the ball right by them," said Redwood coach Al Endriss. "If he threw half a dozen curve balls, he threw a lot."

Andersen, a 6-foot-4, 195-pounder who won't be 16 until school lets out for the summer, struck out 14 Pirates and did not allow a ball to be hit out of the infield. In the fourth and fifth innings he fanned six straight men.

The only fielding play of any difficulty occurred in the seventh, when first baseman Ross Secor leaped to catch a high, looping drive by Drake's Bob Gare.

Andersen's gem was only the second perfect game in MCAL history and, amazingly, the second of the week. Novato's Ray Stratford pitched one against Terra Linda Tuesday. Sandwiched between them was a no-hitter by San Marin's Mike Robertson Friday in a remarkable week for the pitchers.

Andersen improved his MCAL record to 3-1 and lifted the Giants to 9-1, two games ahead of Novato, which Redwood visits tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Redwood scored on the second inning on a double by Phil Bacigalupi and in the fourth on

REDWOOD NET PAIR TRIUMPHS

SANTA ROSA — The Redwood High School doubles team of Mark Strasser and Grant Grinnell Saturday won the North Coast Section tennis championship, defeating Brad Riezer and John Bussington of Miramonte High of Orinda, 6-1, 6-3, in matches at Montgomery High.

The second-seeded Redwood duo drew a bye in the first round, then breezed through subsequent matches 6-1, 6-2 and 6-1, 6-2, before meeting the top-seeded defending champions in the finals.

Redwood singles player Steve DeMartini lost in the first round to Scott King of Walnut Creek, 6-4, 7-5. The singles title went to Bill Maze of Miramonte, who beat Rick Olmsted of Montgomery, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Bay Area Yachts In Gala Opening

The 1973 yacht season on San Francisco Bay opened yesterday with hundreds and hundreds of boats parading majestically through the water to be blessed and then stared at by thousands of landlubbers at various vantage points.

The blessing ceremonies were performed by three religious leaders — Father George Johnson of St. Hilary's Catholic Church in Tiburon, Rabbi M. Arthur Oles of San Francisco's Mt. Zion Hospital and Capt. George Wright, Treasure Island chaplain.

The ceremonies were performed aboard the U.S.S. Carpenter, a Navy destroyer anchored in the Raccoon Straits between Angel Island and the Corinthian Yacht Club. An estimated 2,000 boats, power and sail, passed for the blessing and then paraded in all their splendor for a boat decoration contest.

The U.S. Navy Junior Sailing Team won the top prize for the second straight year by changing a 26-foot boat into a Viking funeral craft. It was titled, "Death of a Viking," but, thank goodness, the funeral pyre was never lit.

In the Power Division, Jack Fledderman's Four Seas, a 31-foot cruiser from the Caliente Yacht Club won first prize with a reproduction of a cable car. The entry was called "Halfway to the Stars." In the Sail Division, Rudolph Wallace's 30-foot motor sailer, Neena, decked out as "Beer Barrel Boatka," won first prize.

A's Holtzman, Blue Stand Out

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Indians saw more pitches in pre-game batting practice than they did against the world champion Oakland A's Sunday afternoon.

Ken Holtzman used 87 pitches and Vida Blue needed only 107 as the invaders from the West Coast breezed to 12-0 and 7-3 victories over the Indians.

Holtzman, who won 19 games for the A's last season, tossed a five-hitter in the opener and got plenty of hitting support from his teammates. Oakland pounded four Cleveland pitchers for 18 hits for 12 runs.

Blue, making his first start since April 21 when he was sidelined with a knee injury, gave up three runs in the second inning, but settled down to blank the Tribe on two hits over the final seven innings.

"It's been 15 days since he has pitched in a game and he did a fantastic job," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams.

"I was hoping to get at least six or seven innings from Blue and he went all the way. Yes sir, he will go right back into the starting rotation," smiled Williams.

Deron Johnson, the A's designated hitter, picked up in a trade with the Philadelphia Phillies last Wednesday, hit a two-run homer to cap a four-run third inning in the nightcap. The 34-year-old veteran wound up the four-game series with eight hits in 18 trips and seven runs batted in.

"I enjoy the designated hitter role and I have had more at-bats in the last four days than I did with Philadelphia this season," said Johnson.

Bert Campaneris and Bill North each drove in three runs for the A's in the opener. Campaneris drilled a two-run triple in the second and walked with the bases loaded in the third.

Errors by rightfielder Rusty Torres and shortstop Leo Cardenas opened the door for the first five Oakland runs and the A's continued their onslaught against Steve Dunning, Mike Kilkenney and Ed Farmer.

Singles by John Ellis, Chris Chambliss, Buddy Bell and Frank Duffy gave starter Brent Strom a 3-0 lead in the nightcap but the A's pushed across four runs in the third on a two-run single by Reggie Jackson and a two-run homer by Johnson.

NBA Knicks Want Title At All Costs

NEW YORK (UPI) — First John Havlicek, and now Jerry West, but the New York Knicks say that's tough—for the other guys, not them—and they'll take their second National Basketball Association playoff title in four years any way they can get it.

Havlicek injured a shoulder early in the Eastern Conference finals and the Knicks went on to beat Boston in seven games.

New York leads Los Angeles, 2-1, in the current National Basketball Association playoff championships and some believe the Knicks' 87-83 victory can be traced to a pulled hamstring muscle Jerry West suffered in his right leg during the third period of Sunday's game.

West's mobility was cut tremendously after the injury left him hurting in both legs. He pulled a hamstring in his left leg earlier in the playoffs.

"I hope I'll be able to play Tuesday night," said West, who scored 15 points in the first half Sunday and made only one point the rest of the way, "but I won't be as active. It's inhibiting and you can't play your normal game. Taping doesn't help this type of injury."

Willis Reed, Earl Monroe and an extremely strong New York defense keyed Sunday's triumph. Reed scored 22 points as he outmaneuvered Wilt Chamberlain with outside shooting and virtually held the Lakers' 7-2 center on even terms under the boards.

Offensively, Monroe contributed 21 points.

A Green Horse Turns To Gold

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The "dumb, green horse" blossomed into a thing of beauty long ago but, in winning the Kentucky Derby in record time Saturday, Secretariat reached the peak of perfection in the eyes of the man closest to him.

"He put on a nice show Saturday," said groom Eddie Sweat with satisfaction. "Everybody should be happy now."

"He's not all that tired, just relaxing," Sweat said at the barn Sunday morning. "He seems to relax here more than in New York. It must be the air, or something. We'll walk him two days and on the second day we'll have to put tack (a saddle) on him to make him think he's going to the race track. Otherwise he'll be tearing up the barn," said the groom who also took care of Riva Ridge a year ago when that colt won the Kentucky Derby.

"When I first saw him when he came off the farm as a 2-year-old he was only a dumb, green horse, I thought," he said. "He was big and clumsy, always stumbling along. He was mean, too, always trying to eat you.

"Why, that Gold Bag that started in the Derby used to beat him in workouts in Florida when he first started training. But Mrs. Tweedy thought a lot of him and she was right," Sweat said.

At the time, Gold Bag was owned by trainer Lucien Laurin. Laurin later sold him.

Riva Ridge finished fourth in the Preakness Stakes in the mud and went on to win the Belmont Stakes to grab two-thirds of the Triple Crown last year.

"Mud won't stop us this time," Sweat predicted.

Secretariat, who set a track record of 1:59 2-5 in winning the Kentucky Derby, was scheduled to be flown to Baltimore Monday for the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 19.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wearout Allowance

Warriors' Pick Joyce Has Pot Woes

ROWLAND, N. C. (UPI) — Authorities said Sunday no trial date has yet been set in the case of Olympian Kevin Joyce, star senior guard for the University of South Carolina basketball team, on marijuana charges.

Joyce, 21, a New Yorker, and James F. Powell, 23, of Columbia, S. C., were arrested here Saturday evening on felony marijuana possession charges and released Saturday night on bonds of $1,000 each.

State Trooper E. B. Jackson and Sheriff's Deputy Billy Stone said they stopped the car in which the two were riding on Interstate 95 for speeding.

Stone said he smelled marijuana in the car and the two were taken to the police station here where Powell was said to have volunteered a container with 25 grams of marijuana and a quantity of pep pills.

Joyce, a 6-foot-3 guard, has been a starter for South Carolina for the past three years and played on the 1972 U. S. Olympic team.

He was picked by the Golden State Warriors in the first round of the National Basketball Association's player draft last month.

The Warriors came to Joyce's defense Monday.

"We have no reason to believe Kevin Joyce is guilty of any wrongdoing," Warrior General manager Bob Feerick said in San Francisco.

"We are proceeding on the assumption he is innocent."

Feerick said he talked with Joyce Sunday and the player told him: "'I am innocent. I don't smoke. I don't take pills and I am not worried that I will not be proven innocent.'"

Feerick said Warrior coach Al Attles visited Joyce Friday in South Carolina.

"He told me this kid is just like the reports we got on him —a fine young man," Feerick said. "His character references are excellent."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. When my mother passed away there were 3,000 shares of Capital Stock of Universal Investment Company in her effects. How can I determine if these shares, dated 1917 and bought in Utah, have any value? — B.M.

A. You should start by writing to the secretary of the state in which the company was incorporated, be it Utah or some other, in order to determine whether the firm has filed bankruptcy or is still a viable entity. There is also a brokerage firm which specializes in tracing and appraising obsolete securities for a modest fee. Write to R. M. Smythe & Co., 170 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Q. I have accumulated several hundred shares of Host International (NYSE) during the past four years. It has gone down considerably since purchasing. Do you advise hold or sell? — F.B.

A. Despite their disappointing performance over the last 12 months, these shares have above-average potential and are worth retaining. For the current year, management is projecting a 15 per cent increase in operating results, which would be a return to the previously established growth rate. In 1972 when this growth rate deteriorated somewhat, shares overreacted, reducing the stock's current price to earnings ratio to 14 times from a five-year average of 35 times. While this modest appraisal also reflects a generally sluggish stock market, it represents a reaction to lower earnings reported by several other fast food companies as well.

One of the factors which is expected to boost earnings this year is the increased level of air travel. Since more than half the firm's business is related to this mode of transportation through inflight catering, airport restaurants, gift shops and hotels, an upsurge in air travel would be significant. Recent acquisitions have enlarged this sphere of Host International's activities by adding two important operators of airport duty-free shops. The company's roster of 152 fast food shops will be expanded by 17 new openings this year.

Prices Lose Ground In Early Hours

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices lost ground in slow trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

The erosion was blamed in part on the new round of prime interest rate increases to 7 per cent from 6 ¾ per cent. Some major New York banks lifted their rates Friday.

Wall Street observers said inflation worries were renewed when an official of U.S. Steel said the steel industry needs a six per cent hike in prices this year to make up for higher costs. This figure exceeds the President's current wage-price guidelines and would need governmental approval.

Computer Runs Business Course

CHICO (UPI) — Using a computer, a course simulating several years of business operations compressed into a few weeks of classes is being offered at Chico State University.

Students assume top management roles in hypothetical firms which compete for profits, offer market shares and engage in other business operations. Grades are based on the student's self-evaluation of his firm's performance and his contribution to the company's progress.

We're not asking you to race against us. Race with us. You'll win every time.
Here's why: Driving to San Francisco Airport from Marin heliport takes at least 45 minutes. More if you run into heavy traffic. Flying SFO Helicopter on a direct flight takes 12 minutes. No traffic jams. No luggage problem (we check your luggage through to your ultimate destination). You win hands down when you race with SFO Helicopter.
The price? As little as $8.37 depending on your destination and connecting carrier.
Free parking at the heliport.
24 flights daily between Marin and SF Airport. (16 flights on Saturday).
